ASK DEATH CHAIR FOR RUDNER

Today

Wages or Dividends?
Dante and Wall Street.
Decency Here and There.
Anybody, for a While.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

WAGES were increased by 7½ per cent for 22,000 more railroad men, about $3,300,000 will be spent annually by wives of workers, not in dividends. Call it bolshevism, if you must, but that seems a good idea.

There is plenty for all in this country, and those that have more than they need should think about permanent security, rather than about getting a little more.

DANTE, inspecting hell, with Virgil for guide, was impressed by the blasphemous courage of one fierce wretch. As he appeared for a moment above the boiling pitch, he raised his hand toward heaven, with an insulting gesture, then sank to torment once more.

Not all have such courage, and you should spare a sigh for the poor Wall Street bears that decided to get rich by selling Wheeling & Lake Erie short just when some real buyers want it. It sold for $27 not long ago, after many jumps, it went yesterday to $130, a jump of thirty-five points.

If you have never been a bear, you do not know what that means. The sun goes out, the sky turns black, the liver stops working. The moral is, "Don't be a bear at this time." That warning has been published often enough.

MONTANA's Senate has voted in favor of the constitutional amendment against child labor. The amendment may be lost, child labor being profitable, and profits hard to give up. But it is comforting to see decency here and there.

In the end, of course, the amendment would help every state, just as the end of slavery helped all—including states that had the greatest sacrifices to make.

Child labor cheats grown men and women of work and cheats the next generation of its chance in life, to say nothing of mocking Chirst's warning, "Their angels do always behold the face of My Father, which is in heaven."

Child labor sends plenty of little angels to verify that text.

A WITNESS at the government tax suit in Washington testified that the Ford company could have gone on just about as well without Ford. He was not essential.

Sousa, the bandmaster, said, "Anybody can lead my band for a little while." The Ford company had two great assets, Ford's industrial genius and the fact that high finances could not squeeze him, coax him, or frighten him into the belief that his time had come to sell out.

GET money, put it out at compound interest, live to 100 years and you will be rich.

One hundred years ago, Capt. Hugh Reid wanted to erect a Wallace-Bruce memorial but lacked the full amount

Review-Tribune Offers Booklet On Correct English

Speak and write better, with the help of this simple guide to the proper use of words in the English language.

World famous authorities have compiled for our Washington Information Bureau a concise booklet about words commonly misused, mispronounced, and misspelled.

Promotion in business, success in social and club life, often depends on proper use of words—good English as we call it. Many of us are careless about our language. Many of us had small opportunity to study language in school. We can correct our English by a little study, with the help of the Word Booklet.

Any reader may have a copy for the six cent postage and handling cost. Use the coupon.

MASSILLON MAN FACING MURDER COUNT 'FRAMED,' DEFENSE SAYS

Canton Prosecutor Alleges Prisoner Hired Assassins of Mellett.

TRIAL UNDER WAY

Coroner and Physician on Stand; Widow Awaits Call.

By ROBERT WALLACE.

CANTON, Feb. 10—In a fiery opening statement, Henry W. Harter, Jr., Stark county prosecutor, today accused Ben Rudner of having hired the assassins who killed Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Daily News, and demanded that the jury chosen late yesterday send the former convict to the electric chair in expiation of his deed.

Defense Expects Acquittal.

E. L. Mills, chief of counsel for Rudner, replied that the defendant was the victim of a "frame-up" and that the defense expected to secure a verdict of acquittal.

At least 54 witnesses will appear for the state, subpoenaes for that number already having been issued. The list includes virtually the same persons called by the prosecution at the trial of Pat McDermott, convicted Christmas Eve and now serving a life sentence for participation in the alleged conspiracy.

Coroner T. C. McQuate and Dr. Guy Maxwell were the first witnesses to be examined when the attorneys had completed their opening statements. They testified to the condition of the body of the crusading editor as seen by them after the shooting. Dr. Maxwell was called to the Mellett home immediately after the crime.

Defense counsel waived their right to cross-examine these witnesses.

Jury Visits Scene of Crime.

Fred Biechele, a surveyor, was then placed on the stand. He had prepared maps and charts of the scene of the crime, which the state offered as exhibits. Upon completion of his testimony adjournment was taken until afternoon.

Mrs. Mellett, widow of the slain publisher, was expected to take the stand when the session opened this afternoon. She will repeat the testimony which was one of the outstanding features of the McDermott trial

The jury of seven women and five men was taken to the scene of the slaying immediately after being sworn in yesterday. From there it visited the hardware store and home of Rudner in Massillon. The defendant waived the privilege of accompanying the jurors.

Rumors were current today that the defense would introduce two surprise

Traffic was routed over the Camp Ground road while employes of the state highway department were removing the earth which blocked the highway but failed to reach the street car tracks.

The Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company laborers are removing loose earth along the Pennsylvania avenue hillside betwen Fisher's bakery and Mulberry street. The work is not interfering with traffic.

ORDERS $12,000 HULL MADE FOR OLD WHARFBOAT

Wharfmaster Tisher Announces Improvement Program.

CONTRACT LET

Plans Will Not Interfere With Business, Owner Says.

A new hull, costing approximately $12,000, will be made for the East Liverpool wharf-boat this spring, Wharfmaster Ross Tisher, announced today.

Fir lumber from the famous forests of Washington is now enroute to Wheeling, whence it will be rafted 30 miles down the river to Clarington, Ohio, where the new hull will be constructed.

Upon completion, the hull will be towed to East Liverpool where the removal of the old bottom and the substitution of the new will take place.

Two steel hulls of the Carnegie Steel company will be placed on either side of the wharf boat. The cabin of the boat will be unfastened and the old hull will be gradually pumped with water until it has been submerged sufficiently to permit it to be drawn away. The new hull will then be likewise partially submerged and drawn into position under the cabin between the steel hulls. The water wil then be pumped out and the hull will rise into proper position and be clamped to the old cabin.

Contract for the work has been awarded to Cook and Thomas, of Clarington It will require a crew of about 15 men three days to remove the old hull and place the new bottom in position, according to Wharfmaster Tisher. The work will in no way interfere with business at the wharfboat.

The present boat was brought to East Liverpool about 12 years ago after the old craft broke from its moorings and was wrecked. Tisher took over the wharfboat in March, 1921, purchasing it from James Graham. The boat is 160 feet in length, 32 feet in width and has a six-foot hull. Its capacity is 500 tons.

UNITED STATES PAVES WAY FOR SECOND PARLEY ON ARMS ISSUE

Suggests Geneva Session be Something Besides Debating.

NAVAL PROBLEM

Proposes Definite Action at Commission Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge today called for a showdown with the world powers on the question of further naval disarmament.

He has proposed, in the name of the United States, that the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission at Geneva for another disarmament conference, be transformed into something else besides an international debating society, and be made in actual disarmament conference in fact.

Message to Congress.

At the direction of Mr. Coolidge, the American ambassadors to Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, today presented to those governments a formal suggestion by this government that they authorize their delegates to the forthcoming Geneva conference actually to conclude agreements for the further limitation of naval armament.

The president advised congress today in a special message of his action. His message contained the text of the memorandum which the ambassadors are delivering to the foreign offices in London, Rome, Paris and Tokio today.

No Land Armament Question.

Briefly, President Coolidge has proposed that the powers that are due to convene at Geneva shortly, undertake to extend the work of the Washington arms conference by limiting those classes of ships which were left untouched by the 1921 conference. This includes naval ships of all classes of 10,000 tons and under, destroyers, cruisers, and other auxiliary craft. And to that end he proposed that the powers delegate to their representatives there real power to enter into agreements.

Land armament would not be touched. Limitation of the size of armies, Mr. Coolidge said, is a matter for regional understandings and agreements, in the view of this government.

If the president's suggestion is adopted by the powers it would mean that the Geneva conference, instead of considering the advisability of holding a new armament conference, as it has been engaged in for many months, would actually get down to "brass tacks" and place limitations in those classes of naval vessels not touched at Washington.

Emmons is Named On State Civil Service Board

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10. — Governor Vic Donahey today asked the Ohio senate to confirm the name of State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, of East Rochester, Columbiana county, Republican, as a member of the state civil service commission for the term expiring August 30.

Emmons' name was among 21 which were submitted for places which included the civil service commission, state medical board, state board of optometry, state board of building standards, and trustees of Ohio State University, Kent and Bowling Green state normal schools, Ohio Soldiers' & Sailors' Orphans' home, Xenia, and the combined normal and industrial departments of Wilberforce University, near Xenia.

JANUARY CASH IN CITY COURT DROPS TO $1,480

Decrease of $316.06 Over Month of December.

CLERK'S REPORT

County's Share of Receipts is $10.50, Record Shows.

Despite an increase of $683.39 over the corresponding month for last year, receipts of the municipal court for January showed a decrease of $316.06 over collections for December, according to figures announced today by Acting Court Clerk Lulu F. Bennett.

Receipts from all sources totalled $1,480.79 of which $1,470.29 went to the city and $10.50 to the county.

Collections from fines for violation of city ordinance amounted to $1,102.20, while $118.80 was received as costs in these cases. Costs in civil cases, which also go to the city, amounted to $249.29. The $10.50 collected for the county represents costs in criminal actions filed under state statutes.

Eighty-five criminal cases were filed during the month of which 67 were for violation of city ordinance and 18 for infraction of the state laws. Four persons were committed to the county jail. Civil cases filed numbered 65, while 74 were disposed of.

LISBON NAVAL ARSENAL CAPTURED FROM REBELS AFTER TWO-DAY BATTLE

Government Legations in London and Paris Receive Dispatches Confirming News Reports That Insurgents in Capital Capitulated Last Night After Terrific Bombardment.

REVOLUTIONARIES ABOARD WARSHIPS IN HARBOR HOIST WHITE FLAG

Madrid, While Admitting Situation Was Extremely Grave, Says Sanguinary Fighting at Oporto Appears to Have Subsided, But All Leaders Have Not Been Arrested.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The revolution has been completely suppressed," declared a dispatch received by the Portuguese legation here this afternoon.

A radio dispatch to the British admiralty from Oporto said the government forces had obtained possession of the naval arsenal at Lisbon, which for the past two days has been determinedly held by the insurgents.

News dispatches confirmed the admiralty reports, stating that the rebels surrendered last night after withstanding nearly two days of bombardment.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The Portuguese revolution has ended according to a dispatch received today from the foreign ministry in Lisbon by the Portuguese legation here.

The rebels in Lisbon surrendered last night and rebels aboard warships hoisted the white flag shortly afterward, the dispatch stated.

Lisbon Under Fire.

MADRID, Feb. 10.—Disjointed news trickling across the Portuguese frontier today via Badajos indicates the situation in Portugal still continues extremely grave.

Lisbon appears to have been under the fire of the insurgents, and the crews of the warships anchored off Lisbon refused to fire on the rebels.

The sanguinary fighting at Oporto appears to have subsided, but it was not clear if the revolutionary leaders had all been arrested, despite a government announcement to that effect.

The minister of war today published a statement declaring that all persons found carrying arms would be shot. A report from Badajos said the government announced it hopes soon to have all the rebel leaders in prison.

Rebels Entrenched.

The government troops were reported having difficulty consolidating their position at Oporto. Many bodies of armed men were still resisting the troops between Oporto and Braga.

Travelers arriving at Vigo declared 90 were killed and 200 were wounded in the bombardment of Oporto. When the government troops entered the city they found the rebels entrenched. The troops demanded unconditional surrender of the rebels, who replied with machine gun fire, inflicting heavy casualties on the cavalry regiment which was leading the government advance.

The correspondent of the Paris Journal at Badajos said snow fell heavily all during the artillery engagement at Oporto, and both sides suffered severe losses. The insurgents opened the engagement with 20 pieces of artillery. The bombardment lasted 16 hours.

Colonel Dias, rebel leader, published a statement explaining that the rebels withdrew from Oporto because they did not wish further damage inflicted on property there.

The Journal correspondent denied the truth of the report that the leaders of the rebellion had all been arrested, although he admitted that one leader, Dominguez de Santos, had disappeared.

The arms factory at Brazo de Blata was attacked by the insurgents who used hand grenades freely, doing considerable damage to the building.

Still Some Firing At Oporto Despite Curbing of Revolt

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Although the Portuguese government has announced the complete suppression of the rebellion which broke out last week at Oporto, a message to the admiralty tonight indicates that there is still some firing. The message states that the white flag flies over the rebel headquarters but desultory battling continues.

POLL INDICATES McNARY-HAUGEN FARM RELIEF BILL WILL PASS SENATE TOMORROW BY MAJORITY OF FROM 10 TO 15 VOTES

(Editor's Note:—Friends and foes of the farm relief legislation, now pending in congress have charged that the American people do not know what the proposals mean. Herewith the Review-Tribune presents an analysis of the two principal bills under consideration.)

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—With enactment of the $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen farm relief bill by both house and senate virtually assured for the present session of congress, the senate farm bloc today rallied to prevent the adoption of the Curtis-Aswell substitute.

A limitation of debate will go into effect in the senate this afternoon, leading to a final vote by 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A poll by International News Service indicated the bill would pass the senate by a majority of from 10 to 15 votes.

The house meanwhile opened a 12-hour debate on the measure to last from three to five days. A final vote probably will be reached in the lower branch by next Monday or Tuesday. It then will go to the president for his signature or veto.

Analysis of Measure.

Both friends and foes of the two bills have charged that the public does not understand the measures.

The final clash in the senate will come on a vote to substitute the Curtis-Aswell bill for the McNary-Haugen measure. The principal differences between the bills is that the McNary-Haugen measure carries an equalization fee and gives the farmers control of the relief organization while the Curtis-Aswell bill eliminates the equalization fee and places the organization under the direction of the president.

The McNary-Haugen bill would create a federal farm board, financed by a $250,000,000 revolving fund, "to promote the orderly marketing of basic agricultural commodities, to control the disposition of surpluses, to stabilize markets against undue fluctuation of cooperative marketing associations." It would apply to wheat, corn, swine, rice and cotton. Tobacco probably will be included later. The Curtis-Aswell bill would attempt virtually the same results but would apply to all crops.

Method of Selecting Farm Board

The two bills clash first over the method of selecting the farm board which operates this gigantic enterprise. The board will contain 12 members, one from each federal land bank district. Under the McNary bill, farm organizations in each district would nominate three candidates from whom the president would have to select the one member for that district. The Curtis bill would give the president a free hand in naming the board, except that each major party would have six members.

Both bills would establish an advisory council of seven members for each basic commodity governed by the board. These councils, to be named by farmer's organizations, would have to approve the board's action on that particular crop. The McNary bill, however, would add additional conditions, the approval of a "substantial number of cooperative

Suggests Geneva Session be Something Besides Debating.

NAVAL PROBLEM

Proposes Definite Action at Commission Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge today called for a showdown with the world powers on the question of further naval disarmament.

He has proposed, in the name of the United States, that the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission at Geneva for another disarmament conference, be transformed into something else besides an international debating society, and be made an actual disarmament conference in fact.

Message to Congress.

At the direction of Mr. Coolidge, the American ambassadors to Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, today presented to those governments a formal suggestion by this government that they authorize their delegates to the forthcoming Geneva conference actually to conclude agreements for the further limitation of naval armament.

The president advised congress today in a special message of his action. His message contained the text of the memorandum which the ambassadors are delivering to the foreign offices in London, Rome, Paris and Tokio today.

No Land Armament Question.

Briefly, President Coolidge has proposed that the powers that are due to convene at Geneva shortly, undertake to extend the work of the Washington arms conference by limiting those classes of ships which were left untouched by the 1921 conference This includes naval ships of all classes of 10,000 tons and under, destroyers, cruisers, and other auxiliary craft. And to that end he proposed that the powers delegate to their representatives there real power to enter into agreements.

Land armament would not be touched. Limitation of the size of armies, Mr. Coolidge said, is a matter for regional understandings and agreements, in the view of this government.

If the president's suggestion is adopted by the powers it would mean that the Geneva conference, instead of considering the advisability of holding a new armament conference, as it has been engaged in for many months, would actually get down to "brass tacks" and place limitations in those classes of naval vessels not touched at Washington.

CLERK'S REPORT

County's Share of Receipts is $10.50, Record Shows.

Despite an increase of $683.39 over the corresponding month for last year, receipts of the municipal court for January showed a decrease of $316.06 over collections for December, according to figures announced today by Acting Court Clerk Lulu F. Bennett.

Receipts from all sources totalled $1,480.79 of which $1,470.29 went to the city and $10.50 to the county.

Collections from fines for violation of city ordinance amounted to $1,102.20, while $118.80 was received as costs in these cases. Costs in civil cases, which also go to the city, amounted to $249.29. The $10.50 collected for the county represents costs in criminal actions filed under state statutes.

Eighty-five criminal cases were filed during the month of which 67 were for violation of city ordinance and 18 for infraction of the state laws. Four persons were committed to the county jail. Civil cases filed numbered 65, while 74 were disposed of.

LISBON NAVAL ARSENAL CAPTURED FROM REBELS AFTER TWO-DAY BATTLE

Government Legations in London and Paris Receive Dispatches Confirming News Reports That Insurgents in Capital Capitulated Last Night After Terrific Bombardment.

REVOLUTIONARIES ABOARD WARSHIPS IN HARBOR HOIST WHITE FLAG

Madrid, While Admitting Situation Was Extremely Grave, Says Sanguinary Fighting at Oporto Appears to Have Subsided, But All Leaders Have Not Been Arrested.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The revolution has been completely suppressed," declared a dispatch received by the Portuguese legation here this afternoon.

A radio dispatch to the British admiralty from Oporto said the government forces had obtained possession of the naval arsenal at Lisbon, which for the past two days has been determinedly held by the insurgents.

News dispatches confirmed the admiralty reports, stating that the rebels surrendered last night after withstanding nearly two days of bombardment.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The Portuguese revolution has ended according to a dispatch received today from the foreign ministry in Lisbon by the Portuguese legation here.

The rebels in Lisbon surrendered last night and rebels aboard warships hoisted the white flag shortly afterward, the dispatch stated.

Lisbon Under Fire.

MADRID, Feb. 10.—Disjointed news trickling across the Portuguese frontier today via Badajos indicates the situation in Portugal still continues extremely grave.

Lisbon appears to have been under the fire of the insurgents, and the crews of the warships anchored off Lisbon refused to fire on the rebels.

The sanguinary fighting at Oporto appears to have subsided, but it was not clear if the revolutionary leaders had all been arrested, despite a government announcement to that effect.

The minister of war today published a statement declaring that all persons found carrying arms would be shot. A report from Badajos said the government announced it hopes soon to have all the rebel leaders in prison.

Rebels Entrenched.

The government troops were reported having difficulty consolidating their position at Oporto. Many bodies of armed men were still resisting the troops between Oporto and Braga.

Travelers arriving at Vigo declared 90 were killed and 200 were wounded in the bombardment of Oporto. When the government troops entered the city they found the rebels entrenched. The troops demanded unconditional surrender of the rebels, who replied with machine gun fire, inflicting heavy casualties on the cavalry regiment which was leading the government advance.

The correspondent of the Paris Journal at Badajos said snow fell heavily all during the artillery engagement at Oporto, and both sides suffered severe losses. The insurgents opened the engagement with 20 pieces of artillery. The bombardment lasted 16 hours.

Colonel Dias, rebel leader, published a statement explaining that the rebels withdrew from Oporto because they did not wish further damage inflicted on property there.

The Journal correspondent denied the truth of the report that the leaders of the rebellion had all been arrested, although he admitted that one leader, Dominguez de Santos, had disappeared.

The arms factory at Brazo de Blata was attacked by the insurgents who used hand grenades freely, doing considerable damage to the building.

Still Some Firing At Oporto Despite Curbing of Revolt

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Although the Portuguese government has announced the complete suppression of the rebellion which broke out last week at Oporto, a message to the admiralty tonight indicates that there is still some firing. The message states that the white flag flies over the rebel headquarters but desultory battling continues.

POLL INDICATES McNARY-HAUGEN FARM RELIEF BILL WILL PASS SENATE TOMORROW BY MAJORITY OF FROM 10 TO 15 VOTES

(Editor's Note:—Friends and foes of the farm relief legislation, now pending in congress have charged that the American people do not know what the proposals mean. Herewith the Review-Tribune presents an analysis of the two principal bills under consideration.)

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—With enactment of the $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen farm relief bill by both house and senate virtually assured for the present session of congress, the senate farm bloc today rallied to prevent the adoption of the Curtis-Aswell substitute.

A limitation of debate will go into effect in the senate this afternoon, leading to a final vote by 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A poll by International News Service indicated the bill would pass the senate by a majority of from 10 to 15 votes.

The house meanwhile opened a 12 hour debate on the measure to last from three to five days. A final vote probably will be reached in the lower branch by next Monday or Tuesday. It then will go to the president for his signature or veto.

Analysis of Measure.

Both friends and foes of the two bills have charged that the public does not understand the measures.

The final clash in the senate will come on a vote to substitute the Curtis-Aswell bill for the McNary-Haugen measure. The principal differences between the bills is that the McNary-Haugen measure carries an equalization fee and gives the farmers control of the relief organization while the Curtis-Aswell bill eliminates the equalization fee and places the organization under the direction of the president.

The McNary-Haugen bill would create a federal farm board, financed by a $250,000,000 revolving fund, "to promote the orderly marketing of basic agricultural commodities, to control the disposition of surpluses, to stabilize markets against undue fluctuation of cooperative marketing associations." It would apply to wheat, corn, swine, rice and cotton. Tobacco probably will be included later. The Curtis-Aswell bill would attempt virtually the same results but would apply to all crops.

Method of Selecting Farm Board

The two bills clash first over the method of selecting the farm board which operates this gigantic enterprise. The board will contain 12 members, one from each federal land bank district. Under the McNary bill, farm organizations in each district would nominate three candidates from whom the president would have to select the one member for that district. The Curtis bill would give the president a free hand in naming the board, except that each major party would have six members.

Both bills would establish an advisory council of seven members for each basic commodity governed by the board. These councils, to be named by farmer's organizations, would have to approve the board's action on that particular crop. The McNary bill, however, would add additional conditions, the approval of a "substantial number of cooperative

"BIG NAVY" MEN IN HOUSE PLAN TO PUSH ISSUE

Conferees Split on Three-cruiser Amendment.

TEST VOTE NEAR

Spurred by Ringing Declaration of Speaker Longworth.

BY WILLIAM S. NEAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by the ringing declaration of Speaker Nicholas Longworth for a strong navy, the "big navy" bloc of the house today prepared to again force the preparedness issue with President Coolidge.

The opportunity is expected to come with disagreement between senate and house conferees on the three-cruiser amendment to the $315,000,000 naval supply bill, adopted in the senate over Mr. Coolidge's protest.

Immediately upon the report of a disagreement, a motion will be made in the house to accept the senate amendment. Having lost their cruiser fight in the house by a small margin, big navy forces are confident that another test would reverse the situation.

Preparedness Speech.

With Senator Hale (R.) of Maine, head of the senate conferees, holding out for the cruiser amendment, and Representative French (R.) of Idaho, house committee chairman, equally determined that Mr. Coolidge's advice shall be followed, there was admittedly little hope of a peaceful settlement of the squabble.

Longworth took a firm stand for the building of a navy on the "5-5-3" ratio with Great Britain and Japan, in a spech before a preparedness group here last night.

The speech of the house leader, potential presidential candidate and son-in-law of President Roosevelt aroused wide interest.

In a pointed answer to Mr. Coolidge's written request to congress to kill the three-cruiser amendment, Longworth asserted that "it is especially and peculiarly the duty of congress to see to it that adequate equipment and preparation for the common defense shall at all times be maintained.

Navy Below Standard, He Says.

He also took up the cudgels for a congressional group which contends that the budget system is being allowed to crush the independence of congress.

"In appropriating money from the national treasury, I think we should follow the budget estimates as closely as possible, but to follow them blindly, at all times, particularly in questions relating to the defense of the nation, for which that bureau is in no way responsible, would be to abdicate our responsibilities and to become mere rubber stamps," Longworth said.

The American navy, he asserted, is far below the standard set at the Washington arms conference.

U. S. Consul General At Glasgow Asked For 50,000 Visas

GLASGOW.—Twenty of the world's largest liners would be required to transport across the Atlantic all the people in Glasgow and the West of Scotland who are waiting emigrant visas for the United States—that is, if they could get their passports immediately.

The American Consul General in Glasgow has a list of 50,000 persons awaiting visas.

The phenomenal demand for emigration is creating a grave problem locally, for it is feared that when industry revives there will be a shortage of skilled workers and good artisans in this part of the world.

A movement has been started by Captain Ian Frasier, the sightless member of Parliament, that all blind men in Great Britain be given a Christmas present of his radio license.

LODGE MEMBERS HEAR SERMON BY DR. KNAPP

Surrender Your Will to Jesus Christ, he Urges.

REVIVAL MEET

Crowd Attends Services at Methodist Protestant Church.

Membership in churches or various lodges will not bring salvation to the human soul averred Dr. W. A. Knapp at the Methodist Protestant revival last evening. "Only by surrendering our wills to Jesus Christ and permitting Him to make the transformation can this be done. Then will follow the new birth and the leadership of the Holy Spirit will be apparent." His subject was "The Good Samaritan."

In attendance at the service were delegations of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. They were given a cordial reception upon rising in a body.

The Christian Endeavor society of the church sat together in a reserved section and sang "Blessed Assurance" as their contributions to the initial song service.

G. E. Vinaroff gave a number on the miramba and sang "God's Marvelous Grace" with Mrs. Vinaroff as accompanist.

The Salvation Army, headed by its band, it was announced, would be present at tonight's meeting.

Another practice of the boys and girls, constituting the Children's choir will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Several questions that had been put into the query box were answered by Dr. Knapp before the sermon was preached. The first of these was: "Can one live so free from sin that there is no need for forgiveness?" The reply, was "No."

Dr. Knapp explained that it was possible to not wilfully sin. Yet even then there is need for divine forgiveness. "Only in the Lord's prayer is the injunction for forgiveness designated," he said. "But we are told in many Scriptural passages to confess our Sins.' Then the allegation is made: 'If We Confess Our Sins He is Faithful to Forgive Them.'"

The second query was, "How long does it take light to reach the earth from the remotest star?" The reply was, "I don't know. It takes about 10 years for a ray to arrive from the nearest, traveling at about 186,000 miles a second.

The third was: "How long did it take the Angel Gabriel to fly and touch Daniel when the latter was praying?" The reply was, "Three weeks at least since Gabriel admitted hearing him the first day and arrived on the twenty-first thereafter."

To the interrogation, which is more rapid light or prayer? Dr. Knapp averred prayer was.

"Why was Jesus forsaken at the ninth hour?" was another question which impelled the evangelist to say: "Jesus died a substitutionary, vicarious death on the cross. He took upon his sinless self the sins of the world, past and future, that the ends of supreme justice might be met. Thus, momentarily, he was separated from his father. The then agony wrung the cry from the son. He paid in full thus the penalty of our sins for which we should all love Him."

As to whether days in the Bible were of 24 hours or 1,000 year duration or more he declared scholars were equally divided upon. In several instances such as days of the Lord, of Christ and of the Atonement a much longer period than the interim of a day now was meant.

"Where was the spirit of Christ while the body was in the tomb?" was another query. In his reply Dr. Knapp said hell, hades and sheol meant in the original the place of departed spirits. "This is divided into two sections, Abraham's Bosom or paradise and the place of torment. A gulf separates them. The dying good go to the former and the lost to the latter. To the first of these Christ and the saved thief on the cross went. In it were the good from the beginning of time who looking forward to the cross as we look back to it merited salvation. These all when Christ was resurrected went with Him to heaven. The wicked dead yet remain as have those since joining them in the place of torment. These until the mellenium they will stay when they will be raised to face the judgment that will put them in endless perdition.

"Is Dr. Cadman right in averring that to attend church on Sunday once is enough? was the final query of the evening. "I don't think so," was the reply. "There are too many who have the view that they can golf and do anything thereafter if religious services has been attended a single time on God's holy day. It has been my observation that those who go to church but once a day are not cutting much ice for the Lord. The business of the church is soul saving. When it is not doing that it is not fulfilling the mission of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Knapp maintained that too many stress too much the words "I" and "do" in the lawyer's question to Christ. "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" He averred one could do nothing save by the initial surrender in trustfulness to Christ of his life do anything to merit salvation.

Because of the coal strike, 1,100 miners' children near Edinburgh, Scotland, were given two meals a day for six days a week by a relief committee until a recent investigation was followed by the order that some should eat at home.

BOSTON CHECKER FANS WAITING CHAMP ENGLISH AND SCOTTISH TEAMS

BOSTON.—Checker fans of Boston and vicinity are awaiting with much interest the arrival in this port of the English and Scottish champion teams, February 22 for a series of matches in various cities.

The invading followers of the black and red discs will meet a United States team captained by A. J. Heffner of this city. Heffner is a veteran international match competitor, having played for years on the United States teams. He is at present checker champion of the United States.

To Joseph J. Lanning of New York, former owner of the Boston Red Sox baseball team goes much of the credit for arranging the international match. It is the intention of Mr. Launing to be present as a member of the reception committee to greet the visiting players when they arrive here on the S. S. Winifredian.

The championship matches between the United States team and the visitors will be played at the Alamac Hotel, New York from Feb. 28 to March 12. The war will be waged over an eight hour stretch every day. They will compete from 1 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 11 in the evening over the 15 day period.

The other members of the United States team beside Mr. Heffner are: Newell W. Banks, of Detroit, John F. Horr of Buffalo, Louis C. Ginsberg of New York, Asa A. Long of Toledo, Harrah B. Reynolds of Buffalo, Samnuel Gonotsky of New York, Harry Lieberman of Kansas City, Thomas J. O'Grady of Rochester, John T. Bradford of Cleveland, M. Leiber of Toledo, Andrew Dossert of Indianapolis, Saul Weslow of Boston and George M. Tanner of Chicago.

By the use of dialogue sound effects and an orchestra the moving picture story of "The Greater Glory" was told over the radio from Manchester, England, recently, and so successful was this first effort to have radio fans visulize a film that others will be tried.

Why Have Gray Hair?

Don't think your hair need remain streaked with gray—or even very gray. For over ten years men and women whose hair was once blonde, auburn, brown or black have successfully used Kolor-Bak to restore color to their gray hair. Today they haven't the slightest visible trace of gray. Nor can you tell they ever used anything on their hair.

Kolor-Bak is a clean, colorless liquid that has restored youthful appearance to hundreds of thousands. As easy to apply as water, it requires no experimenting with samples of your hair.

Just ask your dealer for Kolor-Bak. The one bottle is for all hair, no matter what shade or color. Results often appear in a week. And with the disappearance of the gray hair, the tonic properties of Kolor-Bak make it splendid to use for dandruff and falling hair. Its tremendous success is clearly shown by the sale of nearly 3,000,000 bottles, which proves its superiority.

Dealers everywhere sell Kolor-Bak with guarantee to return your money if it does not bring desired results. No excuse now for any woman to look old, or any man to be considered too old for employment. Your druggist, or any store where toilet goods are sold, carries Kolor-Bak. Ask for it today.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1927.

Income Tax Call

Uncle Sam today called upon his children in the East Liverpool district as well as other parts of the nation to begin checking their 1926 earnings, for income tax, at least the first payment, is due on or before March 15.

If you are a married man or woman and your net income was $3,500 or under, or a bachelor or maiden with a net income of $1,500 or less, you have no cause for worry. Otherwise, get out your pencil and paper.

The new instructions direct attention to the law which requires that every person whose gross income was $5,000 or more last year must file a return regardless of whether he or she must pay a tax.

Of interest to the prospective taxpayer are these facts:

Every unmarried person or married person not living with his or her mate with net income of more than $1,500 must file a return. Every married person with net income of more than $3,500 must file a return.

Every person who has a taxable income in excess of exemptions must file a return.

If you are earning $5,100 a year, are married and have ten dependent children you must file a return, but you won't have any income tax to pay as Uncle Sam grants $400 exemption for each dependent.

If the gross income of a married man with two children is $4,900, his taxes, interest, contributions, etc., amount to $800, leaving a net income of $4,100, he must file a return, but as his exemption will be $3,500 plus $800 for the two dependents, or $4,300, he will have no tax to pay.

If in doubt, taxpayers, consult the deputy collector, or write to the Cleveland district headquarters.

The Foreign Debts

As the country's foreign debt commission disbands, after five years' operation, it is worth while to observe the fruits of its labors.

The commission on the face of things has a record of large achievement. It has arranged for funding 97 per cent of all the foreign debts to the United States government growing out of the World War. It has negotiated settlements with 13 countries. The unfunded balance outstanding is only $340,000,000, divided among Russia and a half dozen small countries. Some of these countries are actually making payments on account. There is a deadlock with Russia.

If Uncle Sam is to lose only 3 per cent, he will come out well enough. But unfortunately there is no assurance of collecting 97 per cent. The French settlement, largest of all except the British, has not yet been ratified. And there is more and more talk about revision of those already ratified, especially those which, like the British settlement, involve payment somewhere near the actual amount due.

Whether or not the debtors can pay is still a moot question. Whether or not they will pay is another question, no less practical. The chances seem very much against it, and in favor of a general downward revision of the debts sooner or later.

That will depend on American public sentiment, which at present seems to regard the settlements made as favorable to the debtors, and shows no willingness to make the revisions advocated by many statesmen, financiers and big business men.

An Unchallenged Champ

Thirty miles in the water tank of an engine tender is the swimming record of a Kokomo, Ind., resident named Bill Baxter. He didn't train for it, but necessity and good luck brought him victory.

This swimmer, dressed for land instead of water sport, was sitting on top of the tender when a brakeman came along. Bill hastily slid through a hole, thinking he was merely dropping out of sight into a coal bin. It proved to be a tank of water with a depth of seven feet. There wasn't a thing for Bill to do but start swimming. He had rough going because the train started soon and its motion made quite a heavy sea. The swimmer tried floating occasionally to rest himself, but he had to work pretty hard to keep up. Finally as he sank exhausted he found the water had become quite shallow. Then the train stopped and he got his chance to climb out. His record is likely to stand for some time. That is, unless some woman starts in to beat it.

A Prodigy's Pastimes

Another prodigy is taking the examinations for entrance to Wisconsin university. He is 12-year-old Robert Nagler, who has had only four years of school attendance in his life, with some additional private tutoring. He is at present teaching chemistry at the Madison Vocational School.

Before envying his parents or congratulating the youngster, one would like to inquire whether he knows how to swim, plays baseball, or has any friends of his own age with whom he plays.

Lawyers' wives needn't blame them so much for taking an occasional fee in the form of stock certificates. There was the foolish lawyer, you know, who did a little legal job for Henry Ford, and took his pay in stock that he sold later for $7,000,000.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Amid all the flash types of Broadway are those queer creatures at which the world taps its temple. They wander about hatless, barefoot and with long hair, dressed in Christly humility. Some mount soap boxes to spout yeastly words of discontent.

There are those with wide hats festooned with snake rattles, others with straw plug hats, coats decorated with stray pins, sandals, odd gnarled canes, sleeveless coats, plaited beards and one patriarch who wears a necklace of thread spools and lumps of coal.

Somehow or other at some hour of the day or night they stroll to Columbus Circle. It has been called "the plaza of the peripatetic." Most of them are harmless vagabonds with slight mental kinks. They stroll aimlessly along the gutter edges with hands usually folded behind.

Strangely enough they do not beg or do they throw themselves upon the mercy of municipal charity. Neither do they work, yet somehow they manage to live. If one questions them, there is the shimmer of some odd faith or other in their eyes.

Many sleep in abandoned cellars, hallways or box cars and by perhaps salvaging refuse and junk with spiked sticks from ash cans, sell it for a few pennies for food. On pleasant days they are found on park benches—lone, staring and usually mumbling.

They are without relatives and friends and, as ugly as is their abandonment they are not unhappy. Once in awhile some wander over to Fifth Avenue, but as a rule they do not get farther east than Broadway. Ninth Avenue appears a favorite thoroughfare.

There are said to be some 500 of these nameless wanderers in the so-called Broadway district. The police never bother them for the very good reason they obey the law.

Something new in polite professions. I have received a card from a poet whose name is unknown to me, heralding: "Readings from my own poetry in your drawing room. $35 an evening." A deep and flustered bow for the "drawing room" trade last.

A certain New Yorker says he has found real comfort in the serve-yourself cafes. He prefers spilling gravy on his own vest to letting a waiter do it for him.

The bloods are reviving large linked watch chains, worn in old-time gambler fashion, stretched across the vest. And jet black four-in-hand scarves are being worn with gray toned collars that match the shirts.

There is a gambler, by the way, in New York who only sits in public restaurants at a corner table with his back to the wall so he can see everyone who approaches him. He takes no chances on running afoul of those he has double-crossed during his career of deceit.

Tenth Avenue has one of those steaming hot chili parlors with a proprietor who wears the Mexican short coat, latticed pants and peon hat. He has awful moments when a real Mexican drops in to chat, for his name is said to be Pat Moriarity, and he was born in the old Gowanus Canal district of Brooklyn.

For years there was a figure in Chinatown, well known in the East Side stuss houses. He married a Chinese girl, wore the loose jacketed, flapping costume of the quarter and died of opium poisoning in Bellevue. A legal tilt over his estate resulted in the disclosure he was a French-Canadian with an Oriental look, spoke no Chinese, but had become so discouraged over being mistaken for one, he cast his lot with that race. His secret is said to have been known to the natives of Chinatown, but because they liked him, they never divulged it.

HONOR WHERE HONOR WAS DUE.

A certain distinguished English actor whom we will call Walker-Smith plays a persistent but terrible game of golf. During a visit to this country he visited the links of a country club in Westchester county, New York State.

After an especially miserable showing one morning, he flung down his niblick in disgust.

"Caddy," he said, addressing the youth who stood alongside, "that was awful, wasn't it?"

"Purty bad, sir."

"I'll have to confess that I am the worst golfer in the world," continued the actor.

"Oh, I wouldn't say that, sir," purred the caddy, soothingly.

"Did you ever see a worse player than I am?"

"No, sir, I never did," confessed the boy truthfully; "but some of the other boys was tellin' me yistiddy about a gentleman that must be a worse player than you are. They said his name was Walker-Smith."

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Trading With Latin America.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—In 1900 the United States did an export business of approximately $124,000,000 with the countries of Latin America. Last year we sold them almost $900,000,000 worth of our products. Even more significant than this astounding seven-fold increase, according to Dr. Julius Klein, of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, is the relative proportion of the total of Latin America's overseas purchases which now comes from the United States.

In the case of the prosperous and highly competitive markets on the east coast of South America, whereas in 1901 we supplied them with about 12 1-2 per cent of the total imports, our share in 1925 was more than 24 per cent. Our gain on the west coast is even more impressive—from 12 1-2 per cent to 32 per cent—due, it is believed, very largely to the influence of the Panama Canal. In the Caribbean markets where we furnished 46 per cent of the imports in 1901 our portion in 1925 was more than 63 per cent.

And while we have been building up our export trade with our neighbors on the south, our imports from them, chiefly raw materials, have shown almost as great an increase, having risen from $180,000,000 in 1900 to an annual average well in excess of $1,000,000,000 during the past three years.

Dr. Klein called attention to these figures in connection with the celebration at Niles, Ohio, of the home and birthday anniversary of William McKinley, saying that they were a most impressive verification of the prophesy in President McKinley's last public utterance, delivered at the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo just a few hours before his assassination. The great Ohioan not only predicted that the time was at hand for a great expansion of our export trade with the other American republics, but urged the importance of stimulating our imports from them.

"We must not repose in fancied security that we can forever sell everything and buy little or nothing," he said. "If such a thing were possible it would not be best for us and for those with whom we deal. We should take from our customers such of their products as we can use without harm to our industries and labor."

Their Best Customer.

Development along this line has made the United States the best customer of Latin America, for our importations from them are forming a steadily increasing proportion of their total overseas sales. A quarter of a century ago we took about 30 per cent of their total exports; last year our purchases comprised roughly 39 per cent. Thanks to the Panama Canal our imports from the west coast of South America have increased in the same period from 8 per cent of their total foreign sales to 35 per cent.

Clearly these commercial relationships are steadily growing more intimate, says Dr. Klein, more essential to the general prosperity of each party, and by that very circumstance they involve a mutual responsibility, both on the part of the business groups of the south and our own, to scrutinize with great care every possible element in that relationship.

"For example," continues the head of the foreign trade bureau, "there seems to be necessary some correction of the inclination still current among a few business circles in the United States to put all Latin American markets into the same category, to regard them at present, for instance, as all one disturbed area, whereas commercial conditions are of course totally different in the various republics, just as their respective standards of living, buying power, resources, topography, etc., are profoundly different.

Some of the leading republics have a higher percentage of white population than the United States has, and in others the great bulk of the people belong to native races. Each market offers its own problem, in some cases very different from our own, but in many others strikingly similar, due to the comparable geographic environment, transportation difficulties, similar raw material exploitation — mining, agriculture, lumbering, and the like.

The problem of improving commercial relationship would seem, therefore, in the judgment of this authority, to resolve itself, not into any question of respective superiority or inferiority, but rather one of discovering the many ways in which our experience with economic obstacles, particularly in our westward development, might be helpful to them.

Nor is it to be assumed that all the helpfulness will come from our side. Latin America already has us under obligation, because at least two-thirds of the present area of the United States was at one time or another under its influence.

Obstacles To Be Overcome.

Exuberant enthusiasts who seek to create the impression that Latin America offers absolutely unlimited trade possibilities for us only complicate the problem of improving trade relations, for that idea is wholly erroneous and embarrassing to the well informed Latin Americans. They know only too well that they have many great obstacles to be overcome before their economic development can attain anything approaching its prospective proportions.

Port works must be constructed, railways and highways built, water power developed, new populations scattered throughout the hinterland, and, above all, as Dr. Klein points out, greater diversification introduced into agriculture and industry. Even after these improvements have been accomplished there will still be formidable climate and geographic difficulties which will impede for years the economic development of vast stretches of territory.

There has been much talk to the effect that our Latin American trade may be jeopardized by European competition, and that our headway in recent years is largely in the form of ill-gotten war-time loot, which will be taken from us as soon as our European rivals have effected their readjustments and are ready to make a real drive for those markets. This idea is only partially correct, it is stated.

Of course we shall have to meet Europe's competition in some lines, and we are meeting it successfully even now. But it is equally true that as Europe progresses in the drive for Latin purchases of raw materials from Latin America, which in turn will make Latin America potentially a better customer of ours for she will have more money and credits with which to buy. Our task is to give South and Central Americans good values and meet their requirements.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1927.

Income Tax Call

Uncle Sam today called upon his children in the East Liverpool district as well as other parts of the nation to begin checking their 1926 earnings, for income tax, at least the first payment, is due on or before March 15.

If you are a married man or woman and your net income was $3,500 or under, or a bachelor or maiden with a net income of $1,500 or less, you have no cause for worry. Otherwise, get out your pencil and paper.

The new instructions direct attention to the law which requires that every person whose gross income was $5,000 or more last year must file a return regardless of whether he or she must pay a tax.

Of interest to the prospective taxpayer are these facts:

Every unmarried person or married person not living with his or her mate with net income of more than $1,500 must file a return. Every married person with net income of more than $3,500 must file a return.

Every person who has a taxable income in excess of exemptions must file a return.

If you are earning $5,100 a year, are married and have ten dependent children you must file a return, but you won't have any income tax to pay as Uncle Sam grants $400 exemption for each dependent.

If the gross income of a married man with two children is $4,900, his taxes, interest, contributions, etc., amount to $800, leaving a net income of $4,100, he must file a return, but as his exemption will be $3,500 plus $800 for the two dependents, or $4,300, he will have no tax to pay.

If in doubt, taxpayers, consult the deputy collector, or write to the Cleveland district headquarters.

The Foreign Debts

As the country's foreign debt commission disbands, after five years' operation, it is worth while to observe the fruits of its labors.

The commission on the face of things has a record of large achievement. It has arranged for funding 97 per cent of all the foreign debts to the United States government growing out of the World War. It has negotiated settlements with 13 countries. The unfunded balance outstanding is only $340,000,000, divided among Russia and a half dozen small countries. Some of these countries are actually making payments on account. There is a deadlock with Russia.

If Uncle Sam is to lose only 3 per cent, he will come out well enough. But unfortunately there is no assurance of collecting 97 per cent. The French settlement, largest of all except the British, has not yet been ratified. And there is more and more talk about revision of those already ratified, especially those which, like the British settlement, involve payment somewhere near the actual amount due.

Whether or not the debtors can pay is still a moot question. Whether or not they will pay is another question, no less practical. The chances seem very much against it, and in favor of a general downward revision of the debts sooner or later.

That will depend on American public sentiment, which at present seems to regard the settlements made as favorable to the debtors, and shows no willingness to make the revisions advocated by many statesmen, financiers and big business men.

An Unchallenged Champ

Thirty miles in the water tank of an engine tender is the swimming record of a Kokomo, Ind., resident named Bill Baxter. He didn't train for it, but necessity and good luck brought him victory.

This swimmer, dressed for land instead of water sport, was sitting on top of the tender when a brakeman came along. Bill hastily slid through a hole, thinking he was merely dropping out of sight into a coal bin. It proved to be a tank of water with a depth of seven feet. There wasn't a thing for Bill to do but start swimming. He had rough going because the train started soon and its motion made quite a heavy sea. The swimmer tried floating occasionally to rest himself, but he had to work pretty hard to keep up. Finally as he sank exhausted he found the water had become quite shallow. Then the train stopped and he got his chance to climb out. His record is likely to stand for some time. That is, unless some woman starts in to beat it.

A Prodigy's Pastimes

Another prodigy is taking the examinations for entrance to Wisconsin university. He is 12-year-old Robert Nagler, who has had only four years of school attendance in his life, with some additional private tutoring. He is at present teaching chemistry at the Madison Vocational School.

Before envying his parents or congratulating the youngster, one would like to inquire whether he knows how to swim, plays baseball, or has any friends of his own age with whom he plays.

Lawyers' wives needn't blame them so much for taking an occasional fee in the form of stock certificates. There was the foolish lawyer, you know, who did a little legal job for Henry Ford, and took his pay in stock that he sold later for $7,000,000.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Amid all the flash types of Broadway are those queer creatures at which the world taps its temple. They wander about hatless, barefoot and with long hair, dressed in Christly humility. Some mount soap boxes to spout yeastly words of discontent.

There are those with wide hats festooned with snake rattles, others with straw plug hats, coats decorated with stray pins, sandals, odd gnarled canes, sleeveless coats, plaited beards and one patriarch who wears a necklace of thread spools and lumps of coal.

Somehow or other at some hour of the day or night they stroll to Columbus Circle. It has been called "the plaza of the peripatetic." Most of them are harmless vagabonds with slight mental kinks. They stroll aimlessly along the gutter edges with hands usually folded behind.

Strangely enough they do not beg or do they throw themselves upon the mercy of municipal charity. Neither do they work, yet somehow they manage to live. If one questions them, there is the shimmer of some odd faith or other in their eyes.

Many sleep in abandoned cellars, hallways or box cars and by perhaps salvaging refuse and junk with spiked sticks from ash cans, sell it for a few pennies for food. On pleasant days they are found on park benches—lone, staring and usually mumbling.

They are without relatives and friends and, as ugly as is their abandonment they are not unhappy. Once in awhile some wander over to Fifth Avenue, but as a rule they do not get farther east than Broadway. Ninth Avenue appears a favorite thoroughfare.

There are said to be some 500 of these nameless wanderers in the so-called Broadway district. The police never bother them for the very good reason they obey the law.

Something new in polite professions. I have received a card from a poet whose name is unknown to me, heralding: "Readings from my own poetry in your drawing room. $35 an evening." A deep and flustered bow for the "drawing room" trade last.

A certain New Yorker says he has found real comfort in the serve-yourself cafes. He prefers spilling gravy on his own vest to letting a waiter do it for him.

The bloods are reviving large linked watch chains, worn in old-time gambler fashion, stretched across the vest. And jet black four-in-hand scarves are being worn with gray toned collars that match the shirts.

He has awful moments when a real Mexican drops in to chat, for his name is said to be Pat Moriarity, and he was born in the old Gowanus Canal district of Brooklyn.

For years there was a figure in Chinatown, well known in the East Side stuss houses. He married a Chinese girl, wore the loose jacketed, flapping costume of the quarter and died of opium poisoning in Bellevue. A legal tilt over his estate resulted in the disclosure he was a French-Canadian with an Oriental look, spoke no Chinese, but had become so discouraged over being mistaken for one, he cast his lot with that race. Gives Advice to

Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

NAB 41 ACTORS IN BROADWAY THEATRE RAIDS

New York's Acting Mayor Hits Licentious Performances.

WARNS PRODUCERS

Cast of "Sex," "Virgin Man" and "Captive" Held.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Raids on three Broadway plays, in which 41 actors, producers and managers were arrested last midnight, will be repeated if the theatres open their doors today, Acting Mayor Joseph McKee announced.

The lack of censorship as a curb to licentious performances, it was said, spurred city officials to take the matter in their own hands and clean the stage through strict enforcement of the penal code.

Thus last night, after the curtain fell on the last act, the cast, managers and producers of "Sex" at Daly's; "The Virgin Man," at the Princess, and "The Captive," at the Empire, were politely bundled into taxicabs, taken to the night court and held by Magistrate Flood in varying bail for hearings on Monday and Tuesday. All are charged with "corrupting morals of youth" and maintaining a public nuisance.

Nathan Burkan, who appeared for "The Captive" cast, said he would seek an injunction if necessary to protect his clients. He intimated that the management of the Empire will open the theatre today in defiance of the city's orders.

Police at Theatre Doors.

There were 41 stage folk in all, and Broadway—the thousands who got wind of the raids—experienced a real thrill.

To most of the Rialto folk it was a mighty funny affair, to city officials a mighty serious one. To impress this on the theatrical folk who crammed every nook and corner of the West Side night court, Acting Mayor McKee let it be known that policemen will be stationed today at each of the theatres raided, and arrests will be made if any attempt is made to re-open the theatres.

Stars Taken To Night Court.

McKee said that police will use their discretion in stopping any of three shows that essay to reopen. They are empowered to halt the show before it gets under way, or stop it after it has started or, as last night, wait until the show is ended before making any arrests.

Similarly, such stars as Helen Menken, Basil Rathbone, Gail Kane and Ann Trevor, along with lesser members of the cast were, with the same politeness, ushered into waiting taxi cabs. James Sinnott, secretary to the police department, personally aided in the arrests of Miss Menken and Miss Kane. Twelve "captives" were taken.

"The Virgin Man" was the last to feel the strong arm of the law. Seven members of this cast joined the contingent in night court.

Assistant District Attorney Unger previously had arranged to hold the principals of the casts and managers in $1,000 bail and the lesser performers in $500. The "captives" will be arraigned in Jefferson Market court on Monday afternoon, the cast of "The Virgin Man" will be arraigned at the same time and place, and the "Sex" troupe will be heard in the West Side court on Tuesday afternoon.

ONE sometimes forgets that shoes influence the grace as well as the ease, of walking.

There's springiness and restful support in the

Cantilever Shoe

(For Women, Children and Men)

which makes it just the thing for walking, shopping, business or about the house.

This is especially true of the popular oxford and tie patterns, because the lacing draws the flexible Cantilever arch snugly up under the arch of the foot.

Being so much more natural and comfortable, there are no artificial restrictions to mar the graceful walk which Mother Nature evidently intended for her daughters.

Come in and see for yourself what a difference the Cantilever makes and what a well-shod effect it gives.

Graceful Walking in a Graceful Shoe

ONE sometimes forgets that shoes influence the grace as well as the ease, of walking.

There's springiness and restful support in the

Cantilever Shoe

(For Women, Children and Men)

which makes it just the thing for walking, shopping, business or about the house.

This is especially true of the popular oxford and tie patterns, because the lacing draws the flexible Cantilever arch snugly up under the arch of the foot.

Being so much more natural and comfortable, there are no artificial restrictions to mar the graceful walk which Mother Nature evidently intended for her daughters.

Come in and see for yourself what a difference the Cantilever makes and what a well-shod effect it gives.

Pretty walking and dress pumps and a nice line of good looking oxfords.

CALL SALINEVILLE MURDER TRIAL NEXT MONTH

FIRST DEGREE COUNT SOUGHT IN OGLE DEATH

Roy Wallen's Trial Will be Rushed by Prosecutor.

SPECIAL VENIRE

Grand Jury Expected to Vote Indictment Monday.

Roy Wallen, 33, East Salineville man, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of Rodney Ogle, 57, a neighbor, during a quarrel at the Ogle home last Sunday night, probably will go on trial next month.

A first degree crime indictment will be asked by Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes when the grand jury meets at Lisbon, Monday, to investigate the crime.

Thirty days must elapse after the indictment is returned before the trial can start. A special venire of 75 persons will be drawn for the case.

Less than a dozen witnesses will be called by the state. Wallen has not yet engaged counsel.

DOES CHURCH HAVE CLAIM ON YOUR LIFE?

Rev. B. R. Johnson Answers Question in Sermon.

REVIVAL MEET

Wellsville Delegation to Attend Church of Christ Services.

A delegation of about 30 members from the First Church of Christ of Newell attended the revival service at the First Church of Christ last evening.

Rev. B. R. Johnson, pastor, used the subject, "Does the Church Have a Claim on Your Life?" for his discourse. Rev. Clarence A. Hanna, Cleveland, directed the singing and also rendered a solo, "Steal Away to Jesus."

The Wellsville Christian church will send a delegation to tonight's service, while the Lisbon church members will come here for Friday night's service. Rev. Mr. Johnson will use the theme, "When Ye Pray," for his discourse tonight. Rev. Mr. Hanna will sing "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer."

In his sermon last night the pastor said:

"To often the unthinking world looks upon the church as the assembling place of weaklings and mollycoddles. They pass the church as by an institution to be tolerated rather than to be honored and respected. Little do they think of its mighty contribution to the advancing civilization of our times.

"The greatest character of all time is the head of the church, Jesus Christ. Jesus founded the church upon a rock and that rock was the truth of his sonship, the fact that he is the son of God and the Savior of men. Against this truth, the gates of hell cannot prevail. Other institutions come and go, but the church goes on, doing its work and healing the hurt of human hearts. The church exists in the belief that all men are brothers and commits itself to the task of realizing the universal brotherhood of the race through loyalty to Christ and His kingdom.

"The church has given to us the Bible. Back in the day when worship was forbidden by the Roman empire, our church fathers stole away to the caves and dens of the earth and there worshiped the Father. They took with them the parchments containing the precious word of life. Later, when the world became tolerant, the catacombs were searched, the caves renovated and the Bible was put into form. Without that Word to guide the erring feet of men into light and life, we would be a wandering race without a compass and like a ship without a rudder.

"Chief Justice Marshall said, 'The Bible is the great light guiding the feet of men betwixt mortal darkness and immortal light.'"

The church has inspired our art, poetry and sculpture. Remove the influence of the church from the art of the world and it is empty and meaningless. The church has inspired and given the world its best poetry and music.

"In the closing years of Handle's life he was in Moscow and witnessed the rendition of his famous "Messiah" and after the rendition he was called to the platform and greeted with such applause as only such a composition could inspire. But he could not make the speech they wanted him to make; so shaken was he by his emotion, he could do nothing more than lift his hand toward the heavens and say, "It came from yonder.'

"The church has given to us our noble and Christian parenthood. Back in the little country church, many of our parents learned to worship God and from the sources of power there they taught us to lisp the sacred names of Jesus, Father, God. Our mothers went to church. They were great and noble souls. As the children of their love we should honor the institution they honored and that has meant so much in shaping the ideals and the character of the race."

Plans For Resurfacing of Main Street Considered By Council

Chamber of Commerce to Co-operate; Conference With Traction Company First Step.

Plans for the re-surfacing of Main street from the Third street intersection to Seventeenth street have been launched by city council committeemen with the co-operation of the Wellsville chamber of commerce.

Preliminary arrangements for one of the most important street projects here in a number of years, were discussed by the council street and light committee with officers and other representatives of the chamber of commerce last night.

The first move, it is said, in the improvement plan, will be a conference with officials of the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company with a view to determining whether the car company will be willing to work with the city in the proposition. No definite date has been decided upon for the conference.

The proposed improvement has been considered by city council for a long time. The bricks in Main street have been down for probably 34 or 35 years, and, as a result of frequent excavations for sewers, and gas and water line connections, is becoming more or less corrugated in places.

The proposed improvement probably would operate on a three-way basis, as concerns cost, with the city, the car company and property owners sharing.

MISSION MEET AT U. P. CHURCH

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the First United Presbyterian church will convene on Friday night in the church.

The meeting will be held under the leadership of Mrs. Minnie McKim, assisted by Mrs. William Baxter and Mrs. John Rehman.

Mrs. Lulu Aten will have charge of the devotionals. Current missionary news will be given in response to roll call.

The hostesses will include Mrs. M. M. McConnell, Mrs. J. M. Kerr and Mrs. W. Fogo.

HILLCREST CLUB PLANS SOCIAL

Arrangements are under way for the Valentine box and pie social which will be held on Monday night in the Hillcrest school house under auspices of the Hillcrest Community club.

A program will be given.

WHITE SHRINE HOLDS MEETING

The Wellsville White Shrine chapter met last night in its lodge rooms in the Knights of Pythias hall, Fifth and Main street.

A luncheon and social hour followed the business session. Mrs. R. O. Stewart and Mrs. Lilly Frost, of East Liverpool, were the hostesses.

NAZARENE MEETS CONTINUE HERE

Rev. Earl Stillion last night discussed the subject, "The Three Appearings of Jesus" at revival services in the Nazarene Mission here.

He cited the first appearance in Bethlehem, the second after the resurrection and the third when Christ comes again.

Four professed conversion at the close of the services.

O. N. O. Club Meet Tonight.

Members of the O. N. O. club will be entertained tonight at the home of Mrs. John Mylar in Newell.

MRS. HARRY CLARK W. C. T. U. HOSTESS

Victory W. C. T. U. members convened recently at the home of Mrs Harry Clark, in Broadway.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. Feiss and Mrs. L. C. Momberg. Readings were given by Mrs. W. J. Baxter and Mrs. H. Wellington on the "Life of Miss Frances Willard," former W. C. T. U. leader.

A program followed the business session, including a piano solo by Mrs. Farmer; a reading, "The Dishes," by Mrs. Walter Weldon; duet by Elizabeth McClelland and Letha Mae Clark, accompanied by Miss Margaret Urie. reading, "Pussy and Puppy," by Carola Hudson and Letha Clark; contest, won by Helen Crawford.

A three-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Van-Dyke and Miss Letha Clark.

The next meeting, which will take the form of a coverdish party, will be held March 4 in the First Christian church. Mrs. Walter Weldon will be in charge.

IRONDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Russell of Salineville spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell.

On Friday evening the local high school basketball teams will go to New Cumberland to clash with the West Virginians there. A large crowd of local fans are expected to accompany the teams.

The I. A. C. was defeated by a score of 38 to 12 at Amsterdam Monday evening.

On Thursday evening the I. A. C. five will play the Ceramics on the local court. Two good preliminaries are being arranged between grade boys and girls from Wellsville and local grade boys and girls.

"Braveheart," a feature photoplay presented by the local schools Monday evening, was well attended. An educational reel, "The Story of Automotive Lubrication," was also shown.

Mrs. Mary Golden Brown, of Salineville, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Hanna Johnson, who has been visiting relatives at Salineville, returned to her home here Tuesday.

T. M. Johnston, of Canton, has concluded a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. X. Johnston.

Chief Strongheart, as the third number of the school entertainment course, pleased a good sized audience with his recital lecture, "From Peace Pipe to War Trail." The chief directed and played a part in the photoplay, "Braveheart," which was shown here Monday. The concluding number of the course will be given March 22 by the Musicland Entertainers.

Miss Maude McMahan, fourth grade teacher, was unable to assume her duties Wednesday on account of illness.

"Bolshevism on Trial," a feature picture based upon the novel, "Comrade," by Thomas Dixon, Jr., will be shown at the school gym Monday evening, as the next of the school's picture program. The story is that of an unscrupulous Soviet leader who induces a young millionaire to give him Paradise Isle, off the coast of Florida, where his group of American followers can put all their theories into practice. A never to be forgotten lesson of Americanism is taught and the picture is said to be fully as grinning as Dixon's "Birth of a Nation." The cast includes Robert Fraser, Henry Truesdell, May Hopkins, Chief Standing Bear and Valda Valkyrien. In addition to the feature picture, Charlie Chaplin will be seen in "The Floorwalker."

FAILING HEALTH FORCED HIM TO WORK OUT DOORS

Now Back on Inside Job; Feels Better Than For Years; Credits Tepee Herb Tonic With Complete Recovery.

We can't all work out of doors where the air is pure and exercise is an aid to health. And so, the men and women who work in stores, offices and shops often fall easy prey to stomach kidney and liver troubles. Such people will find Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic an invaluable medicine.

Redwood.

Charles D. Whiting, R. R. 5 box 119 B, South Bend, Ind., says: "For eight years I was troubled with gas on my stomach. I was also constipated and had numerous headaches and dizzy spells. I worked in a printing establishment and had to give up inside work and go to collecting so that I would have the benefit of pure air and good exercise. But my outside work didn't help much.

"A short time ago I started to take Tepee Herb Tonic and it worked wonders for me. I am now going back to work in the printing plant. I am never troubled with gas on my stomach. Neither do I have headaches or dizzy spells. Redwood's Tepee Tonic simply gave me a new lease on life. I am delighted to recommend it."

Tepee Herb Tonic is sold and recommended by well stocked drug stores and by all well stocked drug stores everywhere.

PENSION FUND REPORT FILED

Retired Mill Employes Received $3,098.65 During Past Year.

Sixteenth annual report of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension fund shows that in the year of 1926 the sum of $2,537,916.92 was distributed as pensions among retired employes of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiary companies which included $3,098.65 to retired employes of the Chester plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company.

Five former employes of the Chester mill are on the pension list, three of whom reside here. The last man placed on the pension roll was John R. Morris, 49, of East Liverpool, who was retired owing to disability with a pension of $55.25 a month.

Carnegie Steel company was first among the subsidiaries in the amount paid to retired employes, the sum being $615,604.67. Some of the bigger subsidiary companies, and their pension disbursements, were: American Steel and Wire company, $557,044.40; American Sheet and Tin Plate company, $347,505.32; National Tube company, $241,957.87; H. C. Frick Coke company, $196,530.59; Illinois Steel company, $130,057.27; American Bridge company, $120,903.15; Oliver Iron Mining company, $105,202.40; Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, $35,802.20; Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad company, $35,033.05; and Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway company, $28,442.15.

There were 1,185 employes added to the pension roll during 1926 and 532 were removed by death. At the close of the year there were 5,737 on the pension roll.

The average age of the 1,185 employes retired in 1926 was 62.79 years; their average period of service was 31.57 years, and the average monthly pension, $47.05.

The total amount paid in pensions since the inauguration of the pension plan on January 1st, 1911, was $15,933,725.75.

The beneficiaries of the pension fund make no contributions to the fund, the income of the latter being derived from a fund created jointly by Andrew Carnegie and the United States Steel corporation. The latter provides also whatever additional moneys may be required in the administration of the pension plan.

The pension fund applies to all employes of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiary companies, numbering approximately 250,000.

DONAHEY SEEKS SENATE O. K. OF 41 APPOINTEES

Governor to Send Names to Upper House Today.

AWAITS VERDICT

Floor Leader Pledges Action Before End of Week.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—Names of 41 appointees will be sent by Governor Vic Donahey to the Ohio senate today for confirmation. On behalf of senate leaders, Senator C. C. Bolton, Cleveland, Republican floor leader, has assured the governor, it was understood, that all these appointments will be acted upon by the senate not later than the end of next week.

Governor Donahey's decision to send these names to the senate was reached as a result of two conferences Wednesday between the governor and Senator Bolton who urged the governor, it was stated, to permit the senate to pass upon all of the governor's appointments before Monday, February 21.

Except by a three-fifths vote of either legislative branch, no more bills will be introduced in the senate or house after February 21. Bolton explained to the governor that legislative leaders desired to have the question of confirmation of appointments disposed of before that date in order that the legislators might give their undivided attention to the big legislative program confronting them.

To Act on Leonard's Name.

It was expected that the senate will act this week upon the question of confirming Governor Donahey's appointment of Wellington T. Leonard, Mansfield, Republican, as a member of the state industrial commission. Leonard's name was sent to the senate by the governor more than two weeks ago, but has been held up by the senate rules committee.

Identity of the appointments to be sent to the senate today by the governor had not been discussed early today. These appointments it was announced, will include: Three members of the state utilities commission, two on the state tax commission, two on the state civil service commission, three on the state medical board, two on the state optometry board, five on the state buildings standards board, two members of the state pharmacy board, 11 members of the board of trustes of Miami university, one member of the board of trustees of Wilberforce university and two members, each, of the boards of trustees of Ohio State and Ohio universities, Kent and Bowling Green state normal schools, and the Soldiers' and Sailors' home, Xenia.

Queen Elizabeth of the Hellenes has started the fad this season of wearing horn-rimmed spectacles at the theatre.

EVANS WOOLLEN, INDIANA, DEMOCRATS' "DARK HORSE"

TAGGART SAYS M'ADOO-SMITH FIGHT CERTAIN

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis Convention Cities.

HITS RUM ISSUE

Hoosier Leader, Now at Miami, Fla, is Interviewed.

By Larry Smits.

(Copyright 1927, By International News Service.)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 10.—Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will get the next Democratic national convention; prohibition should not be made a national campaign issue; William Gibbs McAdoo of California and Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York will mix in another hot personal battle for the presidential nomination, but Evans Woolen of Indiana is the "dark horse" to be watched.

These are the opinions of Thomas Taggart, former United States senator from Indiana and present Democratic leader of that state, as expressed in an interview today at the Flamingo hotel here, where the Indiana leader is enjoying a winter rest.

"I sincerely hope that prohibition will not be made a national political issue in the 1928 presidential campaign," Taggart said. "There are just as many Republicans as there are Democrats that want liquor. An attempt is now being made, as have been made in other campaigns to saddle the liquor problem on to the backs of the Democrats. But I did not want to have my party win on the issue of liquor. It should not be an issue.

Attorney and Banker.

"Governor Smith of New York and W. G. McAdoo will be the dominating figures of the 1928 convention, at its start, as they were in the Madison Square Garden struggle in 1924. Their fight will run a similar course again but more briefly. I believe that Evans Woollen of Indianapolis is the logical selection. He is relatively unknown nationally, although he is strong in Indiana.

"Woollen is a former attorney, now a banker and business man, and is first vice-president of the American Central Life Insurance company. He was federal fuel administrator for Indiana in 1917 and 1918, a member of the Indiana state counsel of defense and chairman of the Indiana commission of the war finance corporation.'

Other figures seen by Taggart as bulking important in the 1928 conven'tion are Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture, and Governor A. C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Farmers Present Real Problem.

Taggart indicated that he did not believe Governor Smith would win the nomination, but he had this to say:

"If the Democrats do nominate Smith I believe all Democrats in every section of the country—and I do not exclude the south—would vote for him. I believe he would make a good president, but Woollen would have strength which Smith could not command. He would make the best contender the Democrats have put forward in years."

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the next convention city, in his opinion, Taggart said.

"The farmers in the west and the cotton growers in the south present the first real problems for political solution," he declared. "Next in importance is the tariff."

Mrs. Taggart and their daughter, Lucy, are here with Taggart. They will remain until the end of March.

witnesses. It also was said that the prosecution would call Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Slagel, who unwittingly harbored McDermott in Cleveland while Pat eluded police for three months.

Bachtel had prepared charts which the state offered in evidence, showing the garage door and the window of the kitchen, through which the shots were fired. He was cross-examined by George Gordon Battle, New York lawyer, of defense counsel.

Asked by Battle if it was not possible that the four shots fired at Mellett might not have been fired by four different persons Bachtel said that it was. This question was interpreted as laying the basis for Rudner's defense, along the lines that Mellett's murder was not the result of a preconceived plot with a hired assassin acting as gunman for pay, but that the attacks upon vice which he had made through the Canton Daily News had aroused citizens of the underworld to act co-operatively to end them.

Mrs. Mellett will be followed on the stand by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vail, who were guests of the Melletts on the night of the murder.

to honor the heroes. He left for the purpose £1,000 with order to let it grow. Now it is £8,000, and the memorial will be built.

Time and compound interest work wonders. A dollar invested at the beginning of our era, at compound interest would be worth today more than a lump of gold as big as the earth. Save something.

MILLIONS all over the United States and millions in foreign countries will hear President Coolidge plainly, when he talks about Washington Feb. 22. And listeners in, 1,000 miles away, will hear the President's words before they are heard by those five yards from the President—electricity travels around the earth while sound in traveling a few yards.

All that would surprise George Washington, and make him proud to be still "first in the hearts of countrymen," able to perform such miracles But if he returned, to find radio, telephones, flying machines, submarines, moving pictures, no wigs and bobbed ladies, he would say "put me back, it cannot be real."

WASHINGTON is agitated by talk of skyscrapers near the White House. They will destroy the beauty of that venerable building, critics say. But they won't.

Whatever is useful is beautiful. When, after Greely's death, his New York Tribune pushed a red and black building up nine stories into the air, many said, "it will ruin beautiful old city hall." It did not, and the Woolworth, close to the beautiful old city hall and nearly sixty stories high, has not ruined it, either.

This is the country of high buildings, and the higher the better. Let us see what we can do, and get ready gradually for the roof airplane landing, with elevators going down, before they go up.

Auxiliary Naval Craft Pact.

Speaking for the United States, President Coolidge advised the powers that America's delegates to Geneva will be authorized to negotiate for an agreement covering auxiliary navel craft. He invited them to similarly equip their delegates with authority.

"The American government is most anxious," the memorandum said, that concrete results in the limitation of armament may be achieved.

"The discussions of the preparatory commission have emphasized that a number of governments consider that one of the chief obstacles to the general reduction and limitation of armament lies in the interdependence of land, sea and air armaments, and in the consequent impossibility of reducing or limiting one of these categories without dealing simultaneously with the others.

"On the other hand, the discussions have demonstrated even more emphatically that, should all effort to bring about reduction or limitation of armament be conditioned upon the acceptance of all the world of a comprehensive plan covering all classes of armament, there would be little, if any, prospect of actual progress in the near future.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 10.—Only meagre dispatches have been received from the war area today, but the latest available dispatches indicated that Sun Chuan Fang is still withstanding the Cantonese push for Shanghai.

With both sides heavily reinforced the warfare is reported to be approaching proportions of considerable magnitude and it is believed here that the present engagement will be decisive.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Great Britain has spent $3,225,000 thus far in sending troops and naval units to Shanghai, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, minister of war, announced in the house of commons this afternoon.

Leipzig, Germany, has erected a broadcasting station at its fair grounds for the benefit of the 121,000 owners of receiving sets in that city and farmers outside.

WAR VETERANS HONOR SOLDIER OF FORTUNE ON 100TH BIRTHDAY

DETROIT, Mich. — Detroit war veterans honored Capt. Wolpole Roland, Detroit soldier of fortune who reached his 100th year.

Capt. Roland has fought in every war since the Crimean. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, pinned decorations on him at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, and also gave a dinner-dance in his honor at the Book-Cadillac.

Captain Roland was nearly 90 when the World war started but he served as an inspector of engineering supplies in Pittsburgh. The aged veteran has fought under five flags.

He served under the famous "Chinese" Gordon in India and Egypt and witnessed the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava. While in Crimea he met General George B. McClelland, then a lieutenant in the United States army detailed as an observer, and while Captain Roland was an engineer officer in the Turkish army. The two became fast friends. Because of this friendship McClelland sent for Roland during the Civil war and he served under the general as an engineering officer and typegraphical expert.

The Civil war ended, Captain Roland cast his lot with the Bonapartists in Mexico and was a civil engineering advisor at Washington during the Spanish-American war.

SNAILS, BAMBOO SHOOTS, DRIED DUCK MAY SOON BE AMERICAN FOODS

BERKELEY, Cal.—Water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, Foo Kwa and dried duck, the delights of Chinese epicures, are just as nutritious as table favorites in the United States, Miss Asta Ohn, University of California graduate, has determined after careful analysis.

Reporting upon the nutritive value of oriental foods, Miss Ohn said the most striking difference in the composition of food in the Orient and in this country was the absence of dairy products, milk, cheese and butter, in the Far Eastern diet.

Rice, sweet potatoes and taro replace cereals and the Irish potato in the Orient and duck and other fowls are eaten more than beef or mutton, she reported.

Oriental methods of food preparation and preservation preserve the vitamin and mineral content of the foods, the report indicated. Miss Ohn closed her extensive survey with the hope that "each country will supplement its diet by adding articles of food from other lands."

"Have you had your snails and bamboo shoots today?" may soon confront the reader on every hand.

NEW GAS TAX BILLS IN HOUSE

Propose Increase in Assessment; Another Tag Sale Plan.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—Bills proposing an increase in the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon, authorizing use of a portion of this revenue for construction of highways by the state, enlarging the state's share of this fund, and providing for the sale of state auto license tags once in five years, instead of annually as at present, are pending today in the Ohio house of representatives.

Representative Frank A. Brown, Ross county, offered a bill decreeing that the state shall receive 50 per cent, instead of 45 per cent, of the gasoline tax, that cities shall receive 25 per cent, instead of 30 as at present; and that the 25 per cent allotted to Ohio's 88 counties shall remain unchanged. Brown's bill authorizes the state to appropriate definite sums from this fund for construction of new highways.

A bill, by Representative A. O. Burnett, Trumbull county, would increase the gasoline tax to three cents per gallon and permit autoists to retain a state license tag five years without an increase in the license fee. Burnett estimated that not only would the boost in the gasoline tax offset the loss in revenue from the sale of auto tags, but his proposel law would effect a saving to the state of more than $600,000 annually, the amount now spent for the manufacture of auto license tags.

Representative Dallas Sullivan, Union County, introduced a bill providing for a 3 cent gasoline tax and increasing the state's share of this revenue to 66⅔ per cent, the balance to be divided equally between the counties and municipalities.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Irene Evilsizer.

Funeral services for Mrs. Irene Evilsizer, 18 years old, wife of John Evilsizer, who died yesterday in her home, 316 Summit lane, after an illness of a complication of diseases, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman, 1030 Oak street, in charge of Field Major Joseph Hughes of the Salvation Army. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

She is survived in addition to her husband and parents by one son, James George, five brothers, Clarence, Akron; Eugene, Mansfield; Charles, Ernest and Everett, all of East Liverpool, and six sisters, Mrs. Charles Johnson, New Martinsville; Mrs. Bessie Prosser, Canton; Mrs. Ethel Newell, Akron; Mrs. Leona Mitchenson, and Misses Laura and Lanora Coleman, of this city.

Friends can view the body Thursday and Friday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock.

Four Men Arrested When Police Raid Labor Council Room

Patrolman Herman Roth raided a room in Trades and Labor council hall, Fifth and Washington streets, late yesterday afternoon, arresting four men.

Charles Carraher one of the quartet, charged with intoxication was fined $50 and costs and ordered committed to the county jail at Lisbon until the fine is paid. The other three, who drew fines of $10 and costs were John Thomas, also charged with intoxication, Art Craven and Harold Duffy, who were held on charges of loitering. They were also committed to jail.

James Hood was arrested at his home in East End by Patrolman Chester Smith last night upon charges of assault preferred by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Hood. He pleaded not guilty when he faced Judge Haney and the case was continued until 10 o'clock Friday morning. He was released on his own recognizance.

Ohio Odd Fellows' Grand Master to Speak Here Tonight

A program of music and other features will be presented beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Luncheon will be served.

Witness Suffers Heart Attack at Divorce Hearing

Russell Shelly, Columbiana, suffered a heart attack while testifying in the divorce action of Rowland Sproul against his wife, Isabelle Sproul, in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday, and had to be carried into the private office of the court, where he was attended by Dr. Seward Harris. Shelly was soon revived but was not recalled to the stand.

Judge W. F. Lones, who presided at the hearing, reserved his decision in the case.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Speculative interests shifted from the "little rails' to the industrial and specialty stocks in early trading today. With the collapse of the bubble in the low priced merger-rails, and the wiping out of margins in Wednesday's violent decline, the professionals turned their attention to the industrial stocks which have been comparatively quiet of late.

Price declines in the bulk of the railroad stocks were moderate, though the sky-flying Wheeling & Lake Erie common lost 10 points on only one sale of 1000 shares reported in the first hour of trading. The preferred sold at 83, down 4, while Chicago Great Western lost 2 and Western Maryland 3½. The high grade investment rails made a better showing.

The pool in Baldwin Locomotives advanced the price of that stock to 172 in order to force short covering. Radio corporation continued its spectacular advance to 56½. United States Rubber moved up to 64½ in its widely-advertised "drive" and a few of the well-known oils, including producers & refiners, Shell Union and Skelly displayed a strong trend.

The forward move of the industrials encounter considerable resistance in the second hour, when short selling was resumed on a heavy scale by the professionals. The "little rails" were also offered in large volume, and the trend of prices turned sharply downward.

KIWANIS HEARS WALTER B. HILL

Attorney Tells of Motor Trip to California.

A travelogue concerning his automobile tour from East Liverpool to Los Angeles, Cal., last November, was delivered by Attorney Walter B. Hill, at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins' annex, Market street, today.

He told of incidents of the trip which he said required only 96 hours of actually traveling time. The route from East Liverpool was via Columbus, Dayton, Terre Haute, Cairo, Memphis thence through Arkansas to Fort Worth, El Paso and to California.

Vice President Charles Hendershot presided. Prof. Hugh Laughlin led the singing, with Clair Chambers as accompanist. Fifty club members and guests were present.

Rev. Clarence Hanna, Cleveland, who is assisting in a revival campaign at the First Church of Christ, rendered three vocal solos.

McNary-Haugen Bill

associations" and the vote of all members of the board from the district "raising fifty per cent of the crop' affected, before the board could act.

In time of crop emergencies, caused by a huge surplus, the McNary bill would permit the board to make loans to cooperatives, under the conditions named above, for the purpose of stabilizing the prices by storage, or exportation of the surplus. It would guarantee the finances necessary even to hold a huge surplus off the American market, while awaiting payment of the loans from a stabilization fund created by payment of the equalization fee. The board would fix the equalization fee on any crop affected.

Equalization Fee Crux of Bill.

The equalization fee, which is the crux of the McNary-Haugen bill, would be a sort of insurance premium paid by the farmer to guarantee a fair price for his whole crop. It would be collectable only on the portion of a crop sold in the American market but would be high enough to cover whatever losses the cooperatives suffered in selling the surplus aboard. In theory, this action would keep the American market price always higher than the world market price and so much higher, that the farmer would receive more for his whole crop, even after paying the equalization fee, than he would have received if the surplus were allowed to clog the local markets, bringing the American price level down to the world market price as in previous years.

The Curtis-Aswell bill would eliminate the equalization fee. It would provide for the board functioning in time of crop emergencies by the extension of loans to cooperatives engaged in stabilizing the price levels. In time of a national crop emergency, these loans would draw one per cent interest and at other times, interest at the rate of 4½ per cent, repayable in 20 years. In theory, it would result much the same as the McNary-Haugen bill but there would be no guarantees for the board getting back the loans.

What is home without a garage? Would you be interested in plans and specifications. If you need a new garage, take this little tip, SEE US.

You can accomplish a lot of things with wall board. We handle the famous SHEETROCK.

Do you realize that February 14th is St. Valentine's Day? Remember when a little red heart with a cupid on it would thrill you for days?

There's a man in this town—we won't tell you his name—who says he is thankful for the bobbed hair fad. He says it brought clean necks! But maybe the necks were clean before the fad came. The bobbed hair only proves it.

We know some children who own a pet cat. The other day they discovered a rat near the premises and the cat was called upon to do its worst. It did. It turned tail and ran, with the rat in full pursuit.

EVANS WOOLLEN, INDIANA, DEMOCRATS' "DARK HORSE"

TAGGART SAYS M'ADOO-SMITH FIGHT CERTAIN

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis Convention Cities.

HITS RUM ISSUE

Hoosier Leader, Now at Miami, Fla, is Interviewed.

By Larry Smits.
(Copyright 1927, By International News Service.)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 10.—Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will get the next Democratic national convention; prohibition should not be made a national campaign issue; William Gibbs McAdoo of California and Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York will mix in another hot personal battle for the presidential nomination, but Evans Woolen of Indiana is the "dark horse" to be watched.

These are the opinions of Thomas Taggart, former United States senator from Indiana and present Democratic leader of that state, as expressed in an interview today at the Flamingo hotel here, where the Indiana leader is enjoying a winter rest.

"I sincerely hope that prohibition will not be made a national political issue in the 1928 presidential campaign," Taggart said. "There are just as many Republicans as there are Democrats that want liquor. An attempt is now being made, as have been made in other campaigns to saddle the liquor problem on to the backs of the Democrats. But I did not want to have my party win on the issue of liquor. It should not be an issue.

Attorney and Banker.

"Governor Smith of New York and W. G. McAdoo will be the dominating figures of the 1928 convention, at its start, as they were in the Madison Square Garden struggle in 1924. Their fight will run a similar course again but more briefly. I believe that Evans Woollen of Indianapolis is the logical selection. He is relatively unknown nationally, although he is strong in Indiana.

"Woollen is a former attorney, now a banker and business man, and is first vice-president of the American Central Life Insurance company. He was federal fuel administrator for Indiana in 1917 and 1918, a member of the Indiana state counsel of defense and chairman of the Indiana commission of the war finance corporation.'

Other figures seen by Taggart as bulking important in the 1928 conve'ntion are Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture, and Governor A. C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Farmers Present Real Problem.

Taggart indicated that he did not believe Governor Smith would win the nomination, but he had this to say:

"If the Democrats do nominate Smith I believe all Democrats in every section of the country—and I do not exclude the south—would vote for him. I believe he would make a good president, but Woollen would have strength which Smith could not command. He would make the best contender the Democrats have put forward in years."

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the next convention city, in his opinion, Taggart said.

"The farmers in the west and the cotton growers in the south present the first real problems for political solution," he declared. "Next in importance is the tariff."

Mrs. Taggart and their daughter, Lucy, are here with Taggart. They will remain until the end of March.

witnesses. It also was said that the prosecution would call Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Slagel, who unwittingly harbored McDermott in Cleveland while Pat eluded police for three months.

Bachtel had prepared charts which the state offered in evidence, showing the garage door and the window of the kitchen, through which the shots were fired. He was cross-examined by George Gordon Battle, New York lawyer, of defense counsel.

Asked by Battle if it was not possible that the four shots fired at Mellett might not have been fired by four different persons Bachtel said that it was. This question was interpreted as laying the basis for Rudner's defense, along the lines that Mellett's murder was not the result of a preconceived plot with a hired assassin acting as gunman for pay, but that the attacks upon vice which he had made through the Canton Daily News had aroused citizens of the underworld to act co-operatively to end them.

Mrs. Mellett will be followed on the stand by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vail, who were guests of the Melletts on the night of the murder.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads —Dissolve Them

Squeezing out blackheads makes large, ugly pores. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calonite powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little, will disappear at once.

to honor the heroes. He left for the purpose £1,000 with order to let it grow. Now it is £8,000, and the memorial will be built.

Time and compound interest work wonders. A dollar invested at the beginning of our era, at compound interest would be worth today more than a lump of gold as big as the earth. Save something.

MILLIONS all over the United States and millions in foreign countries will hear President Coolidge plainly, when he talks about Washington Feb. 22. And listeners in, 1,000 miles away, will hear the President's words before they are heard by those five yards from the President—electricity travels around the earth while sound in traveling a few yards.

All that would surprise George Washington, and make him proud to be still "first in the hearts of countrymen," able to perform such miracles But if he returned, to find radio, telephones, flying machines, submarines, moving pictures, no wigs and bobbed ladies, he would say "put me back, it cannot be real."

WASHINGTON is agitated by talk of skyscrapers near the White House. They will destroy the beauty of that venerable building, critics say. But they won't.

Whatever is useful is beautiful. When, after Greely's death, his New York Tribune pushed a red and black building up nine stories into the air, many said, "it will ruin beautiful old city hall." It did not, and the Woolworth, close to the beautiful old city hall and nearly sixty stories high, has not ruined it, either.

This is the country of high buildings, and the higher the better. Let us see what we can do, and get ready gradually for the roof airplane landing, with elevators going down, before they go up.

Auxiliary Naval Craft Pact.

Speaking for the United States, President Coolidge advised the powers that America's delegates to Geneva will be authorized to negotiate for an agreement covering auxiliary navel craft. He invited them to similarly equip their delegates with authority.

"The American government is most anxious," the memorandum said, that concrete results in the limitation of armament may be achieved.

"The discussions of the preparatory commission have emphasized that a number of governments consider that one of the chief obstacles to the general reduction and limitation of armament lies in the interdependence of land, sea and air armaments, and in the consequent impossibility of reducing or limiting one of these categories without dealing simultaneously with the others.

"On the other hand, the discussions have demonstrated even more emphatically that, should all effort to bring about reduction or limitation of armament be conditioned upon the acceptance of all the world of a comprehensive plan covering all classes of armament, there would be little, if any, prospect of actual progress in the near future.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 10.—Only meagre dispatches have been received from the war area today, but the latest available dispatches indicated that Sun Chuan Fang is still withstanding the Cantonese push for Shanghai.

With both sides heavily reinforced the warfare is reported to be approaching proportions of considerable magnitude and it is believed here that the present engagement will be decisive.

NEW GAS TAX BILLS IN HOUSE

Propose Increase in Assessment; Another Tag Sale Plan.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—Bills proposing an increase in the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon, authorizing use of a portion of this revenue for construction of highways by the state, enlarging the state's share of this fund, and providing for the sale of state auto license tags once in five years, instead of annually as at present, are pending today in the Ohio house of representatives.

Representative Frank A. Brown, Ross county, offered a bill decreeing that the state shall receive 50 per cent, instead of 45 per cent, of the gasoline tax, that cities shall receive 25 per cent, instead of 30 as at present, and that the 25 per cent allotted to Ohio's 88 counties shall remain unchanged. Brown's bill authorizes the state to appropriate definite sums from this fund for construction of new highways.

A bill, by Representative A. O. Burnett, Trumbull county, would increase the gasoline tax to three cents per gallon and permit autoists to retain a state license tag five years without an increase in the license fee. Burnett estimated that not only would the boost in the gasoline tax offset the loss in revenue from the sale of auto tags, but his proposel law would effect a saving to the state of more than $600,000 annually, the amount now spent for the manufacture of auto license tags.

Representative Dallas Sullivan, Union County, introduced a bill providing for a 3 cent gasoline tax and increasing the state's share of this revenue to 66⅔ per cent, the balance to be divided equally between the counties and municipalities.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Irene Evilsizer.

Funeral services for Mrs. Irene Evilsizer, 18 years old, wife of John Evilsizer, who died yesterday in her home, 316 Summit lane, after an illness of a complication of diseases, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman, 1030 Oak street, in charge of Field Major Joseph Hughes of the Salvation Army. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

She is survived in addition to her husband and parents by one son, James George, five brothers, Clarence, Akron; Eugene, Mansfield; Charles, Ernest and Everett, all of East Liverpool, and six sisters, Mrs. Charles Johnson, New Martinsville; Mrs. Bessie Prosser, Canton; Mrs. Ethel Newell, Akron; Mrs. Leona Mitchenson, and Misses Laura and Lanora Coleman, of this city.

Friends can view the body Thursday and Friday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock.

Four Men Arrested When Police Raid Labor Council Room

Patrolman Herman Roth raided a room in Trades and Labor council hall, Fifth and Washington streets, late yesterday afternoon, arresting four men.

Charles Carraher one of the quartet, charged with intoxication was fined $50 and costs and ordered committed to the county jail at Lisbon until the fine is paid. The other three, who drew fines of $10 and costs were John Thomas, also charged with intoxication, Art Craven and Harold Duffy, who were held on charges of loitering. They were also committed to jail.

James Hood was arrested at his home in East End by Patrolman Chester Smith last night upon charges of assault preferred by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Hood. He pleaded not guilty when he faced Judge Haney and the case was continued until 10 o'clock Friday morning. He was released on his own recognizance.

WAR VETERANS HONOR SOLDIER OF FORTUNE ON 100TH BIRTHDAY

DETROIT, Mich. — Detroit war veterans honored Capt. Wolpole Roland, Detroit soldier of fortune who reached his 100th year.

Capt. Roland has fought in every war since the Crimean. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, pinned decorations on him at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, and also gave a dinner-dance in his honor at the Book-Cadillac.

Captain Roland was nearly 90 when the World war started but he served as an inspector of engineering supplies in Pittsburgh. The aged veteran has fought under five flags.

He served under the famous "Chinese" Gordon in India and Egypt and witnessed the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava. While in Crimea he met General George B. McClelland, then a lieutenant in the United States army detailed as an observer, and while Captain Roland was an engineer officer in the Turkish army. The two became fast friends. Because of this friendship McClelland sent for Roland during the Civil war and he served under the general as an engineering officer and typographical expert.

The Civil war ended, Captain Roland cast his lot with the Bonapartists in Mexico and was a civil engineering advisor at Washington during the Spanish-American war.

SNAILS, BAMBOO SHOOTS, DRIED DUCK MAY SOON BE AMERICAN FOODS

BERKELEY, Cal.—Water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, Foo Kwa and dried duck, the delights of Chinese epicures, are just as nutritious as table favorites in the United States, Miss Asta Ohn, University of California graduate, has determined after careful analysis.

Reporting upon the nutritive value of oriental foods, Miss Ohn said the most striking difference in the composition of food in the Orient and in this country was the absence of dairy products, milk, cheese and butter, in the Far Eastern diet.

Rice, sweet potatoes and taro replace cereals and the Irish potato in the Orient and duck and other fowls are eaten more than beef or mutton, she reported.

Oriental methods of food preparation and preservation preserve the vitamin and mineral content of the foods, the report indicated. Miss Ohn closed her extensive survey with the hope that "each country will supplement its diet by adding articles of food from other lands."

"Have you had your snails and bamboo shoots today?" may soon confront the reader on every hand.

Witness Suffers Heart Attack at Divorce Hearing

Russell Shelly, Columbiana, suffered a heart attack while testifying in the divorce action of Rowland Sproul against his wife, Isabelle Sproul, in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday, and had to be carried into the private office of the court, where he was attended by Dr. Seward Harris. Shelly was soon revived but was not recalled to the stand.

Judge W. F. Lones, who presided at the hearing, reserved his decision in the case.

As the result of experiments in delivering supplies by airplane to Mont Blanc, which is 14,300 feet high, the plan may be tried for other observatories of Europe.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Speculative interests shifted from the "little rails' to the industrial and specialty stocks in early trading today. With the collapse of the bubble in the low priced merger-rails, and the wiping out of margins in Wednesday's violent decline, the professionals turned their attention to the industrial stocks which have been comparatively quiet of late.

Price declines in the bulk of the railroad stocks were moderate, though the sky-flying Wheeling & Lake Erie common lost 10 points on only one sale of 1000 shares reported in the first hour of trading. The preferred sold at 83, down 4, while Chicago Great Western lost 2 and Western Maryland 3½. The high grade investment rails made a better showing.

The pool in Baldwin Locomotives advanced the price of that stock to 172 in order to force short covering. Radio corporation continued its spectacular advance to 56½. United States Rubber moved up to 64½ in its widely-advertised "drive" and a few of the well-known oils, including producers & refiners, Shell Union and Skelly displayed a strong trend.

The forward move of the industrials encounter considerable resistance in the second hour, when short selling was resumed on a heavy scale by the professionals. The "little rails" were also offered in large volume, and the trend of prices turned sharply downward.

Attorney Tells of Motor Trip to California.

A travelogue concerning his automobile tour from East Liverpool to Los Angeles, Cal., last November, was delivered by Attorney Walter B. Hill, at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins' annex, Market street, today.

He told of incidents of the trip which he said required only 96 hours of actually traveling time. The route from East Liverpool was via Columbus, Dayton, Terre Haute, Cairo, Memphis thence through Arkansas to Fort Worth, El Paso and to California.

Vice President Charles Hendershot presided. Prof. Hugh Laughlin led the singing, with Clair Chambers as accompanist. Fifty club members and guests were present.

Rev. Clarence Hanna, Cleveland, who is assisting in a revival campaign at the First Church of Christ, rendered three vocal solos.

associations" and the vote of all members of the board from the district "raising fifty per cent of the crop" affected, before the board could act.

In time of crop emergencies, caused by a huge surplus, the McNary bill would permit the board to make loans to cooperatives, under the conditions named above, for the purpose of stabilizing the prices by storage, or exportation of the surplus. It would guarantee the finances necessary even to hold a huge surplus off the American market, while awaiting payment of the loans from a stabilization fund created by payment of the equalization fee. The board would fix the equalization fee on any crop affected.

Equalization Fee Crux of Bill.

The equalization fee, which is the crux of the McNary-Haugen bill, would be a sort of insurance premium paid by the farmer to guarantee a fair price for his whole crop. It would be collectable only on the portion of a crop sold in the American market but would be high enough to cover whatever losses the cooperatives suffered in selling the surplus aboard. In theory, this action would keep the American market price always higher than the world market price and so much higher, that the farmer would receive more for his whole crop, even after paying the equalization fee, than he would have received if the surplus were allowed to clog the local markets, bringing the American price level down to the world market price as in previous years.

The Curtis-Aswell bill would eliminate the equalization fee. It would provide for the board functioning in time of crop emergencies by the extension of loans to cooperatives engaged in stabilizing the price levels. In time of a national crop emergency, these loans would draw one per cent interest and at other times, interest at the rate of 4½ per cent, repayable in 20 years. In theory, it would result much the same as the McNary-Haugen bill but there would be no guarantees for the board getting back the loans.

On these days this section of the avenue will be closed to traffic.

Short Talks By Thoughtful Mothers

A Tennessee mother talks, Mrs. J. G. C——of Knoxville. "Another thing, everyone who has children should keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, for the children's cough or baby's croup. It certainly excels all other cough medicines in healing qualities and in giving quick and satisfactory results. It is made under absolutely sanitary conditions and contains no opiates—points of especial interest to mothers who want to know what they are giving the children. Our druggist also recommends it highly." Ask for it. Sold everywhere.

ELKS LAUNCH SECOND HALF DRIVE AGAINST LISBON TONIGHT

Addition of Former Collegian Expected To Strengthen Club

"Chick" Flannigan, Ex-Duquesne University Pivot Man, to Jump Center Against County Seaters; Wilde Goes to Forward.

Defeated for the first half championship of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league by a series of unfortunate circumstances, among which was a lack of field goals in the final games, the East Liverpool Elks tonight will launch their second section drive, aided materially by an unexepected God-send in the person of "Chick" Flannigan, former Duquesne University center.

Flannigan, a six-footer, who can handle the leather like a "Horse" Haggerty," and who, perhaps, might have given Bill Powell, old Central League luminary, a run in his salad days, will go after that tip-off on the high school court here against Lisbon.

Officials of the Elks' club announced today that Flannigan, employed by the Harry Altman Clothing company here, will go to the pivot post in his inaugural county league assignment, and will bring the roster up to normal strength following the departure of one or two of the second string performers.

He will take a big burden off the shoulders of Ray Wilde, one of the team's scoring stars, by permitting Wilde to get up on a forward job where he rightfully belongs and where he can employ all his court skill and artifices to the best advantage. Wilde has been the main-spring in the B. P. O. E. attack. Never a center by preference or physical qualifications, he has been handicapped to a great extent by the demands of the tip-off job, and if he can be released to skip at will about the enemy basket zone, there is little doubt that the locals scoring will be benefited.

The shifting of Wilde will give Powell's outfit three good forwards instead of two, with the clever Tom Pusey and Carl Wilson on the job also.

On the defense line will be found the reliable "Chuck" McConville and Smith Anderson, as good, if not better, than any other pair of guards in the circuit.

The First Baptist church team of the local Sunday school league and the Wellsville Epworth League five will clash at 7:15 in the preliminary engagement.

Initial games in the second half were staged last night at Lisbon and Columbiana, the Salem Mullins Body five downing the county seaters by a score of 40 to 22, and the Boosters trimming Salineville, 48 to 17.

The Salem-Lisbon engagement witnessed the return of the noted "Red" Matticks, center, to the Salem lineup. "Red," after an absence of several weeks in Canton, turned in 10 field goals and three fouls for the body builders, for a total collection of 23 points.

Sidinger, who has been playing a good game at guard for the Salem outfit, was moved up to a forward post to take the place of Jenkins, who entered Akron university at the close of the first half season. He, with Hawkins, Roessler and Siskowic gathered a total of 17 points, three less than Matticks scored alone.

Johnson and Warren led the Lisbon five, with seven points each.

Salineville had less chance with Columbiana than Lisbon did with Salem "Boots" Hawkins and his gang tossed in field goals from all angles for a grand total of 48 points, with the regular first-half lineup in action. Dowd, at forward, collected 19 points, and Thomas, at center, 17. Center Grandy and Forward Wilson were the leading performers for the visitors.

CAGE GAME ONE PRO SPORT THAT MAY 'CARRY ON'

Has Good Chance to Live Say Financial Backers.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 7.—Basketball is one new professional sport being tried on a national plan that has a chance to live. So say the men who are carrying the brunt of the financial burden in the promoting of the game. And they are the ones who should know best.

Professional basketball has thrived in the east for several years, but it is practically a new venture in the middle west. While professional teams have been playing the game in the middle west for some time it was not until a year ago, when the American Professional Basketball League was formed, that this section of the country went in for the pro sport in a serious vein.

Weeding Out Poor Cities.

When the American league was organized in 1925 nine cities took out franchises. Of the original nine, three have dropped out and two new cities have been added. Boston and Buffalo quit after the first season. Philadelphia and Baltimore took up their franchises when the present season began and the league once more started out as a nine-club circuit Detroit, however, failed to win one of its first six games The fans refused to support the team. So Detroit quit. The automobile city has asked that its franchise be reserved for a year, however, for they want to get back in the league if they find they can muster a new team next season. The league is now an eight-club circuit and will start out its second-half schedule in February with the following cities as members—Cleveland, Washington, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Ft. Wayne, Baltimore and Rochester.

Brooklyn found the going a little rocky during the present season, also, and the team that was good enough to win the championship of the first half of the 1925-26 schedule and oppose Cleveland in the world series, lost five straight games and the patronage began to dwindle. But backers of the Brooklyn team got busy and offered their franchise to the famous New York Celtics and that club withdrew from the old Metropolitan league to enter the more prosperous American circuit as the Brooklyn representatives.

The world champion Cleveland team got away to a flying start in the 1926-27 race and won the first half championship in a great battle with Washington, runner-up in both halves of the race the year before. Cleveland presented the identical lineup which won it the championship last year, which included Nat Hickey and Carl Husta, forwards; Rich Deighan, center and Honey Russell and Davie Kerr, guards.

The attendance record for the season was set at Philadelphia when 9,000 fans turned out to view the game between Philadelphia and the Celtics. The same week 6,500 spectators were out for the first of the two games between Cleveland and Washington to decide the championship of the first-half schedule and 7,000 attended the second game. Those kind of attendance make up for a lot of mediocre crowds.

From the playing end the competition could not be keener. Any team in the league is strong enough that, on its good nights, it can defeat the leading outfits of the circuit.

Joe Carr, president of the National Professional Football league as well as president of the Columbus baseball club of the American Association, is president and secretary of the American Basketball league. Clarence Alter of Ft. Wayne is vice president and I. S. Rose, Cleveland, treasurer. The executive committee is comprised of Max Rosenblum, Cleveland; George Halas, Chicago and George Marshall, Washington.

The outstanding players of the circuit, perhaps, are Nat Holman of the Celtics, regarded as the greatest basketball player in the world; Russell Saunders, 20-year-old star of Washing, who led the league in scoring the first year; Ray Kennedy of Washington; this year's scoring leader: Honey Russell, Cleveland guard, runner-up for scoring honors in 1925-26 and a contender again this year; Nat Hickey, of Cleveland, second to Kennedy in the scoring race this year, and Passon of Philadelphia, who is right among the leaders in the scoring column in in the final perior and the battle was his first year in the new league.

REDLEGS' STAR TO PLAY CENTER ON M'GRAW NINE

"Long George" to be Used in Cincinnati Outfield.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—All standing—sitting—standing records for player turnover in the major leagues were broken beyond recognition today with the announcement that the New York Giants had taken title to Ed Roush in consideration for the passing of George Kelly to the Cincinnati Reds. That one just about closed the book, unless I am grossly in error in the notion that the Yankess are not seriously considering a transfer of Babe Ruth to the Phillies and that the Senators aren't likely to send Walter Johnson to Fort Wayne for further seasoning.

They are, with the sole exception of George Sisler in St. Louis, the only ranking figures of the profession who have remained, as is, during the exigencies of this most sensational of all off seasons.

Suppose you were informed at the conclusion of the last world series that the winning manager, Rogers Hornsby, would be traded to the New York Giants before another season began. You would have laughed in great glee. Suppose it was added that Ty Cobb, Detroit institution and greatest player of the day, age, generation and time without memory, would appear during 1927 in the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics and that Tris Speaker, defensive genius and great hitter, would leave Cleveland for Washington. You would have been entitled to punch your informant full on the nose on general principles. But you'd have to go back now and apologize like a little gentleman.

However, if you still were conscious after the Cobb-Speaker shock, the next thing would be to demand bigger and better pads for cells after you were informed that Eddie Collins would leave Chicago for the Philadelphia Athletics; that Frank Frisch would leave the Giants for the St. Louis Cardinals; that Zach Wheat would leave Brooklyn for the Philadelphia Athletics and that Burleigh Grimes would leave Brooklyn for the Giants.

By that time, any sensible man would wish to leave the vicinity for the sake of his health. But then truth ever did pass all human understanding.

And now Kelly for Roush. I suppose that, even at this immature moment, forecasts are being aired to the effect that the series of deals has "made" the Giants and Athletics and that John McGraw and Connie Mack have been detected again in a lot of deep thinking. Time alone will tell that story. With temperamental lads like Hornsby, Roush and Cobb involved, it would seem to be smart business to see more and say less, pending developments.

For years, McGraw has tried intermittently to land either Hornsby or Roush. Now he has both at one and the same time and that should be eminently satisfactory, at least until the start of the season.

Roush, of course, will play center field, giving McGraw his first real star in that position since Donlin's day. Edward, however, will be thirty-four in May and that isn't so good considering the fact that McGraw had him 10 years ago and wasn't interested. Roush hit .323 in 144 games last year, while Kelly's best was .302 in 136 games. At that, George drove in one more run that Roush, 80 to 79, while Bill Terry, who will replace Kelly, accounted for 43 and hit .280, mostly as a pinch hitter. Kelly is 31 years old.

In view of Wally Pipp's excellent season in 1926 and Kelly's adaptability, the latter probably will be played in the Cincinnati outfield until such time as it is discovered that, as an outfielder, he is able to play lots of baseball around first base.

Harry Hnizder, forward of the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team, is known as a dangerous member of the team to foes of the court. Sports writers find him equally as dangerous as a typographical problem. Harry estimates his name is spelled right but 10 percent of the time. And the pronunciations of it range from Sneezer to Noser. He pronounces it by leaving the "H" silent and sounding the "i" short.

SECOND HALF CHURCH CARD

League Teams Clash for Final Chance in Series.

Complete schedule for the second half games of the Church basketball league was announced today by Harvey Price, league secretary.

CAGE GAME ONE PRO SPORT THAT MAY 'CARRY ON'

Has Good Chance to Live Say Financial Backers.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 7.—Basketball is one new professional sport being tried on a national plan that has a chance to live. So say the men who are carrying the brunt of the financial burden in the promoting of the game. And they are the ones who should know best.

Professional basketball has thrived in the east for several years, but it is practically a new venture in the middle west. While professional teams have been playing the game in the middle west for some time it was not until a year ago, when the American Professional Basketball League was formed, that this section of the country went in for the pro sport in a serious vein.

Weeding Out Poor Cities.

When the American league was organized in 1925 nine cities took out franchises. Of the original nine, three have dropped out and two new cities have been added. Boston and Buffalo quit after the first season. Philadelphia and Baltimore took up their franchises when the present season began and the league once more started out as a nine-club circuit Detroit, however, failed to win one of its first six games The fans refused to support the team. So Detroit quit. The automobile city has asked that its franchise be reserved for a year, however, for they want to get back in the league if they find they can muster a new team next season. The league is now an eight-club circuit and will start out its second-half schedule in February with the following cities as members—Cleveland, Washington, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Ft. Wayne, Baltimore and Rochester.

Brooklyn found the going a little rocky during the present season, also, and the team that was good enough to win the championship of the first half of the 1925-26 schedule and oppose Cleveland in the world series, lost five straight games and the patronage began to dwindle. But backers of the Brooklyn team got busy and offered their franchise to the famous New York Celtics and that club withdrew from the old Metropolitan league to enter the more prosperous American circuit as the Brooklyn representatives.

The world champion Cleveland team got away to a flying start in the 1926-27 race and won the first half championship in a great battle with Washington, runner-up in both halves of the race the year before. Cleveland presented the identical lineup which won it the championship last year, which included Nat Hickey and Carl Husta, forwards; Rich Deighan, center and Honey Russell and Davie Kerr, guards.

The attendance record for the season was set at Philadelphia when 9,000 fans turned out to view the game between Philadelphia and the Celtics. The same week 6,500 spectators were out for the first of the two games between Cleveland and Washington to decide the championship of the first-half schedule and 7 000 attended the second game. Those kind of attendance make up for a lot ot mediocre crowds.

From the playing end the competition could not be keener. Any team in the league is strong enough that, on its good nights, it can defeat the leading outfits of the circuit

Joe Carr, president of the National Professional Football league as well as president of the Columbus baseball club of the American Association, is president and secretary of the American Basketball league. Clarence Alter of Ft. Wayne is vice president and I. S. Rose, Cleveland, treasurer. The executive committee is comprised of Max Rosenblum, Cleveland; George Halas, Chicago and George Marshall, Washington.

The outstanding players of the circuit, perhaps, are Nat Holmac of the Celtics, regarded as the greatest basketball player in the world; Russell Saunders, 20-year-old star of Washing, who led the league in scoring the first year; Ray Kennedy of Washington; this year's scoring leader; Honey Russell, Cleveland guard, runner-up for scoring honors in 1925-26 and a contender again this year; Nat Hickey, of Cleveland, second to Kennedy in the scoring race this year, and Passon of Philadelphia, who is right among the leaders in the scoring column in in the final perior and the battle was his first year in the new league.

REDLEGS' STAR TO PLAY CENTER ON M'GRAW NINE

"Long George" to be Used in Cincinnati Outfield.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—All standing—sitting—standing records for player turnover in the major leagues were broken beyond recognition today with the announcement that the New York Giants had taken title to Ed Roush in consideration for the passing of George Kelly to the Cincinnati Reds. That one just about closed the book, unless I am grossly in error in the notion that the Yankess are not seriously considering a transfer of Babe Ruth to the Phillies and that the Senators aren't likely to send Walter Johnson to Fort Wayne for further seasoning.

They are, with the sole exception of George Sisler in St. Louis, the only ranking figures of the profession who have remained, as is, during the exigencies of this most sensational of all off seasons.

Suppose you were informed at the conclusion of the last world series that the winning manager, Rogers Hornsby, would be traded to the New York Giants before another season began. You would have laughed in great glee. Suppose it was added that Ty Cobb, Detroit institution and greatest player of the day, age, generation and time without memory, would appear during 1927 in the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics and that Tris Speaker, defensive genius and great hitter, would leave Cleveland for Washington. You would have been entitled to punch your informant full on the nose on general principles. But you'd have to go back now and apologize like a little gentleman.

However, if you still were conscious after the Cobb-Speaker shock, the next thing would be to demand bigger and better pads for cells after you were informed that Eddie Collins would leave Chicago for the Philadelphia Athletics; that Frank Frisch would leave the Giants for the St. Louis Cardinals; that Zach Wheat would leave Brooklyn for the Philadelphia Athletics and that Burleigh Grimes would leave Brooklyn for the Giants.

By that time, any sensible man would wish to leave the vicinity for the sake of his health. But then truth ever did pass all human understanding.

And now Kelly for Roush. I suppose that, even at this immature moment, forecasts are being aired to the effect that the series of deals has "made" the Giants and Athletics and that John McGraw and Connie Mack have been detected again in a lot of deep thinking. Time alone will tell that story. With temperamental lads like Hornsby, Roush and Cobb involved, it would seem to be smart business to see more and say less, pending developments.

For years, McGraw has tried intermittently to land either Hornsby or Roush. Now he has both at one and the same time and that should be eminently satisfactory, at least until the start of the season.

Roush, of course, will play center field, giving McGraw his first real star in that position since Donlin's day. Edward, however, will be thirty-four in May and that isn't so good considering the fact that McGraw had him 10 years ago and wasn't interested. Roush hit .323 in 144 games last year, while Kelly's best was .302 in 136 games. At that, George drove in one more run that Roush, 80 to 79, while Bill Terry, who will replace Kelly, accounted for 43 and hit .280, mostly as a pinch hitter. Kelly is 31 years old.

In view of Wally Pipp's excellent season in 1926 and Kelly's adaptability, the latter probably will be played in the Cincinnati outfield until such time as it is discovered that, as an outfielder, he is able to play lots of baseball around first base.

HARRY HNIZDER

Harry Hnizder, forward of the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team, is known as a dangerous member of the team to foes of the court. Sports writers find him equally as dangerous as a typographical problem. Harry estimates his name is spelled right but 10 percent of the time. And the pronunciations of it range from Sneezer to Noser. He pronounces it by leaving the "H" silent and sounding the "i" short.

SECOND HALF CHURCH CARD

League Teams Clash for Final Chance in Series.

Complete schedule for the second half games of the Church basketball league was announced today by Harvey Price, league secretary.

The Methodist Protestants were returned first half champions last week and will play the winner of the closing section for the season's title.

The schedule follows:

Modern smokers enjoy the mellow fragrance of Camel

THE smokers of this modern age appreciate the smooth, mellow fragrance of Camels — that taste and goodness that come from the choicest tobaccos grown. Camel's steadily growing popularity with modern smokers has given it the greatest preference any cigarette ever had. In quality and in fame Camel is supreme.

Meet the cigarette that has won the modern world. There is not another like it — regardless of the price. Always mellow, always mild — the smoothest smoke ever made.

VALVE-IN-HEAD Buick MOTOR CARS A 28-15

Buick owners enjoy the savings of leadership

In purchase price and daily use, Buick owners profit by the savings of leadership.

The price of a Buick is moderate, but it buys a car built to the very finest quality ideals—one that would cost you considerably more, if it were not for Buick volume.

For years, the savings provided by great volume have been devoted to the enrichment of Buick value.

And for years, Buick owners have had a more dependable motor car—one in which high quality lessens upkeep expense.

Buy a Buick! It is an investment in economy and satisfaction.

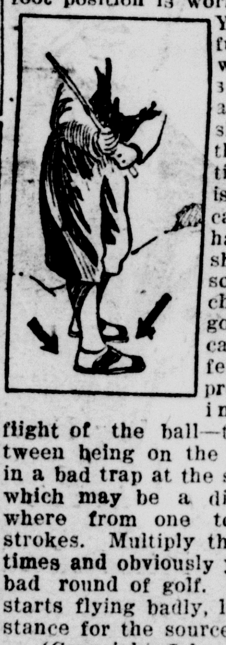
INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON

Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.



In executing iron shots the golfer should keep one rule in mind: A bad foot position is worse than a bad lie. Yet golfers will fuss and fume when the ball is slightly cupped and give but slight thought to the stance position when the lie is good. The feet can certainly play havoc with iron shots for the reason that slight changes from a good foot position can produce effects all out of proportion, seemingly, in the flight of the ball—the difference between being on the green and being in a bad trap at the side of the green, which may be a difference of anywhere from one to three or four strokes. Multiply this two or three times and obviously you've got a very bad round of golf. When the ball starts flying badly, look first to your stance for the source of trouble.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

CLARK GRIFFITH has ready to present to baseball fans the "sweetest" outfield in the business.

The acquisition of Speaker gives the Senators the most versatile and formidable outer garden in the game, all angles of play considered.

Will the strength and versatility added to it by Speaker's arrival, give the entire team the punch necessary to win the pennant? The matter is worthy of discussion.

"Goose" Goslin and Sam Rice form the trio, with Speaker of course.

Last year Goslin hit .354, Rice .337 and Speaker .304.

These figures alone represent an attacking power nearly equal to that of any stellar outfield.

But consider some other angles.

Goslin, home run star of the team, socked out 17 circuit clouts. But he also laid down 18 sacrifices.

Rice, too, turned in 18 sacrifices and in addition stole 25 bases, ranking second only to Johnny Mostil of the White Sox.

Speaker, while having an off year at bat—for him—as far as the actual averages were concerned, stole 28 bases when he did get on and crashed out 52 two-base hits, George Burns alone forging ahead of him.

Goslin and Rice, to go further, led the league in assists registered by outfielders, with 25 each. Speaker ranked second among the outfielders in fielding, with an average of .981.

The Tiger outfield of Manush, Heilmann. Fothergill, led this trio in actual hitting power, but lacked the versatility in attack and the fielding.

Babe Ruth's mighty bludgeon, of course, gave the Yankees tremendous power, but did not boost the fielding.

Speaker Adds to "Brains."

In addition to his actual playing strength Speaker takes to Washington the same knowledge of players that helped make him a capable leader in Cleveland. And relieved of the responsibilities of manager he can give his entire energy to playing his position. Goslin and Rice will be on their toes to match him.

Washington led the league in team batting last year. The added presence of Speaker's bat may well be expected to increase this strength—give the team a greater edge. Harris' team ranked fifth in fielding and the wily Texan's presence should tighten this angle of the defense.

Less drastic changes than the addition of a player of Speaker's caliber have brought pennants to "almost" teams.

$100,000 Player

Fred Shulte, above, star outfielder of the Milwaukee club, American Association, who was purchased by the St. Louis Browns for a reported sum of $100.000. has signed with the Browns. It was reported he would not sign unless he got a slice of the purchase money. Shulte is 22, batted .347. scored 142 runs and drove in 105.

Fight Results

AT DETROIT:—Bobby Booth, of Toronto, won decision over Honey Ross, of Detroit, ten rounds.

Jackie Johnston, of Toronto, won decision over Joe Scully, of Detroit, ten rounds.

CRAWFORD KEEPS TOURNEY LEAD

Brace Crawford turned in another victory in the Academy three cushion tourney and retains his lead, Cleo Farrar falling victim to his marksmanship by a score of 27 to 17.

Two matches are billed tonight: Recht and White and Walker and Webber.

HERBERT DEFEATS WATSON, 75-46

Lester Herbert was returned a winner over Tom Watson by a decisive margin in last night's pocket billiard match at the American. The score was 75 to 46.

Tonight's matches: McDowel vs. Harry Daher; Frank Sainer vs. Charles Price.

Buick owners enjoy the savings of leadership

In purchase price and daily use, Buick owners profit by the savings of leadership.

The price of a Buick is moderate, but it buys a car built to the very finest quality ideals — one that would cost you considerably more, if it were not for Buick volume.

For years, the savings provided by great volume have been devoted to the enrichment of Buick value.

And for years, Buick owners have had a more dependable motor car—one in which high quality lessens upkeep expense.

Buy a Buick! It is an investment in economy and satisfaction.

GLENMOORS LOSE AT COLUMBIANA

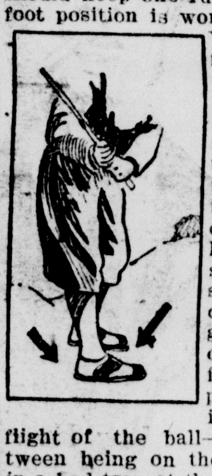
The Glenmoor A. C., was defeated by the Columbiana Franklin Furnitures, 41 to 32, last night at Columbiana.

The game was a preliminary to the county amateur league tilt between Columbiana Boosters and Salineville.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON

Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.



In executing iron shots the golfer should keep one rule in mind: A bad foot position is worse than a bad lie. Yet golfers will fuss and fume when the ball is slightly cupped and give but slight thought to the stance position when the lie is good. The feet can certainly play havoc with iron shots for the reason that slight changes from a good foot position can produce effects all out of proportion, seemingly, in the flight of the ball—the difference between being on the green and being in a bad trap at the side of the green, which may be a difference of anywhere from one to three or four strokes. Multiply this two or three times and obviously you've got a very bad round of golf. When the ball starts flying badly, look first to your stance for the source of trouble.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

CLARK GRIFFITH has ready to present to baseball fans the "sweetest" outfield in the business.

The acquisition of Speaker gives the Senators the most versatile and formidable outer garden in the game, all angles of play considered.

Will the strength and versatility added to it by Speaker's arrival, give the entire team the punch necessary to win the pennant? The matter is worthy of discussion.

"Goose" Goslin and Sam Rice form the trio, with Speaker of course.

Last year Goslin hit .354, Rice .337 and Speaker .304.

These figures alone represent an attacking power nearly equal to that of any stellar outfield.

But consider some other angles.

Goslin, home run star of the team, socked out 17 circuit clouts. But he also laid down 18 sacrifices.

Rice, too, turned in 18 sacrifices and in addition stole 25 bases, ranking second only to Johnny Mostil of the White Sox.

Speaker, while having an off year at bat—for him—as far as the actual averages were concerned, stole 28 bases when he did get on and crashed out 52 two-base hits, George Burns alone forging ahead of him.

Goslin and Rice, to go further, led the league in assists registered by outfielders, with 25 each. Speaker ranked second among the outfielders in fielding, with an average of .981.

The Tiger outfield of Manush, Heilmann, Fothergill, led this trio in actual hitting power, but lacked the versatility in attack and the fielding.

Babe Ruth's mighty bludgeon, of course, gave the Yankees tremendous power, but did not boost the fielding.

Speaker Adds to "Brains."

In addition to his actual playing strength Speaker takes to Washington the same knowledge of players that helped make him a capable leader in Cleveland. And relieved of the responsibilities of manager he can give his entire energy to playing his position. Goslin and Rice will be on their toes to match him.

Washington led the league in team batting last year. The added presence of Speaker's bat may well be expected to increase this strength—give the team a greater edge. Harris' team ranked fifth in fielding and the wily Texan's presence should tighten this angle of the defense.

Less drastic changes than the addition of a player of Speaker's caliber have brought pennants to "almost" teams.

$100,000 Player

Fred Shulte, above, star outfielder of the Milwaukee club, American Association, who was purchased by the St. Louis Browns for a reported sum of $100.000. has signed with the Browns. It was reported he would not sign unless he got a slice of the purchase money. Shulte is 22, batted .347. scored 142 runs and drove in 105.

Fight Results

AT DETROIT:—Bobby Booth, of Toronto, won decision over Honey Ross, of Detroit, ten rounds.

Jackie Johnston, of Toronto, won decision over Joe Scully, of Detroit, ten rounds.

CRAWFORD KEEPS TOURNEY LEAD

Brace Crawford turned in another victory in the Academy three cushion tourney and retains his lead, Cleo Farrar falling victim to his marksmanship by a score of 27 to 17.

Two matches are billed tonight: Recht and White and Walker and Webber.

HERBERT DEFEATS WATSON, 75-46

Lester Herbert was returned a winner over Tom Watson by a decisive margin in last night's pocket billiard match at the American. The score was 75 to 46.

Tonight's matches: McDowel vs. Harry Daher; Frank Sainer vs. Charles Price.

Singer Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. T. L. Singer, 72 years old, were held this afternoon in the home of her son, D. L. Singer, of First avenue, in charge of Rev. W. C. Zano, of the International Bible Students' association, Warren. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

For Bladder Relief Is Nature's Danger Signal. Columbus Minister's Wife Relates Experience.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell 824 No. Park St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "My wife was troubled seriously with bladder irritation until we used lithiated buchu (Keller Formula.) She would have to get up 6 to 8 times each night. Will gladly answer any letter."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the bladder as epsom salts on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter and decreases excessive acidity, thereby relieving irritation. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

CHURCH CIRCLES MEET TONIGHT

Circle No. 2, of the Ladies' Aid society of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will meet this evening with Mrs. George C. Westlake in her home, Pennsylvania avenue. Social hour will follow the business session.

Members of Circle No. 4, will meet with Mrs. Lee Mankin at her home in Oakland avenue. Regular program will be carried out.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Rev. John Douglass spoke last night at the evangelistic services in the Oakland Free Methodist church. Rev. L. S. Hoover of Tionesta, Pa., will preach at the services Saturday night.

An American girl wearing tassels from her hat, her ears, the revers on her coat and from her shoes, attracted much attention in England recently.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles and for the very good reason that the cause is inside—bad circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathew's Original Cut Rate, who will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied.

VOL. XLVII. NO. 81. EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1927.

The Little White Hag

BY FRANCIS BEEDING

© BY LITTLE, BROWN and CO. RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SYNOPSIS.

Quexter, narrator of the tale, is an American employed by a bank in Paris. He starts for Geneva to visit the headquarters of the League of Nations, stopping at Dijon between trains. He shares his room with another American who says he is a schoolmaster studying abroad. During the night the "schoolmaster" disappears.

Quexter arrives at Geneva finding that the League is discussing the illicit drug traffic. At the municipal casino he sees a stout, flashily dressed Italian whom he had noticed at Dijon and overhears a conversation, with mention of a mysterious "Center." Quexter picks up a bunch of flowers thrown by a dancing girl and finds a handkerchief among the steams. He uses it to bind up a cut finger and later sends it to the laundry.

Next day the stout Italian—Baldassare Marce—calls on him and demands the handkerchief. Quexter will give him no satisfaction and that afternoon he is kidnapped, made prisoned in a house outside the city and questioned by a Japanese, who is the "Center" referred to. He escapes from the house only to fall into a well. He finds an outlet, swims through it and comes to a door which leads into a dungeon in which he finds the man who shared his room in Dijon a prisoner. They escape and appeal to the police for protection. The "schoolmaster" turns out to be a detective engaged in unravelling the secrets of the illicit drug traffic for the American Government, Clavpole by name.

Claypole asks Quexter to go to the laundry and get the handkerchief. He does so and mails it to Claypole. He is captured by the "Center's" hirelings and taken to a sanitarium in the Swiss mountains where he is threatened with torture unless he tels what he has done with the handkerchief. Chief among his captors is a girl, Patience Smith, whom he has seen before with Marce. He is saved by Marce's entrance with the handkerchief taken from the body of Claypole who committed suicide by throwing himself into the Rhone river. He leaves a note for Quexter saying that he can't face the fate which has overtaken other men engaged in the same work and that he has decided to end it all.

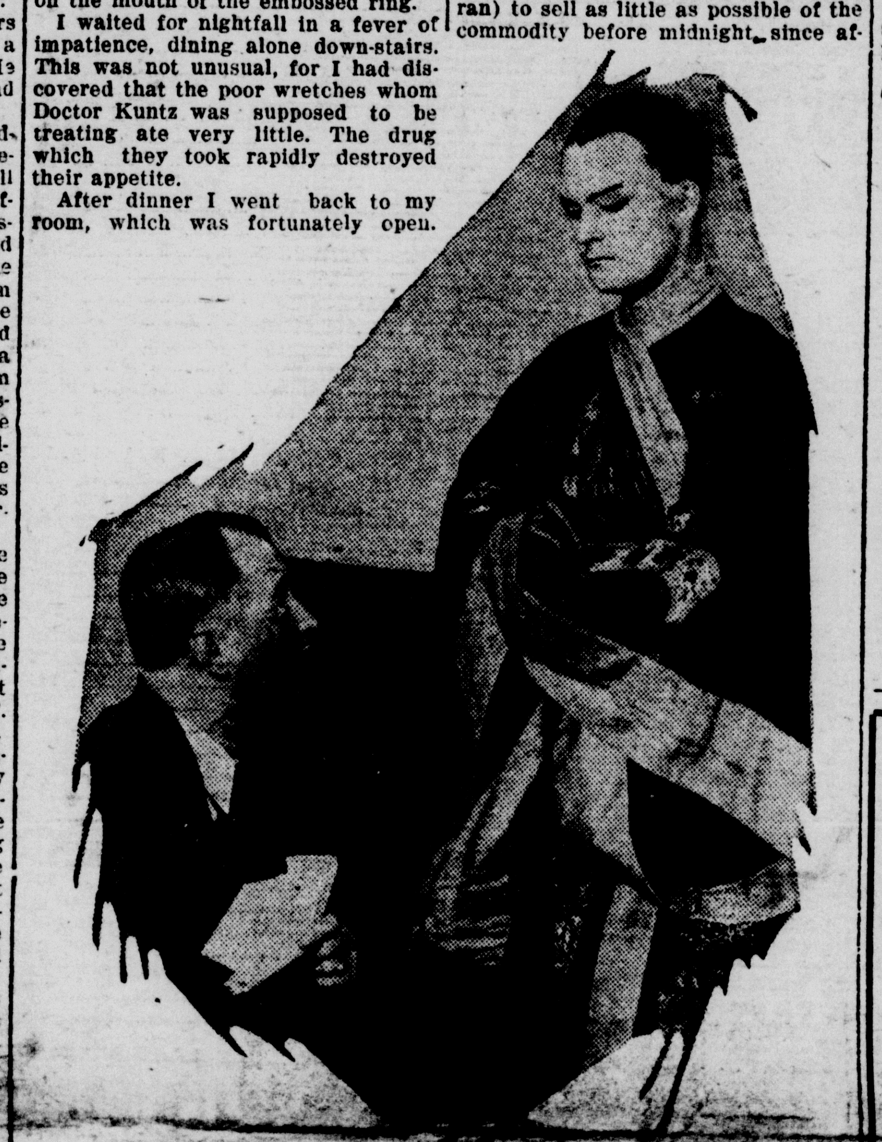
Quexter is held prisoner in the sanitarium which is filled with patients who are being treated for drug indulgence. They drive him nearly mad. After two days Patience invites him to lunch and walk with her in the mountains. When he returns to his room he accidentally discovers a way of escape from his room by a secret panel opened by pressing a certain section of the brass holdback of the window curtains. He determines to wait until night and then try to escape.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX.

I accordingly crept back, removing my shoes so as to make no noise, and regained my bedroom in safety. With little difficulty I succeeded in opening and shutting the panel several times. It was moved by a simple pressure on the mouth of the embossed ring.

I waited for nightfall in a fever of impatience, dining alone down-stairs. This was not unusual, for I had discovered that the poor wretches whom Doctor Kuntz was supposed to be treating ate very little. The drug which they took rapidly destroyed their appetite.

After dinner I went back to my room, which was fortunately open.



"Good evening, Mr. Quexter."

Then, waiting until nearly midnight, by which time I judged that every one would be asleep. I pressed the mouth of the embossed figure and moved through the panel and down the passage till I came to the chimney. There I decided, since it was quite narrow, to wedge my back and feet against the side and endeavor to climb upwards to where I could see one single star gleaming faintly at the top. Putting my hand out, however, I encountered in the darkness an iron ring let into the side of the chimney, and I soon found that there were a number of these rings placed at equal distance all the way up, enabling me to mount fairly easily. Losing no time, I climbed upwards, and, after some ten minutes or so, my head emerged over the top of the chimney. I was now on the roof.

For a moment I lay cautiously beside the chimney, looking and listening to ascertain whether my arrival had been perceived. Then I started to explore, but it did not take me long to discover that my position was perfectly hopeless. I found I was on only a small stretch of roof, flat and surrounded by a stone balustrade. At the four corners of the balustrade strong iron poles had been placed which supported a wire net of a kind similar to that used for the fencing down below. It was impossible to climb the net and I could find no way of getting through. I looked through the netting on one side, and saw that the house was built around a small airshaft, as is the fashion of some Continental houses. The roof on which I was standing formed one of the four. The other three were unnetted, but that did not help me, as I could not get to them. Finally, I was reluctantly compelled to abandon my efforts and to descend the chimney once more.

I climbed down with despair in my heart. When, however, I had got as far as the passage from which I had started to climb, it struck me that I might possibly be able to descend the chimney and get through into the room below. Sure enough, I found that the iron rings continued all the way down, and I accordingly descended cautiously, displacing a good deal of soot on the way, and arriving eventually at the bottom looking like a chimney sweep.

I found myself, as I had imagined, upon a broad stone hearth, almost like an English fireplace. Before me was a small stone room containing an oak desk, a swivel chair, and two filing cabinets each side of the desk. Hanging on the walls was an old piece of tapestry, French sixteenth-century work, repicting Aeneas carrying Anchises from burning Troy.

I approached the desk. It was covered with papers, most of them written in Japanese or Chinese. One or two, however, were in French. I picked one up and read it.

It was apparently a kind of report, unsigned, and it was amazingly frank. It stated that in the "Republic of Montmatre" thirty-one kilograms of cocaine had been successfully distributed among eighty-three sellers of the drug, twenty-nine barkeepers, fifteen prostitutes, eight professional dancers, sixteen commissionaries, twelve cloakroom attendants, and three members of dance orchestras. The last sentence of the report was especially interesting.

"I have warned all purveyors (it ran) to sell as little as possible of the commodity before midnight, since after that hour, as His Excellencey is aware, the price can be considerably increased."

I put down the document. Here was evidence, if more were needed, of the fatal ease with which the drug was being distributed.

I examined the filing cabinets, but they were both locked. The door, however, on the right-hand side of the desk was open, and there I found a number of other papers. They were all reports from various parts of the world.

At the bottom of the drawer was a small bunch of keys. I picked them up and found that they fitted one of the filing cabinets, which I opened. Here, classified by name, nationality and profession, I found lists of hundreds of persons throughout the world engaged in the retail sale of illicit drugs. They were of all kinds and all professions, but were mostly of the barkeeping and demi-mondaine class. One section interested me particularly. It was devoted entirely to the United States and contained an interesting comparison of the sale of drugs before and after the introduction of prohibition. "In the present state of America," the report stated, "there is every reason to hope that the prices so far realized will remain constant at any rate for the next few years."

I must have spent well over an hour in that room, absorbed in what I read and quite obvious of the risk I was running. I had soon exhausted one filing cabinet, and I turned to the other, but failed to open it. Then I saw something that had previously escaped my attention, a small iron safe let into the wall. I tried it with my bunch of keqs. The third one fitted, and the door swung open.

There were only two things inside the safe. One was an envelope and the other a small crumpled square cambric which I recognized immediately. I was about to pick it up when I felt a touch on my shoulder.

I turned round. There, before me, stood the Center himself. He was in full Japanese costume, black silk, with white shoes on his feet.

"Good evening, Mr. Quexter," he said. "How did you find way to my private office?"

To Check Signs Of Old Age When Past 40

Most men who have reached or passed the prime of life know only too well the tell-tale signs of advancing years—less "pep", less energy, less nerve force and a multitude of aches and pains which proclaim the weakening of internal organs and body power. Fully 65 percent of those past 40 are said to be victims of overworked, sluggish kidneys, torpid liver, bladder complaints and prostate gland troubles.

But, through recent discoveries, the marvelous invigorating restorative power of Radium, Nature's most precious element, is brought to the aid of the weak, ailing and afflicted in simple, tasteless tablet form called ARIUM. This produces a vitalizing, strengthening internal exercise, helping to quickly renew proper, normal, youthful action.

Physicians and other users of ARIUM report amazing results. Dr. C. E. Morris of New York declares: "ARIUM puts back force and vigor into the veins and strengthens the entire system to fight off disease and signs of old age." "Memory more alert, bowels 100% better, pains all gone and I have lots of 'pep'—", writes Mr. H. G. of New Orleans, La. "My vitality, nerves, bowels, stomach and appetite decidedly improved", says Mr. J. B. McK. of Granite City, Ill. "I am taking ARIUM for indigestion, gas, constipation and rheumatic ailments: it is fine", says Mr. J. W. H. of Philadelphia. "I feel like a three-year-old since taking ARIUM", says Mr. A. M. H. of Lancaster, Pa.

If you suffer from lame back, dizziness, pains in the head, sour stomach, billious attacks, frequent getting up nights, rheumatic twinges and aches, embarrassing nervous debility and weakness or other middle age ailments, you owe it to yourself to start taking ARIUM at once. Countless alarming symptoms often disappear immediately. You should see and feel a truly startling improvement in yourself each day

NOTE: The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM guarantees successful and satisfactory results in every case from its progressive use or money refunded, and also that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from any good druggist such as

SYNOPSIS.

Quexter, narrator of the tale, is an American employed by a bank in Paris. He starts for Geneva to visit the headquarters of the League of Nations, stopping at Dijon between trains. He shares his room with another American who says he is a schoolmaster studying abroad. During the night the "schoolmaster" disappears.

Quexter arrives at Geneva finding that the League is discussing the illicit drug traffic. At the municipal casino he sees a stout, flashily dressed Italian whom he had noticed at Dijon and overhears a conversation, with mention of a mysterious "Center." Quexter picks up a bunch of flowers thrown by a dancing girl and finds a handkerchief among the steams. He uses it to bind up a cut finger and later sends it to the laundry.

Next day the stout Italian—Baldassare Marce—calls on him and demands the handkerchief. Quexter will give him no satisfaction and that afternoon he is kidnapped, made prisoned in a house outside the city and questioned by a Japanese, who is the "Center" referred to. He escapes from the house only to fall into a well. He finds an outlet, swims through it and comes to a door which leads into a dungeon in which he finds the man who shared his room in Dijon a prisoner. They escape and appeal to the police for protection. The "schoolmaster" turns out to be a detective interested in unravelling the secrets of the illicit drug traffic for the American government, Claypole by name.

Claypole asks Quexter to go to the laundry and get the handkerchief. He does so and mails it to Claypole. He is captured by the "Center's" hirelings and taken to a sanitarium in the Swiss mountains where he is threatened with torture unless he tels what he has done with the handkerchief. Chief among his captors is a girl, Patience Smith, whom he has seen before with Marce. He is saved by Marce's entrance with the handkerchief taken from the body of Claypole who committed suicide by throwing himself into the Rhone river. He leaves a note for Quexter saying that he can't face the fate which has overtaken other men engaged in the same work and that he has decided to end it all.

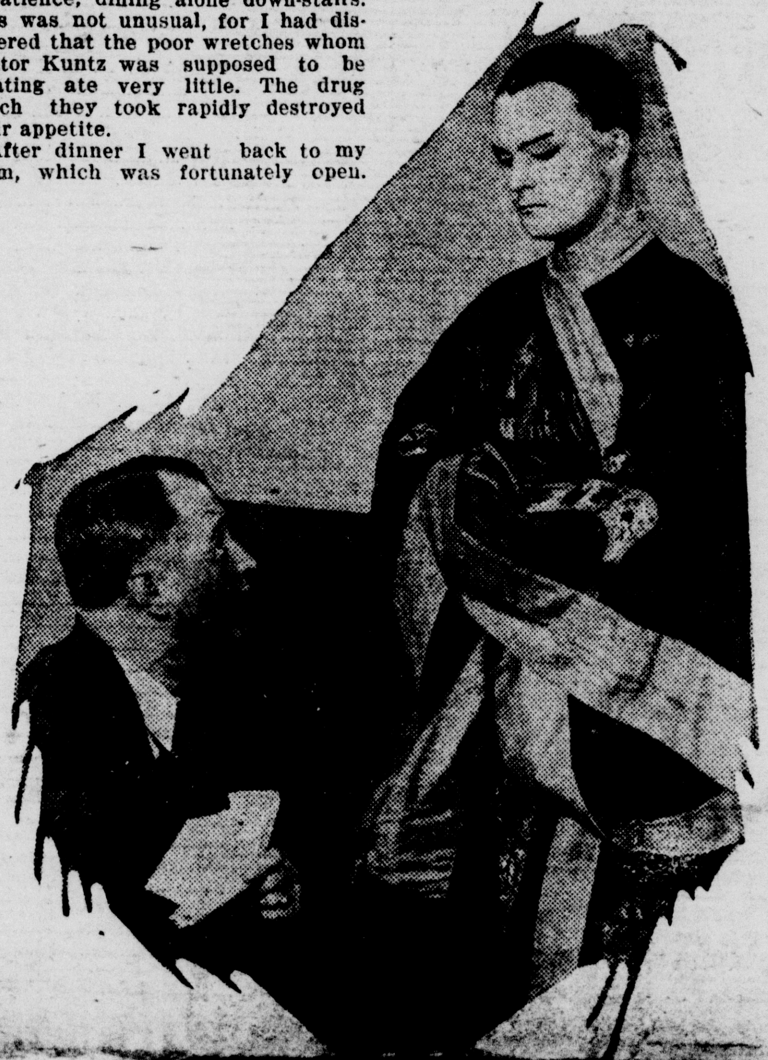
Quexter is held prisoner in the sanitarium which is filled with patients who are being treated for drug indulgence. They drive him nearly mad. After two days Patience invites him to lunch and walk with her in the mountains. When he returns to his room he accidentally discovers a way of escape from his room by a secret panel opened by pressing a certain section of the brass holdback of the window curtains. He determines to wait until night and then try to escape.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX.

I accordingly crept back, removing my shoes so as to make no noise, and regained my bedroom in safety. With little difficulty I succeeded in opening and shutting the panel several times. It was moved by a simple pressure on the mouth of the embossed ring.

I waited for nightfall in a fever of impatience, dining alone down-stairs. This was not unusual, for I had discovered that the poor wretches whom Doctor Kuntz was supposed to be treating ate very little. The drug which they took rapidly destroyed their appetite.

After dinner I went back to my room, which was fortunately open.



"Good evening, Mr. Quexter."

Then, waiting until nearly midnight, by which time I judged that every one would be asleep. I pressed the mouth of the embossed figure and moved through the panel and down the passage till I came to the chimney. There I decided, since it was quite narrow, to wedge my back and feet against the side and endeavor to climb upwards to where I could see one single star gleaming faintly at the top. Putting my hand out, however, I encountered in the darkness an iron ring let into the side of the chimney, and I soon found that there were a number of these rings placed at equal distance all the way up, enabling me to mount fairly easily. Losing no time, I climbed upwards, and, after some ten minutes or so, my head emerged over the top of the chimney. I was now on the roof.

For a moment I lay cautiously beside the chimney, looking and listening to ascertain whether my arrival had been perceived. Then I started to explore, but it did not take me long to discover that my position was perfectly hopeless. I found I was on only a small stretch of roof, flat and surrounded by a stone balustrade. At the four corners of the balustrade strong iron poles had been placed which supported a wire net of a kind similar to that used for the fencing down below. It was impossible to climb the net and I could find no way of getting through. I looked through the netting on one side, and saw that the house was built around a small airshaft, as is the fashion of some Continental houses. The roof on which I was standing formed one of the four. The other three were unnetted, but that did not help me, as I could not get to them. Finally, I was reluctantly compelled to abandon my efforts and to descend the chimney once more.

I climbed down with despair in my heart. When, however, I had got as far as the passage from which I had started to climb, it struck me that I might possibly be able to descend the chimney and get through into the room below. Sure enough, I found that the iron rings continued all the way down, and I accordingly descended cautiously, displacing a good deal of soot on the way, and arriving eventually at the bottom looking like a chimney sweep.

LEGISLATURE TO MEET MARCH 16

Long session of the legislature will begin on Wednesday, March 16, at Charleston. Bills introduced during the short session which closed two weeks ago will be considered.

Large number of important measures will come before the lawmakers of the state including one providing for a change in the state code. The session is expected to take action on the proposal passed by the house authorizing a bond issue for road improvements.

EVANGELIST IS HOLDING MEETS

Rev. Edward C. Oney of Ashland, Ky.; spoke to another large audience last night at the revival services in the Church of the Nazarene where he is conducting a series of meetings, assisted by the pastor, Rev. F. F. Freese.

Music is being furnished by the male quartet of the church and other soloists. Meetings begin every night at 7:30.

SCHOOL HEADS HOLD MEETING

A. D. Osborne, superintendent of the Grant district schools, attended the meeting yesterday of county superintendents in the office of County Superintendent H. O. Miller at New Cumberland.

Plans were discussed for the annual spelling contest which will be held in connection with an essay contest. Arrangements were not completed for the annual county field meet.

Odd Fellows to Meet.

Members of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F. will meet Friday night in the Aaron building. Routine business will be transacted. Delegation from the local lodge plans to attend the meeting tonight in East Liverpool which will be addressed by a high state lodge officer.

Many Attend Dance.

Large number of local young people attended the dance last night at Rock Springs park under the auspices of the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles Pottery company. Music was furnished by Ray Sapiro's entertainers.

Prayer Services Here.

Prayer services were held last night in the local churches with the respective pastors in charge of the devotionals.

Thousands freed from racking pain

HANDS TERRIBLY SWOLLEN FROM RHEUMATISM

Gets relief overnight from simple home treatment

After having suffered with rheumatism for years, and tried all kinds of remedies in vain, a Washington, D. C., woman has at last found a way to get quick, sure relief.

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for years," she writes. "At times my hands are terribly swollen. Sloan's Liniment always gives me relief in a very short time. I have tried other liniments, but nothing equals Sloan's."

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to its stimulating effect upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh, new blood—clears out rheumatism germs—kills pain.

So pleasant, easy and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just pat it on gently and you will get immediate results. Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

COSTS BUT 50c TO HEAL SKIN WITH POSLAM

Poslam is so concentrated and acts so directly that a very little of it goes a long way. Its medication is so gentle that it cannot irritate the most delicate or inflamed skin. Eczema, rashes, scalp troubles, pimples—they simply cannot resist Poslam. At all druggists, 50c.

To Retain Your Youthful Beauty We recommend the daily use of

POSLAM SOAP

Which contains 7% of Poslam Ointment

DELINQUENT TAX CERTIFICATION

SHIPBUILDING IN U. S. YARDS ON UP GRADE

Commerce Figures Show First Increase in Three Years.

TONNAGE BOOST

Great Britain and Ireland Hold First Place.

WASHINGTON — Shipbuilding, for the first time since 1924, apparently is on the up-grade, according to the Commerce Department.

For the first time in three years an increase in world shipbuilding was shown by returns from all maritime countries for the quarter ending December 31.

On that date gross tonnage of vessels under construction totaled 1,933,027 tons, an increase of more than 83,000 tons as compared with the end of the preceding quarter.

"No other quarter since that ending June 30, 1924, has shown a gain over the preceding period, but in comparison with the 1924 figure the present total marks a decline of more than 500,000 tons," the statement said.

Several changes occurred in the ranking of the various countries during the quarter under survey. Although the total of Great Britain and Ireland showed a small decline, these countries now hold first place by a margin of over a half million tons.

Italy ranked next, also showing a decline from its figure of September.

Italy's hold on second place is threatened by Germany which scored a sharp advance during the quarter. At the end of September Germany was building about 150,000 tons less than Italy. Germany then stood in fifth place, but by nearly doubling her September figure, is now in third place only 28,000 tons behind Italy.

The United States which ranked sixth in September, moved up to fourth place, while the Netherlands with a former ranking of third dropped fifth.

The returns show a sharp contrast between Great Britain and Ireland and other maritime countries in the matter of new work begun during the last quarter and work being pushed towad completion in the same period. While only 67,853 gross tons of steamers and motorships were launched in Britain and Ireland, construction was started on 151,074 tons.

With the other maritime countries combined, however, new work was considerably less than the total represented by launchings, vessels for which keels were laid representing 260,422 tons, as against 329,295 tons of shipping launched.

New work represented 411,496 tons with 397,148 tons launched in the world in the last quarter.

The commerce department statement showed that building of tanker vessels, which for sometime has been on the decline, increased fifty per cent from the September to December quarters. Of this gain nearly 50,000 tons represented the increase in Great Britain and Ireland.

Construction of motor ships showed a gain of 75,000 tons, although Great Britain, Ireland, and Italy, which have been the leaders in this class of building, reported decreases.

Cherbourg Tourist Records Shattered During Past Year

CHERBOURG. — Statistical proof that the year 1926 saw more American tourists in France than ever before is furnished by port authorities.

A total of 200,867 passengers embarked on and disembarked from Transatlantic liners at this port last year. They paid landing tax totaling six and a half million francs, one million francs more than in 1925 and almost twice as much as was paid in 1924.

All Transatlantic passengers passing through Cherbourg are carried on American, English and German ships. Figures for Le Havre, terminous of all French vessels and some English ships, are not yet available.

FORGOT HER STOMACH!

How foolish to let your stomach dictate your diet. It is possible you could eat lots of things you now deny yourself—have you ever taken a Stuart tablet? Harmless, but the effect is there—distress from indigestion often ended in two minutes.

SHIPBUILDING IN U. S. YARDS ON UP GRADE

Commerce Figures Show First Increase in Three Years.

TONNAGE BOOST

Great Britain and Ireland Hold First Place.

WASHINGTON — Shipbuilding, for the first time since 1924, apparently is on the up-grade, according to the Commerce Department.

For the first time in three years an increase in world shipbuilding was shown by returns from all maritime countries for the quarter ending December 31.

On that date gross tonnage of vessels under construction totaled 1,933,027 tons, an increase of more than 83,000 tons as compared with the end of the preceding quarter.

"No other quarter since that ending June 30, 1924, has shown a gain over the preceding period, but in comparison with the 1924 figure the present total marks a decline of more than 500,000 tons," the statement said.

Several changes occurred in the ranking of the various countries during the quarter under survey. Although the total of Great Britain and Ireland showed a small decline, these countries now hold first place by a margin of over a half million tons.

Italy ranked next, also showing a decline from its figure of September.

Italy's hold on second place is threatened by Germany which scored a sharp advance during the quarter. At the end of September Germany was building about 150,000 tons less than Italy. Germany then stood in fifth place, but by nearly doubling her September figure, is now in third place only 28,000 tons behind Italy.

The United States which ranked sixth in September, moved up to fourth place, while the Netherlands with a former ranking of third dropped fifth.

The returns show a sharp contrast between Great Britain and Ireland and other maritime countries in the matter of new work begun during the last quarter and work being pushed towad completion in the same period. While only 67,853 gross tons of steamers and motorships were launched in Britain and Ireland, construction was started on 151,074 tons.

With the other maritime countries combined, however, new work was considerably less than the total represent- by launchings, vessels for which keels were laid representing 260,422 tons, as against 329,295 tons of shipping launched.

New work represented 411,496 tons with 397,148 tons launched in the world in the last quarter.

The commerce department statement showed that building of tanker vessels, which for sometime has been on the decline, increased fifty per cent from the September to December quarters. Of this gain nearly 50,000 tons represented the increase in Great Britain and Ireland.

Construction of motor ships showed a gain of 75,000 tons, although Great Britain, Ireland, and Italy, which have been the leaders in this class of building, reported decreases.

Cherbourg Tourist Records Shattered During Past Year

CHERBOURG. — Statistical proof that the year 1926 saw more American tourists in France than ever before is furnished by port authorities.

A total of 200,867 passengers embarked on and disembarked from Transatlantic liners at this port last year. They paid landing tax totaling six and a half million francs, one million francs more than in 1925 and almost twice as much as was paid in 1924.

All Transatlantic passengers passing through Cherbourg are carried on American, English and German ships. Figures for Le Havre, terminous of all French vessels and some English ships, are not yet available.

FORGOT HER STOMACH!

How foolish to let your stomach dictate your diet. It is possible you could eat lots of things you now deny yourself—have you ever taken a Stuart tablet? Harmless, but the effect is there—distress from indigestion often ended in two minutes.

Do try Stuart's tablets! See how serene they make the stomach; how even one will sweeten the whole system and insure the breath. A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

USES COFFIN AS BED; BUT BODY IS CREMATED

Recluse's Will Leaves Acreage to City in Illinois.

71 YEARS OLD

Invented Watch Device That Gave Him Income.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Instead of cremating the body of Fred F. Francis, eccentric recluse who died recently, upon a pile of cordwood in his backyard, as specified in his will, authorities shipped his remains to a crematory in Davenport, Iowa. The recluse's will provided that a coffin constructed by himself be used for transporting the body. Francis, who dwelt in a unique house which he constructed himself three miles northeast of this city, often slept in the coffin and was well satisfied with it.

Francis will provided that, if its provisions were complied with his farm of 50 acres and his personal property would be bequeathed to the city of Kewanee as a perpetual public park, to be named after the donor.

In the event that the will was not carried out, the property was to be sold at auction and the proceeds turned over to charity.

Francis, who was 71 at the time of his death, was highly educated and a graduate of the University of Illinois, class of 1878. For 13 years after his graduation he was employed by a watch company at Elgin and invented a device which gave him a handsome income in royalties for many years. Although he never explained his hermit-like existence it was believed by neighbors that blighted romance in his youth had sent him into solitude.

GILDA GRAY IN NEW FILM

Famous Dancer Coming to Ceramic in "Cabaret."

"Give them their money's worth—and more," is the slogan of Gilda Gray, the dancer, who is coming to the Ceramic in "Cabaret."

"If you've seen me on the stage or in the picture "Aloma of the South Seas.' you know my slogan." she said.

Living up to that slogan brought $1,000,000 in at the box office of picture houses during my personal appearance tour of 1925 and it enabled me to go right back and get over $1,000,000 in the same towns in 1926. And it made "Aloma" probably the most successful first picture made by any motion picture star—though modesty forbids me to quote the figures.

"Now I'm hard at work on "Cabaret," my second Paramount picture. And what I didn't know before, "Aloma" taught me.

"And I know cabarets! I was brought up in them. I won my first big success in them. I konw the jazz and color and glamor and thrills and romance and heartaches — and what goes on behind the scenes—better, probably, and more intimately than anybody else in the world. That's what I'm putting into "Cabaret." And that's why "Cabaret" is going to be a great big, dazzling, gripping real S. R. O. picture. We've finished enough of it for me absolutely to guarantee that.

"Owen Davis, the famous playwright wrote the story. Tom Moore, Chester Conklin, and Mona Palma are in the supporting cast."

To protect the national button industry of France, the manufacturers' union has demanded that the government take steps so that they may recover the time lost in holidays by adding an hour to the regular working day.

Their automobile dashing off the Marine Drive near Belfast, Ireland and falling 200 feet to the sea, two youths were thrown out halfway down the mountain side and escaped with only comparatively minor injudies.

She didn't know what was wrong!

No one had ever told her the reason people avoided her was simply her catarrhal breath. People don't speak of that. They just keep away.

Yet, if she had only known Hall's Catarrh Medicine she might have been saved years of loneliness. For Hall's brings relief—not only from the unpleasant effects of catarrh, but from catarrhal headaches—the throbbing, stuffed-up nasal and throat passages—catarrhal deafness.

If you are a sufferer, get Hall's Catarrh Medicine today. Then note the improvement. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

USES COFFIN AS BED; BUT BODY IS CREMATED

Recluse's Will Leaves Acreage to City in Illinois.

71 YEARS OLD

Invented Watch Device That Gave Him Income.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Instead of cremating the body of Fred F. Francis, eccentric recluse who died recently, upon a pile of cordwood in his backyard, as specified in his will, authorities shipped his remains to a crematory in Davenport, Iowa. The recluse's will provided that a coffin constructed by himself be used for transporting the body. Francis, who dwelt in a unique house which he constructed himself three miles northeast of this city, often slept in the coffin and was well satisfied with it.

Francis will provided that, if its provisions were complied with his farm of 50 acres and his personal property would be bequeathed to the city of Kewanee as a perpetual public park, to be named after the donor.

In the event that the will was not carried out, the property was to be sold at auction and the proceeds turned over to charity.

Francis, who was 71 at the time of his death, was highly educated and a graduate of the University of Illinois, class of 1878. For 13 years after his graduation he was employed by a watch company at Elgin and invented a device which gave him a handsome income in royalties for many years. Although he never explained his hermit-like existence it was believed by neighbors that blighted romance in his youth had sent him into solitude.

GILDA GRAY IN NEW FILM

Famous Dancer Coming to Ceramic in "Cabaret."

"Give them their money's worth—and more," is the slogan of Gilda Gray, the dancer, who is coming to the Ceramic in "Cabaret."

"If you've seen me on the stage or in the picture "Aloma of the South Seas,' you know my slogan," she said.

Living up to that slogan brought $1,000,000 in at the box office of picture houses during my personal appearance tour of 1925 and it enabled me to go right back and get over $1,000,000 in the same towns in 1926. And it made "Aloma" probably the most successful first picture made by any motion picture star—though modesty forbids me to quote the figures.

"Now I'm hard at work on "Cabaret," my second Paramount picture. And what I didn't know before, "Aloma" taught me.

"And I know cabarets! I was brought up in them. I won my first big success in them. I konw the jazz and color and glamor and thrills and romance and heartaches — and what goes on behind the scenes—better, probably, and more intimately than anybody else in the world. That's what I'm putting into "Cabaret." And that's why "Cabaret" is going to be a great big, dazzling, gripping real S. R. O. picture. We've finished enough of it for me absolutely to guarantee that.

"Owen Davis, the famous playwright wrote the story. Tom Moore, Chester Conklin, and Mona Palma are in the supporting cast."

To protect the national button industry of France, the manufacturers' union has demanded that the government take steps so that they may recover the time lost in holidays by adding an hour to the regular working day.

Their automobile dashing off the Marine Drive near Belfast, Ireland and falling 200 feet to the sea, two youths were thrown out halfway down the mountain side and escaped with only comparatively minor injudies.

She didn't know what was wrong!

No one had ever told her the reason people avoided her was simply her catarrhal breath. People don't speak of that. They just keep away.

Yet, if she had only known Hall's Catarrh Medicine she might have been saved years of loneliness. For Hall's brings relief—not only from the unpleasant effects of catarrh, but from catarrhal headaches—the throbbing, stuffed-up nasal and throat passages—catarrhal deafness.

If you are a sufferer, get Hall's Catarrh Medicine today. Then note the improvement. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Families United

Central Press

The marriage in Naples, Italy, of Miss Elizabeth Davis Stevenson of Bloomington, Ill., and Ernest Linwood Ives of Norfolk, Va., unites two of the most prominent families in the two states. The bride is the great grand-daughter of Lewis Green, who was president of Centre College, Kentucky, whose two daughters, Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson and Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, both became presidents general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mr. Ives is first secretary to the American embassy at Constantinople, Turkey.

Santa Fe

this winter California 5 daily trains including The Chief

You really enter sunny California the moment you step aboard one of the five famous Santa Fe cross-continent trains.

The new Chief—extra fare—is the finest and fastest of the Santa Fe California trains. Only TWO business days on the way.

No extra fare on the four other daily trains.

Fred Harvey dining service sets the standard in the transportation world.

Enjoy the out-of-doors this winter—take your family. California hotel rates are reasonable.

RAINBOW REVUE AT THE STRAND

Barlow Production Here for Week's Engagement.

Hailing from the New England States with a mass of press notices heralding "Barlow's Rainbow Revue" as the hit of all times, Barlow is "Blazing the Trail" of the Sun Circuit with an entire show at the Strand theatre this week.

"The Rainbow Revue" arrived here after a swing around eastern theatres. It is a worth while production. Featured among the names are Al Barlow, Billy Lewis, Joe Demming, Mae Smith, Elinore Farrell, Angus Harris, Russell and Mills, Wilfred Houghton, Roy Koler, Elsie Lewis, Anna Demarins, Ethel Thorne, Inez Havey, Esther Rose and others.

Families United

Central Press

The marriage in Naples, Italy, of Miss Elizabeth Davis Stevenson of Bloomington, Ill., and Ernest Linwood Ives of Norfolk, Va., unites two of the most prominent families in the two states. The bride is the great grand-daughter of Lewis Green, who was president of Centre College, Kentucky, whose two daughters, Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson and Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, both became presidents general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mr. Ives is first secretary to the American embassy at Constantinople, Turkey.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. Is playing a wind instrument such as a cornet or saxaphone injurious to the throat? N. G.

A. John Phillip Sousa, the famous band master, says that in his opinion it is beneficial instead of harmful, and that for the most part players of such instruments enjoy excellent health.

Q. How much crude rubber is there in automobile tires? J. G.

A The Bureau of Standards says that there are about 5 pounds of crude rubber in a 30x3½ fabric automobile tire.

Q. What is the meaning of the expression "naked as a needle," and who first used it? R. K. S.

A. The simile "naked as a needle" is taken from the writings of William Langland. In its original form the word "needle" is spelled "nedle." Our authority is the collection of similes edited by Paul Wilstach. There are few articles so devoid of adornment as a needle. It seemingly affords an excellent opoprtunity to coin a simile.

Q. Please give the origin, history, and present status of the "Conscience Fund" of our Government? S. W.

A. The Conscience Fund was opened with a contribution of $5 in 1811. The amounts sent in range from 2 cents a person, who failed to put a stamp on a letter when mailed, to several thousand dollars from persons who smuggled goods in the United States without paying import duty. Usually the amounts are small, however. The largest single deposit was $30,000. As of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, $4,551.51 was contributed. The total in the fund as of December 31, 1926 was $561,891.87.

Q. What was the origin of the Greek national flag? L. D. L.

A. The Greek national flag is derived from the arms of Otto of Bavaria, who was called to the throne of Greece in 1833.

Q. What does "Hedjaz" mean? D. B.

A. This word means barrier and refers to the wall of high mountains on the edge of the tableland which is in the kingdom so-called.

Q. Do any countries tax vote-slackers in a manner similar to that suggested by Senator Arthur Capper? F. M.

A. It is said that similar fines are in force in Belgium, Spain, Switzerland, and Czechoslovakia. Australia's compulsory voting law has increased the poll from 52 per cent of the eligible voters to 93 per cent.

Q. What it meant by the "diamond jubilee" of the Confederation, referring to Canada? E. M. F.

A. This has reference to the 60th anniversary of the Dominion of Canada.

Q. Who invented the pendulum? A. G. B.

A. Huygens, a Dutchman born in 1629, was the first practical exponent of the pendulum employing it in the mechanism of the clock. However, he was not the original discoverer of its properties. Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1520) left notes as to his study of the pendulum, and Galileo (1564-1642) continued these studies.

Q. Who was the first mayor of New York City? T. E. M.

A. Thomas Willett in 1665 was the first.

Q. Do Paris shop keepers use wax figures for display purposes? figures for display purposes? G. M. K.

A. Word from Paris indicates that many are replacing wax figures with silhouettes cut from thin pieces of board. On these are draped fabrics and dresses.

Soviet Leader Ill

Joseph W. Stalin, dominating personality in the Russian Soviet government, has been seriously ill, suffering from an old stomach complaint, according to word from Russia via Germany. His condition has been kept secret.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director. The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. Is playing a wind instrument such as a cornet or saxaphone injurious to the throat? N. G.

A. John Phillip Sousa, the famous band master, says that in his opinion it is beneficial instead of harmful, and that for the most part players of such instruments enjoy excellent health.

Q. How much crude rubber is there in automobile tires? J. G.

A The Bureau of Standards says that there are about 5 pounds of crude rubber in a 30x3½ fabric automobile tire.

Q. What is the meaning of the expression "naked as a needle," and who first used it? R. K. S.

A. The simile "naked as a needle" is taken from the writings of William Langland. In its original form the word "needle" is spelled "nedle." Our authority is the collection of similes edited by Paul Wilstach. There are few articles so devoid of adornment as a needle. It seemingly affords an excellent opoprtunity to coin a simile.

Q. Please give the origin, history, and present status of the "Conscience Fund" of our Government? S. W.

A. The Conscience Fund was opened with a contribution of $5 in 1811. The amounts sent in range from 2 cents a person, who failed to put a stamp on a letter when mailed, to several thousand dollars from persons who smuggled goods in the United States without paying import duty. Usually the amounts are small, however. The largest single deposit was $30,000. As of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, $4,551.51 was contributed. The total in the fund as of December 31, 1926 was $561,891.87.

Q. What was the origin of the Greek national flag? L. D. L.

A. The Greek national flag is derived from the arms of Otto of Bavaria, who was called to the throne of Greece in 1833.

Q. What does "Hedjaz" mean? D. B.

A. This word means barrier and refers to the wall of high mountains on the edge of the tableland which is in the kingdom so-called.

Q. Do any countries tax vote-slackers in a manner similar to that suggested by Senator Arthur Capper? F. M.

A. It is said that similar fines are in force in Belgium, Spain, Switzerland, and Czechoslovakia. Australia's compulsory voting law has increased the poll from 52 per cent of the eligible voters to 93 per cent.

Q. What it meant by the "diamond jubilee" of the Confederation, referring to Canada? E. M. F.

A. This has reference to the 60th anniversary of the Dominion of Canada.

Q. Who invented the pendulum? A. G. B.

A. Huygens, a Dutchman born in 1629, was the first practical exponent of the pendulum employing it in the mechanism of the clock. However, he was not the original discoverer of its properties. Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1520) left notes as to his study of the pendulum, and Galileo (1564-1642) continued these studies.

Q. Who was the first mayor of New York City? T. E. M.

A. Thomas Willett in 1665 was the first.

Q. Do Paris shop keepers use wax figures for display purposes?
figures for display purposes? G. M. K.

A. Word from Paris indicates that many are replacing wax figures with silhouettes cut from thin pieces of board. On these are draped fabrics and dresses.

JOHNNY HINES AT AMERICAN

"Stepping Along" is His Eleventh Feature Comedy.

"Stepping Along," the latest First National Picture starring Johnny Hines at the American theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday makes the eleventh feature comedy that Charles Hines has directed for his brother, Johnny, and as Director Hines swears by eleven as his lucky number, "Stepping Along" should prove the funniest vehicle to date for Comedian Hines.

Occasionally one hears of a director who guides the celluloid destinies of his star wife—in the studio, only, as a rule—but there never has been another instance of this combination of brother directing brother with the success that has marked this pair of relations in the comedy field.

Johnny and Charlie Hines have been together in the motion picture studio since the old days of the "Torchy Comedies," which were produced by C. C. Burr, still the guiding mentor of the comedian.

When Johnny made his first feature length comedy, Brother Charlie handled the megaphone and took charge of all of the directorial detail for each picture leading to his "lucky eleventh," which is a fast moving tale of New York theatrical and political life, enhanced by some jazzy shots of George White's "Scandals." Mary Brian is opposite the star.

Having no vinegar, William Clark of Edmonton, England, sprinkled gasoline over his fish, spilled some on the floor and after it caught fire he was arrested charged with trying to burn his house.

TO STOP NAUSEA IN THE MORNING

Or Goneness in the Stomach At any Time

Try a little diapepsin. You may be so sick in the morning that the odor of food adds to your misery. And yet one or two diapepsins instantly settle your stomach, the nausea disappears and you actually become hungry.

Diapepsin is composed of powerful digesters. They work on everything you eat, digesting starchy foods, milk, cream, eggs, meat and also absorb acids and gas. Heartburn, biliousness and dizziness disappear almost instantly.

Nausea may come from many causes but diapepsin works quickly in any case. Expectant mothers get real benefit from diapepsin, not alone in freedom from nausea but more nutrition from better digestion.

Get a 60-cent package of Pape's Diapepsin at any drug store. You'll never tolerate nausea again.

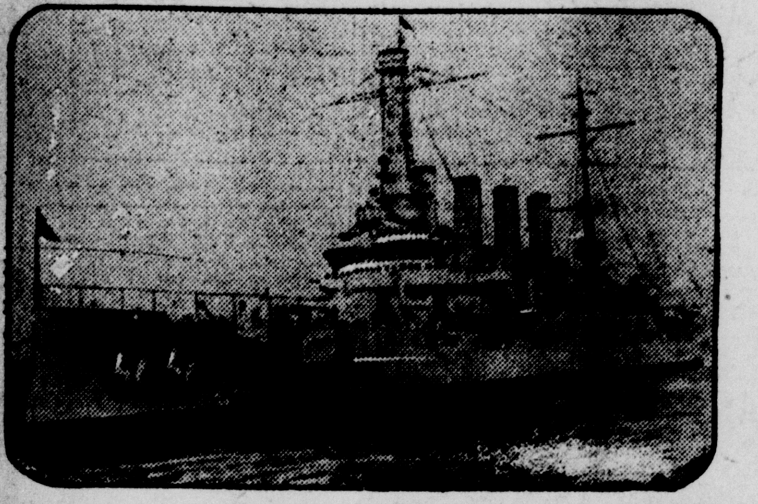
Cruiser Appropriation Stirs Both Congress And President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—It looks as if Prseident Coolidge and congress would go to the mat over the "cruiser amendment" to the naval appropriation bill.

This bill has been kicking up a tremendous disturbance in Washington lately.



Second-Line Cruiser "Seattle;" average cost this type, $5,570,792.

The amount of money involved is small, as government money is counted, but the principle involved is vital. It is:

Is a Republican president boss of a Republican congress, or isn't he?

Some time ago congress authorized three new cruisers, but voted no money to build them. They were just blue prints.

The present naval appropriation bill provides for ten more blue prints. Some of the lawmakers thought an actual start ought to be made on the original three. They didn't ask for enough to build the boats but they did want $450,000 to begin building them.

President Collidge objected.

Against his wishes the $450,000 was put into the appropriation bill in the form of an amendment. The house of representatives beat the amendment, but by a very narrow margin.

The bill went up to the senate, minus the $450,000. The senate wrote $1,200,000 in place of it, in the form of another amendment, and passed it, 49 to 27.

The bill went to conference with indications that the house of representatives would agree to the senate's $1,200,000, in place of its own $450,000.

The president will have a chance to veto the whole thing.

It he does, the navy will be left without a cent to run on. There will have to be an extra session of congress.

It was a slap in the face for the president to have so small a majority in the house of representatives on the $450,000 proposition. He'd have lost if he hadn't had some Democratic help. Speaker Longworth and John Q. Tilson, the Republican floor leader, were against him.

But it was worse in the senate.

Twenty-four Republicans voted for the $1,200,000, against the presidential wishes. Only 18 were on his side.

Still more to the point, the 18 included Senators Frazier, LaFollette and Nye, who ordinarily are anti-presidentia insurgents, but simply happened to be on his side in this instance.

That means 27 Republican senators to whom President Coolidge can't dictate.

In reality there are more than that. There's Senator Norris, who wasn't present and didn't vote on the cruisers, but who's an irreconcilable insurgent. There's also Senator Borah, who's uncertain. There were, likewise, a couple of Republicans who were paired, but who would have been pro-cruiser if they'd voted.

Altogether that makes 31 senators out of a total of 53 nominal Republicans whom we know won't back President Coolidge, except when they feel like it.

He'll be even weaker in the next senate, because there will be more Democrats and more insurgents Republicans.

So prospects are of a hectic two years ahead for the White House.

Thin Like a Skeleton, Can't Eat, Can't Sleep

"Everything I ate would ferment and I had gas so bad that I couldn't work for two years. Was nervous, had bad cramps, couldn't sleep, and looked like a skeleton. Adlerika helped me so that in a month I gained 12 pounds."—F. Santoro.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerki is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloathing, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In East Liverpool at the Economy Drug Store and other Druggists.

Why Washington County Citizens Like Concrete Highways

Washington County commenced a concrete highway program in 1912—nearly 15 years ago. Today, prominent citizens and officials voice their satisfaction in their road system and back their judgment by continuing to pave the highways with concrete.

From President J. H. McCoy, of The Peoples Banking & Trust Co., Marietta:

"Those of us who have been working for the betterment of roads believe, after making a thorough investigation, that the concrete type is the most permanent road and requires the least maintenance."

From H. E. Smith, President, Washington County Automobile Association:

"Concrete roads are being built in Washington County because such roads have met modern traffic requirements in so many places similar to our own community. We feel we have made no mistake in choosing concrete as a paving material on many of our roads."

Rich Mineral Strike Made in Section Of Northern Ontario

WINNIPEG.—The Bunker Hill-Sullivan group of mine capitalists of San Francisco have uncovered what is regarded as the biggest bunch of single wealth ever blocked out in Northern Ontario, mining men here learn. The strike is reported to have been made at Chelmsford, Ontario, and the block of zinc-lead ore is estimated to contain 47,000,000 tons of mineral which assays at $22 to the ton.

Diamond drilling in the townships of Balfour, Blezard and Lumsden uncovered the huge mineral block. Tracings of platinum and palladium are reported to be showing right on the surface.

An electric railway extending forty-three miles through the mountains between Toyohashi and Lida, Japan, is being promoted.

Wages or Dividends?
Dante and Wall Street.
Decency Here and There.
Anybody, for a While.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

WAGES were increased by 7½ per cent for 22,000 more railroad men, about $3,300,000 will be spent annually by wives of workers, not in dividends. Call it bolshevism, if you must, but that seems a good idea.

There is plenty for all in this country, and those that have more than they need should think about permanent security, rather than about getting a little more.

DANTE, inspecting hell, with Virgil for guide, was impressed by the blasphemous courage of one fierce wretch. As he appeared for a moment above the boiling pitch, he raised his hand toward heaven, with an insulting gesture, then sank to torment once more.

Not all have such courage, and you should spare a sigh for the poor Wall Street bears that decided to get rich by selling Wheeling & Lake Erie short just when some real buyers want it. It sold for $27 not long ago, after many jumps, it went yesterday to $130, a jump of thirty-five points.

If you have never been a bear, you do not know what that means. The sun goes out, the sky turns black, the liver stops working. The moral is, "Don't be a bear at this time." That warning has been published often enough.

MONTANA's Senate has voted in favor of the constitutional amendment against child labor. The amendment may be lost, child labor being profitable and profits hard to give up. But it is comforting to see decency here and there.

In the end, of course, the amendment would help every state, just as the end of slavery helped all—including states that had the greatest sacrifices to make.

Child labor cheats grown men and women of work and cheats the next generation of its chance in life, to say nothing of mocking Chirst's warning, "Their angels do always behold the face of My Father, which is in heaven."

Child labor sends plenty of little angels to verify that text.

A WITNESS at the government tax suit in Washington testified that the Ford company could have gone on just about as well without Ford. He was not essential.

Sousa, the bandmaster, said, "Anybody can lead my band for a little while." The Ford company had two great assets, Ford's industrial genius and the fact that high finances could not squeeze him, coax him, or frighten him into the belief that his time had come to sell out.

GET money, put it out at compound interest, live to 100 years and you will be rich.

One hundred years ago, Capt. Hugh Reid wanted to erect a Wallace-Bruce memorial but lacked the full amount

Review-Tribune Offers Booklet On Correct English

Speak and write better, with the help of this simple guide to the proper use of words in the English language.

World famous authorities have compiled for our Washington Information Bureau a concise booklet about words commonly misused, mispronounced, and misspelled.

Promotion in business, success in social and club life, often depends on proper use of words—good English as we call it. Many of us are careless about our language. Many of us had small opportunity to study language in school. We can correct our English by a little study, with the help of the Word Booklet.

MASSILLON MAN FACING MURDER COUNT 'FRAMED,' DEFENSE SAYS

Canton Prosecutor Alleges Prisoner Hired Assassins of Mellett.

TRIAL UNDER WAY

Coroner and Physician on Stand; Widow Awaits Call.

By ROBERT WALLACE.

CANTON, Feb. 10—In a fiery opening statement, Henry W. Harter, Jr., Stark county prosecutor, today accused Ben Rudner of having hired the assassins who killed Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Daily News, and demanded that the jury chosen late yesterday send the former convict to the electric chair in expiation of his deed.

Defense Expects Acquittal.

E. L. Mills, chief of counsel for Rudner, replied that the defendant was the victim of a "frame-up' and that the defense expected to secure a verdict of acquittal.

At least 54 witnesses will appear for the state, subpoenaes for that number already having been issued. The list includes virtually the same persons called by the prosecution at the trial of Pat McDermott, convicted Christmas Eve and now serving a life sentence for participation in the alleged conspiracy.

Coroner T. C. McQuate and Dr. Guy Maxwell were the first witnesses to be examined when the attorneys had completed their opening statements. They testified to the condition of the body of the crusading editor as seen by them after the shooting. Dr. Maxwell was called to the Mellett home immediately after the crime.

Defense counsel waived their right to cross-examine these witnesses.

Jury Visits Scene of Crime.

Fred Biechele, a surveyor, was then placed on the stand. He had prepared maps and charts of the scene of the crime, which the state offered as exhibits. Upon completion of his testimony adjournment was taken until afternoon.

Mrs. Mellett, widow of the slain publisher, was expected to take the stand when the session opened this afternoon. She will repeat the testimony which was one of the outstanding features of the McDermott trial

The jury of seven women and five men was taken to the scene of the slaying immediately after being sworn in yesterday. From there it visited the hardware store and home of Rudner in Massillon. The defendant waived the privilege of accompanying the jurors.

Rumors were current today that the defense would introduce two surprise

Landslide Closes Inter-city Road During Forenoon

The Wellsville-East Liverpool road was closed to traffic for a short period this morning owing to another slide of earth near Walker's. Traffic was routed over the Camp Ground road while employes of the state highway department were removing the earth which blocked the highway but failed to reach the street car tracks.

The Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company laborers are removing loose earth along the Pennsylvania avenue hillside betwen Fisher's bakery and Mulberry street. The work is not interfering with traffic.

ORDERS $12,000 HULL MADE FOR OLD WHARFBOAT

Wharfmaster Tisher Announces Improvement Program.

CONTRACT LET

Plans Will Not Interfere With Business, Owner Says.

A new hull, costing approximately $12,000, will be made for the East Liverpool wharf-boat this spring, Wharfmaster Ross Tisher, announced today.

Fir lumber from the famous forests of Washington is now enroute to Wheeling, whence it will be rafted 30 miles down the river to Clarington, Ohio, where the new hull will be constructed.

Upon completion, the hull will be towed to East Liverpool where the removal of the old bottom and the substitution of the new will take place.

Two steel hulls of the Carnegie Steel company will be placed on either side of the wharf boat. The cabin of the boat will be unfastened and the old hull will be gradually pumped with water until it has been submerged sufficiently to permit it to be drawn away. The new hull will then be likewise partially submerged and drawn into position under the cabin between the steel hulls. The water wil then be pumped out and the hull will rise into proper position and be clamped to the old cabin.

Contract for the work has been awarded to Cook and Thomas, of Clarington It will require a crew of about 15 men three days to remove the old hull and place the new bottom in position, according to Wharfmaster Tisher. The work will in no way interfere with business at the wharfboat.

The present boat was brought to East Liverpool about 12 years ago after the old craft broke from its moorings and was wrecked. Tisher took over the wharfboat in March. 1921, purchasing it from James Graham. The boat is 160 feet in length, 32 feet in width and has a six-foot hull. Its capacity is 500 tons.

UNITED STATES PAVES WAY FOR SECOND PARLEY ON ARMS ISSUE

Suggests Geneva Session be Something Besides Debating.

NAVAL PROBLEM

Proposes Definite Action at Commission Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge today called for a showdown with the world powers on the question of further naval disarmament.

He has proposed, in the name of the United States, that the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission at Geneva for another disarmament conference, be transformed into something else besides an international debating society, and be made in actual disarmament conference in fact.

Message to Congress.

At the direction of Mr. Coolidge, the American ambassadors to Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, today presented to those governments a formal suggestion by this government that they authorize their delegates to the forthcoming Geneva conference actually to conclude agreements for the further limitation of naval armament.

The president advised congress today in a special message of his action. His message contained the text of the memorandum which the ambassadors are delivering to the foreign offices in London, Rome, Paris and Tokio today.

No Land Armament Question.

Briefly, President Coolidge has proposed that the powers that are due to convene at Geneva shortly, undertake to extend the work of the Washington arms conference by limiting those classes of ships which were left untouched by the 1921 conference. This includes naval ships of all classes of 10,000 tons and under, destroyers, cruisers, and other auxiliary craft. And to that end he proposed that the powers delegate to their representatives there real power to enter into agreements.

Land armament would not be touched. Limitation of the size of armies, Mr. Coolidge said, is a matter for regional understandings and agreements, in the view of this government.

If the president's suggestion is adopted by the powers it would mean that the Geneva conference, instead of considering the advisability of holding a new armament conference, as it has been engaged in for many months, would actually get down to "brass tacks" and place limitations in those classes of naval vessels not touched at Washington.

Emmons is Named On State Civil Service Board

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10. — Governor Vic Donahey today asked the Ohio senate to confirm the name of State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, of East Rochester, Columbiana county, Republican, as a member of the state civil service commission for the term expiring August 30.

Emmons' name was among 21 which were submitted for places which included the civil service commission, state medical board, state board of optometry, state board of building standards, and trustees of Ohio State University, Kent and Bowling Green state normal schools, Ohio Soldiers' & Sailors' Orphans' home, Xenia, and the combined normal and industrial departments of Wilberforce University, near Xenia.

JANUARY CASH IN CITY COURT DROPS TO $1,480

Decrease of $316.06 Over Month of December.

CLERK'S REPORT

County's Share of Receipts is $10.50, Record Shows.

Despite an increase of $683.39 over the corresponding month for last year, receipts of the municipal court for January showed a decrease of $316.06 over collections for December, according to figures announced today by Acting Court Clerk Lulu F. Bennett.

Receipts from all sources totalled $1,480.79 of which $1,470.29 went to the city and $10.50 to the county.

Collections from fines for violation of city ordinance amounted to $1,102.20, while $118.80 was received as costs in these cases. Costs in civil cases, which also go to the city, amounted to $249.29. The $10.50 collected for the county represents costs in criminal actions filed under state statutes.

Eighty-five criminal cases were filed during the month of which 67 were for violation of city ordinance and 18 for infraction of the state laws. Four persons were committed to the county jail. Civil cases filed numbered 65, while 74 were disposed of.

PORTUGUESE REVOLUTION SUPPRESSED

LISBON NAVAL ARSENAL CAPTURED FROM REBELS AFTER TWO-DAY BATTLE

Government Legations in London and Paris Receive Dispatches Confirming News Reports That Insurgents in Capital Capitulated Last Night After Terrific Bombardment.

REVOLUTIONARIES ABOARD WARSHIPS IN HARBOR HOIST WHITE FLAG

Madrid, While Admitting Situation Was Extremely Grave, Says Sanguinary Fighting at Oporto Appears to Have Subsided, But All Leaders Have Not Been Arrested.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The revolution has been completely suppressed," declared a dispatch received by the Portuguese legation here this afternoon.

A radio dispatch to the British admiralty from Oporto said the government forces had obtained possession of the naval arsenal at Lisbon, which for the past two days has been determinedly held by the insurgents.

News dispatches confirmed the admiralty reports, stating that the rebels surrendered last night after withstanding nearly two days of bombardment.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The Portuguese revolution has ended, according to a dispatch received today from the foreign ministry in Lisbon by the Portuguese legation here.

The rebels in Lisbon surrendered last night and rebels aboard warships hoisted the white flag shortly afterward, the dispatch stated.

Lisbon Under Fire.

MADRID, Feb. 10.—Disjointed news trickling across the Portuguese frontier today via Badajos indicates the situation in Portugal still continues extremely grave.

Lisbon appears to have been under the fire of the insurgents, and the crews of the warships anchored off Lisbon refused to fire on the rebels.

The sanguinary fighting at Oporto appears to have subsided, but it was not clear if the revolutionary leaders had all been arrested, despite a government announcement to that effect.

The minister of war today published a statement declaring that all persons found carrying arms would be shot. A report from Badajos said the government announced it hopes soon to have all the rebel leaders in prison.

Rebels Entrenched.

The government troops were reported having difficulty consolidating their position at Oporto. Many bodies of armed men were still resisting the troops between Oporto and Braga.

Travelers arriving at Vigo declared 90 were killed and 200 were wounded in the bombardment of Oporto. When the government troops entered the city they found the rebels entrenched. The troops demanded unconditional surrender of the rebels, who replied with machine gun fire, inflicting heavy casualties on the cavalry regiment which was leading the government advance.

The correspondent of the Paris Journal at Badajos said snow fell heavily all during the artillery engagement at Oporto, and both sides suffered severe losses. The insurgents opened the engagement with 20 pieces of artillery. The bombardment lasted 16 hours.

Colonel Dias, rebel leader, published a statement explaining that the rebels withdrew from Oporto because they did not wish further damage inflicted on property there.

The Journal correspondent denied the truth of the report that the leaders of the rebellion had all been arrested, although he admitted that one leader, Dominguez de Santos, had disappeared.

The arms factory at Brazo de Blata was attacked by the insurgents who used hand grenades freely, doing considerable damage to the building.

Still Some Firing At Oporto Despite Curbing of Revolt

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Although the Portuguese government has announced the complete suppression of the rebellion which broke out last week at Oporto, a message to the admiralty tonight indicates that there is still some firing. The message states that the white flag flies over the rebel headquarters but desultory battling continues.

POLL INDICATES McNARY-HAUGEN FARM RELIEF BILL WILL PASS SENATE TOMORROW BY MAJORITY OF FROM 10 TO 15 VOTES

(Editor's Note:—Friends and foes of the farm relief legislation, now pending in congress have charged that the American people do not know what the proposals mean. Herewith the Review-Tribune presents an analysis of the two principal bills under consideration.)

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—With enactment of the $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen farm relief bill by both house and senate virtually assured for the present session of congress, the senate farm bloc today rallied to prevent the adoption of the Curtis-Aswell substitute.

A limitation of debate will go into effect in the senate this afternoon, leading to a final vote by 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A poll by International News Service indicated the bill would pass the senate by a majority of from 10 to 15 votes.

The house meanwhile opened a 12 hour debate on the measure to last from three to five days. A final vote probably will be reached in the lower branch by next Monday or Tuesday. It then will go to the president for his signature or veto.

Analysis of Measure.

Both friends and foes of the two bills have charged that the public does not understand the measures.

The final clash in the senate will come on a vote to substitute the Curtis-Aswell bill for the McNary-Haugen measure. The principal differences between the bills is that the McNary-Haugen measure carries an equalization fee and gives the farmers control of the relief organization while the Curtis-Aswell bill eliminates the equalization fee and places the organization under the direction of the president.

The McNary-Haugen bill would create a federal farm board, financed by a $250,000,000 revolving fund, "to promote the orderly marketing of basic agricultural commodities, to control the disposition of surpluses, to stabilize markets against undue fluctuation of cooperative marketing associations." It would apply to wheat, corn, swine, rice and cotton. Tobacco probably will be included later. The Curtis-Aswell bill would attempt virtually the same results but would apply to all crops.

Method of Selecting Farm Board

The two bills clash first over the method of selecting the farm board which operates this gigantic enterprise. The board will contain 12 members, one from each federal land bank district. Under the McNary bill, farm organizations in each district would nominate three candidates from whom the president would have to select the one member for that district. The Curtis bill would give the president a free hand in naming the board, except that each major party would have six members.

Both bills would establish an advisory council of seven members for each basic commodity governed by the board. These councils, to be named by farmer's organizations, would have to approve the board's action on that particular crop. The McNary bill, however, would add additional conditions, the approval of a "substantial number of cooperative

"BIG NAVY" MEN IN HOUSE PLAN TO PUSH ISSUE

Conferees Split on Three-cruiser Amendment.

TEST VOTE NEAR

Spurred by Ringing Declaration of Speaker Longworth.

BY WILLIAM S. NEAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by the ringing declaration of Speaker Nicholas Longworth for a strong navy, the "big navy" bloc of the house today prepared to again force the preparedness issue with President Coolidge.

The opportunity is expected to come with disagreement between senate and house conferees on the three-cruiser amendment to the $315,000,000 naval supply bill, adopted in the senate over Mr. Coolidge's protest.

Immediately upon the report of a disagreement, a motion will be made in the house to accept the senate amendment. Having lost their cruiser fight in the house by a small margin, big navy forces are confident that another test would reverse the situation.

Preparedness Speech.

With Senator Hale (R.) of Maine, head of the senate conferees, holding out for the cruiser amendment, and Representative French (R.) of Idaho, house committee chairman, equally determined that Mr. Coolidge's advice shall be followed, there was admittedly little hope of a peaceful settlement of the squabble.

Longworth took a firm stand for the building of a navy on the "5-5-3" ratio with Great Britain and Japan, in a spech before a preparedness group here last night.

The speech of the house leader, potential presidential candidate and son-in-law of President Roosevelt aroused wide interest.

In a pointed answer to Mr. Coolidge's written request to congress to kill the three-cruiser amendment, Longworth asserted that "it is especially and peculiarly the duty of congress to see to it that adequate equipment and preparation for the common defense shall at all times be maintained.

Navy Below Standard, He Says.

He also took up the cudgels for a congressional group which contends that the budget system is being allowed to crush the independence of congress.

"In appropriating money from the national treasury, I think we should follow the budget estimates as closely as possible, but to follow them blindly, at all times, particularly in questions relating to the defense of the nation, for which that bureau is in no way responsible, would be to abdicate our responsibilities and to become mere rubber stamps." Longworth said.

The American navy, he asserted, is far below the standard set at the Washington arms conference.

U. S. Consul General At Glasgow Asked For 50,000 Visas

GLASGOW.—Twenty of the world's largest liners would be required to transport across the Atlantic all the people in Glasgow and the West of Scotland who are waiting emigrant visas for the United States—that is, if they could get their passports immediately.

The American Consul General in Glasgow has a list of 50,000 persons awaiting visas.

The phenomenal demand for emigration is creating a grave problem locally, for it is feared that when industry revives there will be a shortage of skilled workers and good artisans in this part of the world.

A movement has been started by Captain Ian Frasier, the sightless member of Parliament, that all blind men in Great Britain be given a Christmas present of his radio license.

LODGE MEMBERS HEAR SERMON BY DR. KNAPP

Surrender Your Will to Jesus Christ, he Urges.

REVIVAL MEET

Crowd Attends Services at Methodist Protestant Church.

Membership in churches or various lodges will not bring salvation to the human soul averred Dr. W. A. Knapp at the Methodist Protestant revival last evening. "Only by surrendering our wills to Jesus Christ and permitting Him to make the transformation can this be done. Then will follow the new birth and the leadership of the Holy Spirit will be apparent." His subject was "The Good Samaritan."

In attendance at the service were delegations of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. They were given a cordial reception upon rising in a body.

The Christian Endeavor society of the church sat together in a reserved section and sang "Blessed Assurance" as their contributions to the initial song service.

G. E. Vinaroff gave a number on the miramba and sang "God's Marvelous Grace" with Mrs. Vinaroff as accompanist.

The Salvation Army, headed by its band, it was announced, would be present at tonight's meeting.

Another practice of the boys and girls, constituting the Children's choir will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Several questions that had been put into the query box were answered by Dr. Knapp before the sermon was preached. The first of these was: "Can one live so free from sin that there is no need for forgiveness?" The reply, was "No."

Dr. Knapp explained that it was possible to not wilfully sin. Yet even then there is need for divine forgiveness. "Only in the Lord's prayer is the injunction for forgiveness designated," he said. "But we are told in many Scriptural passages to confess our Sins.' Then the allegation is made: 'If We Confess Our Sins He is Faithful to Forgive Them.'"

The second query was, "How long does it take light to reach the earth from the remotest star?" The reply was, "I don't know. It takes about 10 years for a ray to arrive from the nearest, traveling at about 186,000 miles a second.

The third was: "How long did it take the Angel Gabriel to fly and touch Daniel when the latter was praying?" The reply was, "Three weeks at least since Gabriel admitted hearing him the first day and arrived on the twenty-first thereafter."

To the interrogation, which is more rapid light or prayer? Dr. Knapp averred prayer was.

"Why was Jesus forsaken at the ninth hour?" was another question which impelled the evangelist to say: "Jesus died a substitutionary, vicarious death on the cross. He took upon his sinless self the sins of the world, past and future, that the ends of supreme justice might be met. Thus, momentarily, he was separated from his father. The then agony wrung the cry from the son. He paid in full thus the penalty of our sins for which we should all love Him."

As to whether days in the Bible were of 24 hours or 1,000 year duration or more he declared scholars were equally divided upon. In several instances such as days of the Lord, of Christ and of the Atonement a much longer period than the interim of a day now was meant.

"Where was the spirit of Christ while the body was in the tomb?" was another query. In his reply Dr. Knapp said hell, hades and sheol meant in the original the place of departed spirits. "This is divided into two sections, Abraham's Bosom or paradise and the place of torment. A gulf separates them. The dying good go to the former and the lost to the latter. To the first of these Christ and the saved thief on the cross went. In it were the good from the beginning of time who looking forward to the cross as we look back to it merited salvation. These all when Christ was resurrected went with Him to heaven. The wicked dead yet remain as have those since joining them in the place of torment. These until the mellenium they will stay when they will be raised to face the judgment that will put them in endless perdition.

"Is Dr. Cadman right in averring that to attend church on Sunday once is enough? was the final query of the evening. "I don't think so," was the reply. "There are too many who have the view that they can golf and do anything thereafter if religious services has been attended a single time on God's holy day. It has been my observation that those who go to church but once a day are not cutting much ice for the Lord. The business of the church is soul saving. When it is not doing that it is not fulfilling the mission of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Knapp maintained that too many stress too much the words "I" and "do" in the lawyer's question to Christ. "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" He averred one could do nothing save by the initial surrender in trustfulness to Christ of his life do anything to merit salvation.

BOSTON CHECKER FANS WAITING CHAMP ENGLISH AND SCOTTISH TEAMS

BOSTON.—Checker fans of Boston and vicinity are awaiting with much interest the arrival in this port of the English and Scottish champion teams, February 22 for a series of matches in various cities.

The invading followers of the black and red discs will meet a United States team captained by A. J. Heffner of this city. Heffner is a veteran international match competitor, having played for years on the United States teams. He is at present checker champion of the United States.

To Joseph J. Lanning of New York, former owner of the Boston Red Sox baseball team goes much of the credit for arranging the international match. It is the intention of Mr. Launing to be present as a member of the reception committee to greet the visiting players when they arrive here on the S. S. Winifredian.

The championship matches between the United States team and the visitors will be played at the Alamac Hotel, New York from Feb. 28 to March 12. The war will be waged over an eight hour stretch every day. They will compete from 1 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 11 in the evening over the 15 day period.

The other members of the United States team beside Mr. Heffner are: Newell W. Banks, of Detroit, John F. Horr of Buffalo, Louis C. Ginsberg of New York, Asa A. Long of Toledo, Harrah B. Reynolds of Buffalo, Samnuel Gonotsky of New York, Harry Lieberman of Kansas City, Thomas J. O'Grady of Rochester, John T. Bradford of Cleveland, M. Leiber of Toledo, Andrew Dossert of Indianapolis, Saul Weslow of Boston and George M. Tanner of Chicago.

By the use of dialogue sound effects and an orchestra the moving picture story of "The Greater Glory" was told over the radio from Manchester, England, recently, and so successful was this first effort to have radio fans visulize a film that others will be tried.

Why Have Gray Hair?

Don't think your hair need remain streaked with gray—or even very gray. For over ten years men and women whose hair was once blonde, auburn, brown or black have successfully used Kolor-Bak to restore color to their gray hair. Today they haven't the slightest visible trace of gray. Nor can you tell they ever used anything on their hair.

Kolor-Bak is a clean, colorless liquid that has restored youthful appearance to hundreds of thousands. As easy to apply as water, it requires no experimenting with samples of your hair.

Just ask your dealer for Kolor-Bak. The one bottle is for all hair, no matter what shade or color. Results often appear in a week. And with the disappearance of the gray hair, the tonic properties of Kolor-Bak make it splendid to use for dandruff and falling hair. Its tremendous success is clearly shown by the sale of nearly 3,000,000 bottles, which proves its superiority.

Dealers everywhere sell Kolor-Bak with guarantee to return your money if it does not bring desired results. No excuse now for any woman to look old, or any man to be considered too old for employment. Your druggist, or any store where toilet goods are sold, carries Kolor-Bak. Ask for it today.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1927.

Income Tax Call

Uncle Sam today called upon his children in the East Liverpool district as well as other parts of the nation to begin checking their 1926 earnings, for income tax, at least the first payment, is due on or before March 15.

If you are a married man or woman and your net income was $3,500 or under, or a bachelor or maiden with a net income of $1,500 or less, you have no cause for worry. Otherwise, get out your pencil and paper.

The new instructions direct attention to the law which requires that every person whose gross income was $5,000 or more last year must file a return regardless of whether he or she must pay a tax.

Of interest to the prospective taxpayer are these facts:

Every unmarried person or married person not living with his or her mate with net income of more than $1,500 must file a return. Every married person with net income of more than $3,500 must file a return.

Every person who has a taxable income in excess of exemptions must file a return.

If you are earning $5,100 a year, are married and have ten dependent children you must file a return, but you won't have any income tax to pay as Uncle Sam grants $400 exemption for each dependent.

If the gross income of a married man with two children is $4,900, his taxes, interest, contributions, etc., amount to $800, leaving a net income of $4,100, he must file a return, but as his exemption will be $3,500 plus $800 for the two dependents, or $4,300, he will have no tax to pay.

If in doubt, taxpayers, consult the deputy collector, or write to the Cleveland district headquarters.

The Foreign Debts

As the country's foreign debt commission disbands, after five years' operation, it is worth while to observe the fruits of its labors.

The commission on the face of things has a record of large achievement. It has arranged for funding 97 per cent of all the foreign debts to the United States government growing out of the World War. It has negotiated settlements with 13 countries. The unfunded balance outstanding is only $340,000,000, divided among Russia and a half dozen small countries. Some of these countries are actually making payments on account. There is a deadlock with Russia.

If Uncle Sam is to lose only 3 per cent, he will come out well enough. But unfortunately there is no assurance of collecting 97 per cent. The French settlement, largest of all except the British, has not yet been ratified. And there is more and more talk about revision of those already ratified, especially those which, like the British settlement, involve payment somewhere near the actual amount due.

Whether or not the debtors can pay is still a moot question. Whether or not they will pay is another question, no less practical. The chances seem very much against it, and in favor of a general downward revision of the debts sooner or later.

That will depend on American public sentiment, which at present seems to regard the settlements made as favorable to the debtors, and shows no willingness to make the revisions advocated by many statesmen, financiers and big business men.

An Unchallenged Champ

Thirty miles in the water tank of an engine tender is the swimming record of a Kokomo, Ind., resident named Bill Baxter. He didn't train for it, but necessity and good luck brought him victory.

This swimmer, dressed for land instead of water sport, was sitting on top of the tender when a brakeman came along. Bill hastily slid through a hole, thinking he was merely dropping out of sight into a coal bin. It proved to be a tank of water with a depth of seven feet. There wasn't a thing for Bill to do but start swimming. He had rough going because the train started soon and its motion made quite a heavy sea. The swimmer tried floating occasionally to rest himself, but he had to work pretty hard to keep up. Finally as he sank exhausted he found the water had become quite shallow. Then the train stopped and he got his chance to climb out. His record is likely to stand for some time. That is, unless some woman starts in to beat it.

A Prodigy's Pastimes

Another prodigy is taking the examinations for entrance to Wisconsin university. He is 12-year-old Robert Nagler, who has had only four years of school attendance in his life, with some additional private tutoring. He is at present teaching chemistry at the Madison Vocational School.

Before envying his parents or congratulating the youngster, one would like to inquire whether he knows how to swim, plays baseball, or has any friends of his own age with whom he plays.

Lawyers' wives needn't blame them so much for taking an occasional fee in the form of stock certificates. There was the foolish lawyer, you know, who did a little legal job for Henry Ford, and took his pay in stock that he sold later for $7,000,000.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Amid all the flash types of Broadway are those queer creatures at which the world taps its temple. They wander about hatless, barefoot and with long hair, dressed in Christly humility. Some mount soap boxes to spout yeastly words of discontent.

There are those with wide hats festooned with snake rattles, others with straw plug hats, coats decorated with stray pins, sandals, odd gnarled canes, sleeveless coats, plaited beards and one patriarch who wears a necklace of thread spools and lumps of coal.

Somehow or other at some hour of the day or night they stroll to Columbus Circle. It has been called "the plaza of the peripatetic." Most of them are harmless vagabonds with slight mental kinks. They stroll aimlessly along the gutter edges with hands usually folded behind.

Strangely enough they do not beg or do they throw themselves upon the mercy of municipal charity. Neither do they work, yet somehow they manage to live. If one questions them, there is the shimmer of some odd faith or other in their eyes.

Many sleep in abandoned cellars, hallways or box cars and by perhaps salvaging refuse and junk with spiked sticks from ash cans, sell it for a few pennies for food. On pleasant days they are found on park benches—lone, staring and usually mumbling.

They are without relatives and friends and, as ugly as is their abandonment they are not unhappy. Once in awhile some wander over to Fifth Avenue, but as a rule they do not get farther east than Broadway. Ninth Avenue appears a favorite thoroughfare.

There are said to be some 500 of these nameless wanderers in the so-called Broadway district. The police never bother them for the very good reason they obey the law.

Something new in polite professions. I have received a card from a poet whose name is unknown to me, heralding: "Readings from my own poetry in your drawing room, $35 an evening." A deep and flustered bow for the "drawing room" trade last.

A certain New Yorker says he has found real comfort in the serve-yourself cafes. He prefers spilling gravy on his own vest to letting a waiter do it for him.

The bloods are reviving large linked watch chains, worn in old-time gambler fashion, stretched across the vest. And jet black four-in-hand scarves are being worn with gray toned collars that match the shirts.

There is a gambler, by the way, in New York who only sits in public restaurants at a corner table with his back to the wall so he can see everyone who approaches him. He takes no chances on running afoul of those he has double-crossed during his career of deceit.

Tenth Avenue has one of those steaming hot chili parlors with a proprietor who wears the Mexican short coat, latticed pants and peon hat. He has awful moments when a real Mexican drops in to chat, for his name is said to be Pat Moriarity, and he was born in the old Gowanus Canal district of Brooklyn.

For years there was a figure in Chinatown, well known in the East Side stuss houses. He married a Chinese girl, wore the loose jacketed, flapping costume of the quarter and died of opium poisoning in Bellevue. A legal tilt over his estate resulted in the disclosure he was a French-Canadian with an Oriental look, spoke no Chinese, but had become so discouraged over being mistaken for one, he cast his lot with that race. His secret is said to have been known to the natives of Chinatown, but because they liked him, they never divulged it.

HONOR WHERE HONOR WAS DUE.

A certain distinguished English actor whom we will call Walker-Smith plays a persistent but terrible game of golf. During a visit to this country he visited the links of a country club in Westchester county, New York State.

After an especially miserable showing one morning, he flung down his niblick in disgust.

"Caddy," he said, addressing the youth who stood alongside, "that was awful, wasn't it?"

"Purty bad, sir."

"I'll have to confess that I am the worst golfer in the world," continued the actor.

"Oh, I wouldn't say that, sir," purred the caddy, soothingly.

"Did you ever see a worse player than I am?"

"No, sir, I never did," confessed the boy truthfully; "but some of the other boys was tellin' me yistiddy about a gentleman that must be a worse player than you are. They said his name was Walker-Smith."

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Trading With Latin America.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—In 1900 the United States did an export business of approximately $124,000,000 with the countries of Latin America. Last year we sold them almost $900,000,000 worth of our products. Even more significant than this astounding seven-fold increase, according to Dr. Julius Klein, of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, is the relative proportion of the total of Latin America's overseas purchases which now comes from the United States.

In the case of the prosperous and highly competitive markets on the east coast of South America, whereas in 1901 we supplied them with about 12 1-2 per cent of the total imports, our share in 1925 was more than 24 per cent. Our gain on the west coast is even more impressive—from 12 1-2 per cent to 32 per cent—due, it is believed, very largely to the influence of the Panama Canal. In the Caribbean markets where we furnished 46 per cent of the imports in 1901 our portion in 1925 was more than 63 per cent.

And while we have been building up our export trade with our neighbors on the south, our imports from them, chiefly raw materials, have shown almost as great an increase, having risen from $180,000,000 in 1900 to an annual average well in excess of $1,000,000,000 during the past three years.

Dr. Klein called attention to these figures in connection with the celebration at Niles, Ohio, of the home and birthday anniversary of William McKinley, saying that they were a most impressive verification of the prophesy in President McKinley's last public utterance, delivered at the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo just a few hours before his assassination. The great Ohioan not only predicted that the time was at hand for a great expansion of our export trade with the other American republics, but urged the importance of stimulating our imports from them.

"We must not repose in fancied security that we can forever sell everything and buy little or nothing," he said. "If such a thing were possible it would not be best for us and for those with whom we deal. We should take from our customers such of their products as we can use without harm to our industries and labor."

Their Best Customer.

Development along this line has made the United States the best customer of Latin America, for our importations from them are forming a steadily increasing proportion of their total overseas sales. A quarter of a century ago we took about 30 per cent of their total exports; last year our purchases comprised roughly 39 per cent. Thanks to the Panama Canal our imports from the west coast of South America have increased in the same period from 8 per cent of their total foreign sales to 35 per cent.

Clearly these commercial relationships are steadily growing more intimate, says Dr. Klein, more essential to the general prosperity of each party, and by that very circumstance they involve a mutual responsibility, both on the part of the business groups of the south and our own, to scrutinize with great care every possible element in that relationship.

"For example," continues the head of the foreign trade bureau, "there seems to be necessary some correction of the inclination still current among a few business circles in the United States to put all Latin American markets into the same category, to regard them at present, for instance, as all one disturbed area, whereas commercial conditions are of course totally different in the various republics, just as their respective standards of living, buying power, resources, topography, etc., are profoundly different.

Some of the leading republics have a higher percentage of white population than the United States has, and in others the great bulk of the people belong to native races. Each market offers its own problem, in some cases very different from our own, but in many others strikingly similar, due to the comparable geographic environment, transportation difficulties, similar raw material exploitation — mining, agriculture, lumbering, and the like.

The problem of improving commercial relationship would seem, therefore, in the judgment of this authority, to resolve itself, not into any question of respective superiority or inferiority, but rather one of discovering the many ways in which our experience with economic obstacles, particularly in our westward development, might be helpful to them.

Nor is it to be assumed that all the helpfulness will come from our side. Latin America already has us under obligation, because at least two-thirds of the present area of the United States was at one time or another under its influence.

Obstacles To Be Overcome.

Exuberant enthusiasts who seek to create the impression that Latin America offers absolutely unlimited trade possibilities for us only complicate the problem of improving trade relations, for that idea is wholly erroneous and embarrassing to the well informed Latin Americans. They know only too well that they have many great obstacles to be overcome before their economic development can attain anything approaching its prospective proportions.

Port works must be constructed, railways and highways built, water power developed, new populations scattered throughout the hinterland, and, above all, as Dr. Klein points out, greater diversification introduced into agriculture and industry. Even after these improvements have been accomplished there will still be formidable climate and geographic difficulties which will impede for years the economic development of vast stretches of territory.

There has been much talk to the effect that our Latin American trade may be jeopardized by European competition, and that our headway in recent years is largely in the form of ill-gotten war-time loot, which will be taken from us as soon as our European rivals have effected their readjustments and are ready to make a real drive for those markets. This idea is only partially correct, it is stated.

Of course we shall have to meet Europe's competition in some lines, and we are meeting it successfully even now. But it is equally true that as Europe progresses in the drive for Latin purchases of raw materials from Latin America, which in turn will make Latin America potentially a better customer of ours for she will have more money and credits with which to buy. Our task is to give South and Central Americans good values and meet their requirements.

Miss Bertha Savage, Mrs. George Hayes and Miss Eva Stoddard took part in the program.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Eva Stoddard, 950 Denver street on February 21.

NAB 41 ACTORS IN BROADWAY THEATRE RAIDS

New York's Acting Mayor Hits Licentious Performances.

WARNS PRODUCERS

Cast of "Sex," "Virgin Man" and "Captive" Held.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Raids on three Broadway plays, in which 41 actors, producers and managers were arrested last midnight, will be repeated if the theatres open their doors today, Acting Mayor Joseph McKee announced.

The lack of censorship as a curb to licentious performances, it was said, spurred city officials to take the matter in their own hands and clean the stage through strict enforcement of the penal code.

Thus last night, after the curtain fell on the last act, the cast, managers and producers of "Sex" at Daly's; "The Virgin Man," at the Princess, and "The Captive," at the Empire, were politely bundled into taxicabs, taken to the night court and held by Magistrate Flood in varying bail for hearings on Monday and Tuesday. All are charged with "corrupting morals of youth" and maintaining a public nuisance.

Nathan Burkan, who appeared for "The Captive" cast, said he would seek an injunction if necessary to protect his clients. He intimated that the management of the Empire will open the theatre today in defiance of the city's orders.

Police at Theatre Doors.

There were 41 stage folk in all, and Broadway—the thousands who got wind of the raids—experienced a real thrill.

To most of the Rialto folk it was a mighty funny affair, to city officials a mighty serious one. To impress this on the theatrical folk who crammed every nook and corner of the West Side night court, Acting Mayor McKee let it be known that policemen will be stationed today at each of the theatres raided, and arrests will be made if any attempt is made to re-open the theatres.

Stars Taken To Night Court.

McKee said that police will use their discretion in stopping any of three shows that essay to reopen. They are empowered to halt the show before it gets under way, or stop it after it has started or, as last night, wait until the show is ended before making any arrests.

Similarly, such stars as Helen Menken, Basil Rathbone, Gail Kane and Ann Trevor, along with lesser members of the cast were, with the same politeness, ushered into waiting taxi cabs. James Sinnott, secretary to the police department, personally aided in the arrests of Miss Menken and Miss Kane. Twelve "captives" were taken.

"The Virgin Man" was the last to feel the strong arm of the law. Seven members of this cast joined the contingent in night court.

Assistant District Attorney Unger previously had arranged to hold the principals of the casts and managers in $1,000 bail and the lesser performers in $500. The "captives" will be arraigned in Jefferson Market court on Monday afternoon, the cast of "The Virgin Man" will be arraigned at the same time and place, and the "Sex" troupe will be heard in the West Side court on Tuesday afternoon.

Guarantees "Allenrhu" To Ease Rheumatic Pains Twinges, or Money Back

Starts Its Good Work Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Mathews Medicine Store and every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if the first pint bottle of Allenrhu, the enemy of rheumatism, does not ease the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu usually relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out and drives the rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

Druggists everywhere guarantee it as above in every instance.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

CALL SALINEVILLE MURDER TRIAL NEXT MONTH

FIRST DEGREE COUNT SOUGHT IN OGLE DEATH

Roy Wallen's Trial Will be Rushed by Prosecutor.

SPECIAL VENIRE

Grand Jury Expected to Vote Indictment Monday.

Roy Wallen, 33, East Salineville man, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of Rodney Ogle, 57, a neighbor, during a quarrel at the Ogle home last Sunday night, probably will go on trial next month.

A first degree crime indictment will be asked by Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes when the grand jury meets at Lisbon, Monday, to investigate the crime.

Thirty days must elapse after the indictment is returned before the trial can start. A special venire of 75 persons will be drawn for the case.

Less than a dozen witnesses will be called by the state. Wallen has not yet engaged counsel.

DOES CHURCH HAVE CLAIM ON YOUR LIFE?

Rev. B. R. Johnson Answers Question in Sermon.

REVIVAL MEET

Wellsville Delegation to Attend Church of Christ Services.

A delegation of about 30 members from the First Church of Christ of Newell attended the revival service at the First Church of Christ last evening.

Rev. B. R. Johnson, pastor, used the subject, "Does the Church Have a Claim on Your Life?" for his discourse. Rev. Clarence A. Hanna, Cleveland, directed the singing and also rendered a solo, "Steal Away to Jesus."

The Wellsville Christian church will send a delegation to tonight's service, while the Lisbon church members will come here for Friday night's service. Rev. Mr. Johnson will use the theme, "When Ye Pray," for his discourse tonight. Rev. Mr. Hanna will sing "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer."

In his sermon last night the pastor said:

"To often the unthinking world looks upon the church as the assembling place of weaklings and mollycoddles. They pass the church as by an institution to be tolerated rather than to be honored and respected. Little do they think of its mighty contribution to the advancing civilization of our times.

"The greatest character of all time is the head of the church, Jesus Christ. Jesus founded the church upon a rock and that rock was the truth of his sonship, the fact that he is the son of God and the Savior of men. Against this truth, the gates of hell cannot prevail. Other institutions come and go, but the church goes on, doing its work and healing the hurt of human hearts. The church exists in the belief that all men are brothers and commits itself to the task of realizing the universal brotherhood of the race through loyalty to Christ and His kingdom.

"The church has given to us the Bible. Back in the day when worship was forbidden by the Roman empire, our church fathers stole away to the caves and dens of the earth and there worshiped the Father. They took with them the parchments containing the precious word of life. Later, when the world became tolerant, the catacombs were searched, the caves renovated and the Bible was put into form. Without that Word to guide the erring feet of men into light and life, we would be a wandering race without a compass and like a ship without a rudder.

"Chief Justice Marshall said, 'The Bible is the great light guiding the feet of men betwixt mortal darkness and immortal light."

The church has inspired our art, poetry and sculpture. Remove the influence of the church from the art of the world and it is empty and meaningless. The church has inspired and given the world its best poetry and music.

"In the closing years of Handle's life he was in Moscow and witnessed the rendition of his famous "Messiah" and after the rendition he was called to the platform and greeted with such applause as only such a composition could inspire. But he could not make the speech they wanted him to make; so shaken was he by his emotion, he could do nothing more than lift his hand toward the heavens and say, "It came from yonder.'

"The church has given to us our noble and Christian parenthood. Back in the little country church, many of our parents learned to worship God and from the sources of power there they taught us to lisp the sacred names of Jesus, Father, God. Our mothers went to church. They were great and noble souls. As the children of their love we should honor the institution they honored and that has meant so much in shaping the ideals and the character of the race."

Plans For Resurfacing of Main Street Considered By Council

Chamber of Commerce to Co-operate; Conference With Traction Company First Step.

Plans for the re-surfacing of Main street from the Third street intersection to Seventeenth street have been launched by city council committeemen with the co-operation of the Wellsville chamber of commerce.

Preliminary arrangements for one of the most important street projects here in a number of years, were discussed by the council street and light committee with officers and other representatives of the chamber of commerce last night.

The first move, it is said, in the improvement plan, will be a conference with officials of the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company with a view to determining whether the car company will be willing to work with the city in the proposition. No definite date has been decided upon for the conference.

The proposed improvement has been considered by city council for a long time. The bricks in Main street have been down for probably 34 or 35 years, and, as a result of frequent excavations for sewers, and gas and water line connections, is becoming more or less corrugated in places.

The proposed improvement probably would operate on a three-way basis, as concerns cost, with the city, the car company and property owners sharing.

MISSION MEET AT U. P. CHURCH

Members of the Women's Missionary society of the First United Presbyterian church will convene on Friday night in the church.

The meeting will be held under the leadership of Mrs. Minnie McKim, assisted by Mrs. William Baxter and Mrs. John Rehman.

Mrs. Lulu Aten will have charge of the devotionals. Current missionary news will be given in response to roll call.

The hostesses will include Mrs. M. M. McConnell, Mrs. J. M. Kerr and Mrs. W. Fogo.

HILLCREST CLUB PLANS SOCIAL

Arrangements are under way for the Valentine box and pie social which will be held on Monday night in the Hillcrest school house under auspices of the Hillcrest Community club.

A program will be given.

WHITE SHRINE HOLDS MEETING

The Wellsville White Shrine chapter met last night in its lodge rooms in the Knights of Pythias hall, Fifth and Main street.

A luncheon and social hour followed the business session. Mrs. R. O. Stewart and Mrs. Lilly Frost, of East Liverpool, were the hostesses.

NAZARENE MEETS CONTINUE HERE

Rev. Earl Stillion last night discussed the subject, "The Three Appearings of Jesus" at revival services in the Nazarene Mission here.

He cited the first appearance in Bethlehem, the second after the resurrection and the third when Christ comes again.

Four professed conversion at the close of the services.

O. N. O. Club Meet Tonight.

Members of the O. N. O. club will be entertained tonight at the home of Mrs. John Mylar in Newell.

MRS. HARRY CLARK W. C. T. U. HOSTESS

Victory W. C. T. U. members convened recently at the home of Mrs Harry Clark, in Broadway.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. Feiss and Mrs. L. C. Momberg. Readings were given by Mrs. W. J. Baxter and Mrs. H. Wellington on the "Life of Miss Frances Willard," former W. C. T. U. leader.

A program followed the business session, including a piano solo by Mrs. Farmer; a reading, "The Dishes," by Mrs. Walter Weldon; duet by Elizabeth McClelland and Letha Mae Clark, accompanied by Miss Margaret Urie; reading, "Pussy and Puppy," by Carola Hudson and Letha Clark; contest, won by Helen Crawford.

A three-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. VanDyke and Miss Letha Clark.

The next meeting, which will take the form of a coverdish party, will be held March 4 in the First Christian church. Mrs. Walter Weldon will be in charge.

IRONDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Russell of Salineville spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell.

On Friday evening the local high school basketball teams will go to New Cumberland to clash with the West Virginians there. A large crowd of local fans are expected to accompany the teams.

The I. A. C. was defeated by a score of 38 to 12 at Amsterdam Monday evening.

On Thursday evening the I. A. C. five will play the Ceramics on the local court. Two good preliminaries are being arranged between grade boys and girls from Wellsville and local grade boys and girls.

"Braveheart," a feature photoplay presented by the local schools Monday evening, was well attended. An educational reel, "The Story of Automotive Lubrication," was also shown.

Mrs. Mary Golden Brown, of Salineville, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Hanna Johnson, who has been visiting relatives at Salineville, returned to her home here Tuesday.

T. M. Johnston, of Canton, has concluded a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. X. Johnston.

Chief Strongheart, as the third number of the school entertainment course, pleased a good sized audience with his recital lecture, "From Peace Pipe to War Trail." The chief directed and played a part in the photoplay, "Braveheart," which was shown here Monday. The concluding number of the course will be given March 22 by the Musicland Entertainers.

Miss Maude McMahan, fourth grade teacher, was unable to assume her duties Wednesday on account of illness.

"Bolshevism on Trial," a feature picture based upon the novel, "Comrade," by Thomas Dixon, Jr., will be shown at the school gym Monday evening, as the next of the school's picture program. The story is that of an unscrupulous Soviet leader who induces a young millionaire to give him Paradise Isle, off the coast of Florida, where his group of American followers can put all their theories into practice. A never to be forgotten lesson of Americanism is taught and the picture is said to be fully as gripping as Dixon's "Birth of a Nation." The cast includes Robert Fraser, Henry Truesdell, May Hopkins, Chief Standing Bear and Valda Valkyrien. In addition to the feature picture, Charlie Chaplin will be seen in "The Floorwalker."

MISS RUTH PERRY PARTY HOSTESS

COUNTY SCHOOL EVENTS LISTED

Plans Announced for Annual Essay and Spelling Contests.

Plans for the annual spelling and essay contest open to the students of the Hancock county high schools were completed at a meeting of school superintendents held yesterday in the office of County Superintendent H. O. Miller at New Cumberland.

Preliminary tests will be held in the various schools when district winners will be selected. The finals of both contests will be held in the First National bank building here on April 15. Outside judges will be in charge.

John E. Newell, president of the Hancock County Building and Loan company, and R. A. Douglass, secretary-treasurer of the company, who attended the meeting, announced that prizes of $15, $10 and $5 would be given by the banking company to the contestants finishing first, second and third in both events.

Announcement was made in connection with the spelling contest that any student failing in a word that judges must withdraw it and not resubmit it to the next student.

Those present were H. O. Miller, county superintendent; A. L. Robenstein, Chester; A. D. Osborne, Newell; W. D. Johnson, Weirton; D. H. Henderson, New Cumberland; John E. Newell and R. A. Douglass, both of Chester.

CHESTER BANK TO BANK TOSSERS

Chester high school basketball team is scheduled to meet the strong Federal Title & Trust company five of Beaver Falls tomorrow on the Rock Springs park floor. The Beaver county aggregation is composed mainly of Geneva college students. The preliminary game will be between the Junior high and Freshmen.

Saturday night Coach Wilde's charges are listed to clash with Salineville at the latter place. The girls' team is also scheduled to meet the Salineville passers.

SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNTY COURT

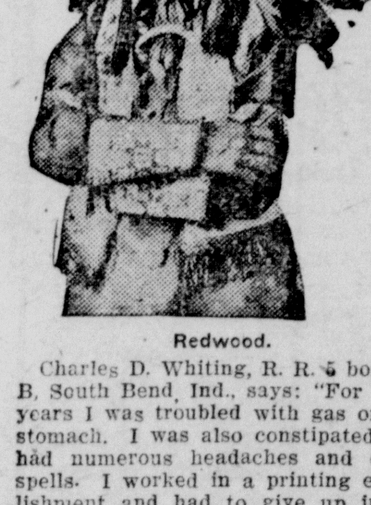
FAILING HEALTH FORCED HIM TO WORK OUT DOORS

Now Back on Inside Job; Feels Better Than For Years; Credits Tepee Herb Tonic With Complete Recovery.

We can't all work out of doors where the air is pure and exercise is an aid to health. And so, the men and women who work in stores, offices and shops often fall easy prey to stomach kidney and liver troubles. Such people will find Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic an invaluable medicine.



Redwood.

Charles D. Whiting, R. R. 5 box 119 B, South Bend, Ind., says: "For eight years I was troubled with gas on my stomach. I was also constipated and had numerous headaches and dizzy spells. I worked in a printing establishment and had to give up inside work and go to collecting so that I would have the benefit of pure air and good exercise. But my outside work didn't help much.

"A short time ago I started to take Tepee Herb Tonic and it worked wonders for me. I am now going back to work in the printing plant. I am never troubled with gas on my stomach Neither do I have headaches or dizzy spells. Redwood's Tepee Tonic simply gave me a new lease on life. I am delighted to recommend it."

Tepee Herb Tonic is sold and re- and by well stocked drug stores and by all well stocked drug stores everywhere.

Retired Mill Employes Received $3,098.65 During Past Year.

Sixteenth annual report of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension fund shows that in the year of 1926 the sum of $2,537,916.92 was distributed as pensions among retired employes of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiary companies which included $3,098.65 to retired employes of the Chester plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company.

Five former employes of the Chester mill are on the pension list, three of whom reside here. The last man placed on the pension roll was John R. Morris, 49, of East Liverpool, who was retired owing to disability with a pension of $55.25 a month.

Carnegie Steel company was first among the subsidiaries in the amount paid to retired employes, the sum being $615,604.67. Some of the bigger subsidiary companies, and their pension disbursements, were. American Steel and Wire company, $557,044.40; American Sheet and Tin Plate company, $347,505.32; National Tu' company, $241,957.87; H. C. Frick Coke company, $196,530.59; Illinois Steel company, $130,057.27; American Bridge company,, $120,903.15; Oliver Iron Mining company, $105,202.40; Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, $35,802.20; Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad company, $35,033.05; and Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway company, $28,442.15.

There were 1,185 employes added to the pension roll during 1926 and 532 were removed by death. At the close of the year there were 5,737 on the pension roll.

The average age of the 1,185 employes retired in 1926 was 62.79 years; their average period of service was 31.57 years, and the average monthly pension, $47.05.

The total amount paid in pensions since the inauguration of the pension plan on January 1st, 1911, was $15,933,725.75.

The beneficiaries of the pension fund make no contributions to the fund, the income of the latter being derived from a fund created jointly by Andrew Carnegie and the United States Steel corporation. The latter provides also whatever additional moneys may be required in the administration of the pension plan.

The pension fund applies to all employes of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiary companies, numbering approximately 250,000.

DONAHEY SEEKS SENATE O. K. OF 41 APPOINTEES

Governor to Send Names to Upper House Today.

AWAITS VERDICT

Floor Leader Pledges Action Before End of Week.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—Names of 41 appointees will be sent by Governor Vic Donahey to the Ohio senate today for confirmation. On behalf of senate leaders, Senator C. C. Bolton, Cleveland, Republican floor leader, has assured the governor, it was understood, that all these appointments will be acted upon by the senate not later than the end of next week.

Governor Donahey's decision to send these names to the senate was reached as a result of two conferences Wednesday between the governor and Senator Bolton who urged the governor, it was stated, to permit the senate to pass upon all of the governor's appointments before Monday, February 21.

Except by a three-fifths vote of either legislative branch no more bills will be introduced in the senate or house after February 21. Bolton explained to the governor that legislative leaders desired to have the question of confirmation of appointments disposed of before that date in order that the legislators might give their undivided attention to the big legislative program confronting them.

To Act on Leonard's Name.

It was expected that the senate will act this week upon the question of confirming Governor Donahey's appointment of Wellington T. Leonard, Mansfield, Republican, as a member of the state industrial commission. Leonard's name was sent to the senate by the governor more than two weeks ago, but has been held up by the senate rules committee.

Identity of the appointments to be sent to the senate today by the governor had not been discussed early today. These appointments it was announced, will include: Three members of the state utilities commission, two on the state tax commission, two on the state civil service commission, three on the state medical board, two on the state optometry board, five on the state buildings standards board, two members of the state pharmacy board, 11 members of the board of trustes of Miami university, one member of the board of trustees of Wilberforce university and two members, each, of the boards of trustees of Ohio State and Ohio universities, Kent and Bowling Green state normal schools, and the Soldiers' and Sailors' home, Xenia.

Queen Elizabeth of the Hellenes has started the fad this season of wearing horn-rimmed spectacles at the theatre.

EVANS WOOLLEN, INDIANA, DEMOCRATS' "DARK HORSE"

TAGGART SAYS M'ADOO-SMITH FIGHT CERTAIN

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis Convention Cities.

HITS RUM ISSUE

Hoosier Leader, Now at Miami, Fla, is Interviewed.

By Larry Smits.

(Copyright 1927, By International News Service.)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 10.—Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will get the next Democratic national convention; prohibition should not be made a national campaign issue; William Gibbs McAdoo of California and Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York will mix in another hot personal battle for the presidential nomination, but Evans Woolen of Indiana is the "dark horse" to be watched.

These are the opinions of Thomas Taggart, former United States senator from Indiana and present Democratic leader of that state, as expressed in an interview today at the Flamingo hotel here, where the Indiana leader is enjoying a winter rest.

"I sincerely hope that prohibition will not be made a national political issue in the 1928 presidential campaign," Taggart said. "There are just as many Republicans as there are Democrats that want liquor. An attempt is now being made, as have been made in other campaigns to saddle the liquor problem on to the backs of the Democrats. But I did not want to have my party win on the issue of liquor. It should not be an issue.

Attorney and Banker.

"Governor Smith of New York and W. G. McAdoo will be the dominating figures of the 1928 convention, at its start, as they were in the Madison Square Garden struggle in 1924. Their fight will run a similar course again but more briefly. I believe that Evans Woollen of Indianapolis is the logical selection. He is relatively unknown nationally, although he is strong in Indiana.

"Woollen is a former attorney, now a banker and business man, and is first vice-president of the American Central Life Insurance company. He was federal fuel administrator for Indiana in 1917 and 1918, a member of the Indiana state counsel of defense and chairman of the Indiana commission of the war finance corporation."

Other figures seen by Taggart as bulking important in the 1928 convention are Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture, and Governor A. C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Farmers Present Real Problem.

Taggart indicated that he did not believe Governor Smith would win the nomination, but he had this to say:

"If the Democrats do nominate Smith I believe all Democrats in every section of the country—and I do not exclude the south—would vote for him. I believe he would make a good president, but Woollen would have strength which Smith could not command. He would make the best contender the Democrats have put forward in years."

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the next convention city, in his opinion, Taggart said.

"The farmers in the west and the cotton growers in the south present the first real problems for political solution," he declared. "Next in importance is the tariff."

Mrs. Taggart and their daughter, Lucy, are here with Taggart. They will remain until the end of March.

witnesses. It also was said that the prosecution would call Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Slagel, who unwittingly harbored McDermott in Cleveland while Pat eluded police for three months.

Bachtel had prepared charts which the state offered in evidence, showing the garage door and the window of the kitchen, through which the shots were fired. He was cross-examined by George Gordon Battle, New York lawyer, of defense counsel.

Asked by Battle if it was not possible that the four shots fired at Mellett might not have been fired by four different persons Bachtel said that it was. This question was interpreted as laying the basis for Rudner's defense, along the lines that Mellett's murder was not the result of a preconceived plot with a hired assassin acting as gunman for pay, but that the attacks upon vice which he had made through the Canton Daily News had aroused citizens of the underworld to act co-operatively to end them.

Mrs. Mellett will be followed on the stand by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vail, who were guests of the Melletts on the night of the murder.

to honor the heroes. He left for the purpose £1,000 with order to let it grow. Now it is £8,000, and the memorial will be built.

Time and compound interest work wonders. A dollar invested at the beginning of our era, at compound interest would be worth today more than a lump of gold as big as the earth. Save something.

MILLIONS all over the United States and millions in foreign countries will hear President Coolidge plainly, when he talks about Washington Feb. 22. And listeners in, 1,000 miles away, will hear the President's words before they are heard by those five yards from the President—electricity travels around the earth while sound in traveling a few yards.

All that would surprise George Washington, and make him proud to be still "first in the hearts of countrymen," able to perform such miracles But if he returned, to find radio, telephones, flying machines, submarines, moving pictures, no wigs and bobbed ladies, he would say "put me back, it cannot be real."

WASHINGTON is agitated by talk of skyscrapers near the White House. They will destroy the beauty of that venerable building, critics say. But they won't.

Whatever is useful is beautiful. When, after Greely's death, his New York Tribune pushed a red and black building up nine stories into the air, many said, "it will ruin beautiful old city hall." It did not, and the Woolworth, close to the beautiful old city hall and nearly sixty stories high, has not ruined it, either.

This is the country of high buildings, and the higher the better. Let us see what we can do, and get ready gradually for the roof airplane landing, with elevators going down, before they go up.

Auxiliary Naval Craft Pact.

Speaking for the United States, President Coolidge advised the powers that America's delegates to Geneva will be authorized to negotiate for an agreement covering auxiliary navel craft. He invited them to similarly equip their delegates with authority.

"The American government is most anxious," the memorandum said, that concrete results in the limitation of armament may be achieved.

"The discussions of the preparatory commission have emphasized that a number of governments consider that one of the chief obstacles to the general reduction and limitation of armament lies in the interdependence of land, sea and air armaments, and in the consequent impossibility of reducing or limiting one of these categories without dealing simultaneously with the others.

"On the other hand, the discussions have demonstrated even more emphatically that, should all effort to bring about reduction or limitation of armament be conditioned upon the acceptance of all the world of a comprehensive plan covering all classes of armament, there would be little, if any, prospect of actual progress in the near future.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 10.—Only meagre dispatches have been received from the war area today, but the latest available dispatches indicated that Sun Chuan Fang is still withstanding the Cantonese push for Shanghai.

With both sides heavily reinforced the warfare is reported to be approaching proportions of considerable magnitude and it is believed here that the present engagement will be decisive.

NEW GAS TAX BILLS IN HOUSE

Propose Increase in Assessment; Another Tag Sale Plan.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—Bills proposing an increase in the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon, authorizing use of a portion of this revenue for construction of highways by the state, enlarging the state's share of this fund, and providing for the sale of state auto license tags once in five years, instead of annually as at present, are pending today in the Ohio house of representatives.

Representative Frank A. Brown, Ross county, offered a bill decreeing that the state shall receive 50 per cent, instead of 45 per cent, of the gasoline tax, that cities shall receive 25 per cent, instead of 30 as at present, and that the 25 per cent allotted to Ohio's 88 counties shall remain unchanged. Brown's bill authorizes the state to appropriate definite sums from this fund for construction of new highways.

A bill, by Representative A. O. Burnett, Trumbull county, would increase the gasoline tax to three cents per gallon and permit autoists to retain a state license tag five years without an increase in the license fee. Burnett estimated that not only would the boost in the gasoline tax offset the loss in revenue from the sale of auto tags, but his proposel law would effect a saving to the state of more than $600,000 annually, the amount now spent for the manufacture of auto license tags.

Representative Dallas Sullivan, Union County, introduced a bill providing for a 3 cent gasoline tax and increasing the state's share of this revenue to 66⅔ per cent, the balance to be divided equally between the counties and municipalities.

WAR VETERANS HONOR SOLDIER OF FORTUNE ON 100TH BIRTHDAY

DETROIT, Mich. — Detroit war veterans honored Capt. Wolpole Roland, Detroit soldier of fortune who reached his 100th year.

Capt. Roland has fought in every war since the Crimean. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, pinned decorations on him at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, and also gave a dinner-dance in his honor at the Book-Cadillac.

Captain Roland was nearly 90 when the World war started but he served as an inspector of engineering supplies in Pittsburgh. The aged veteran has fought under five flags.

He served under the famous "Chinese" Gordon in India and Egypt and witnessed the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava. While in Crimea he met General George B. McClelland, then a lieutenant in the United States army detailed as an observer, and while Captain Roland was an engineer officer in the Turkish army. The two became fast friends. Because of this friendship McClelland sent for Roland during the Civil war and he served under the general as an engineering officer and typegraphical expert.

The Civil war ended, Captain Roland cast his lot with the Bonapartists in Mexico and was a civil engineering advisor at Washington during the Spanish-American war.

SNAILS, BAMBOO SHOOTS, DRIED DUCK MAY SOON BE AMERICAN FOODS

BERKELEY, Cal.—Water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, Foo Kwa and dried duck, the delights of Chinese epicures, are just as nutritious as table favorites in the United States, Miss Asta Ohn, University of California graduate, has determined after careful analysis.

Reporting upon the nutritive value of oriental foods, Miss Ohn said the most striking difference in the composition of food in the Orient and in this country was the absence of dairy products, milk, cheese and butter, in the Far Eastern diet.

Rice, sweet potatoes and taro replace cereals and the Irish potato in the Orient and duck and other fowls are eaten more than beef or mutton, she reported.

Oriental methods of food preparation and preservation preserve the vitamin and mineral content of the foods, the report indicated. Miss Ohn closed her extensive survey with the hope that "each country will supplement its diet by adding articles of food from other lands."

"Have you had your snails and bamboo shoots today?" may soon confront the reader on every hand.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Irene Evilsizer.

Funeral services for Mrs. Irene Evilsizer, 18 years old, wife of John Evilsizer, who died yesterday in her home, 316 Summit lane, after an illness of a complication of diseases, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman, 1030 Oak street, in charge of Field Major Joseph Hughes of the Salvation Army. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

She is survived in addition to her husband and parents by one son, James George, five brothers, Clarence, Akron; Eugene, Mansfield; Charles, Ernest and Everett, all of East Liverpool, and six sisters, Mrs. Charles Johnson, New Martinsville; Mrs. Bessie Prosser, Canton; Mrs. Ethel Newell, Akron; Mrs. Leona Mitchenson, and Misses Laura and Lanora Coleman, of this city.

Friends can view the body Thursday and Friday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock.

Four Men Arrested When Police Raid Labor Council Room

Patrolman Herman Roth raided a room in Trades and Labor council hall, Fifth and Washington streets, late yesterday afternoon, arresting four men.

Charles Carraher one of the quartet, charged with intoxication was fined $50 and costs and ordered committed to the county jail at Lisbon until the fine is paid. The other three, who drew fines of $10 and costs were John Thomas, also charged with intoxication, Art Craven and Harold Duffy, who were held on charges of loitering. They were also committed to jail.

James Hood was arrested at his home in East End by Patrolman Chester Smith last night upon charges of assault preferred by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Hood. He pleaded not guilty when he faced Judge Haney and the case was continued until 10 o clock Friday morning. He was released on his own recognizance.

Ohio Odd Fellows' Grand Master to Speak Here Tonight

S. N. Young, Toledo, grand master of Ohio Odd Fellows, will be the honor guest at an open meeting of district lodge men in the I. O. O. F. temple, West Sixth street, tonight. The meeting is for members of the order, their families and friends.

A program of music and other features will be presented beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Luncheon will be served.

Witness Suffers Heart Attack at Divorce Hearing

Russell Shelly, Columbiana, suffered a heart attack while testifying in the divorce action of Rowland Sproul against his wife, Isabelle Sproul, in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday, and had to be carried into the private office of the court, where he was attended by Dr. Seward Harris. Shelly was soon revived but was not recalled to the stand.

Judge W. F. Lones, who presided at the hearing, reserved his decision in the case.

As the result of experiments in delivering supplies by airplane to Mont Blanc, which is 14,300 feet high, the plan may be tried for other observatories of Europe.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Speculative interests shifted from the "little rails' to the industrial and specialty stocks in early trading today. With the collapse of the bubble in the low priced merger-rails, and the wiping out of margins in Wednesday's violent decline, the professionals turned their attention to the industrial stocks which have been comparatively quiet of late.

Price declines in the bulk of the railroad stocks were moderate, though the sky-flying Wheeling & Lake Erie common lost 10 points on only one sale of 1000 shares reported in the first hour of trading. The preferred sold at 83, down 4, while Chicago Great Western lost 2 and Western Maryland 3½. The high grade investment rails made a better showing.

The pool in Baldwin Locomotives advanced the price of that stock to 172 in order to force short covering. Radio corporation continued its spectacular advance to 56½. United States Rubber moved up to 64½ in its widely-advertised "drive" and a few of the well-known oils, including producers & refiners, Shell Union and Skelly displayed a strong trend.

The forward move of the industrials encounter considerable resistance in the second hour, when short selling was resumed on a heavy scale by the professionals. The "little rails" were also offered in large volume, and the trend of prices turned sharply downward.

KIWANIS HEARS WALTER B. HILL

Attorney Tells of Motor Trip to California.

A travelogue concerning his automobile tour from East Liverpool to Los Angeles, Cal., last November, was delivered by Attorney Walter B. Hill, at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins' annex, Market street, today.

He told of incidents of the trip which he said required only 96 hours of actually traveling time. The route from East Liverpool was via Columbus, Dayton, Terre Haute, Cairo, Memphis thence through Arkansas to Fort Worth, El Paso and to California.

Vice President Charles Hendershot presided. Prof. Hugh Laughlin led the singing, with Clair Chambers as accompanist. Fifty club members and guests were present.

Rev. Clarence Hanna, Cleveland, who is assisting in a revival campaign at the First Church of Christ, rendered three vocal solos.

associations" and the vote of all members of the board from the district "raising fifty per cent of the crop" affected, before the board could act.

In time of crop emergencies, caused by a huge surplus, the McNary bill would permit the board to make loans to cooperatives, under the conditions named above, for the purpose of stabilizing the prices by storage, or exportation of the surplus. It would guarantee the finances necessary even to hold a huge surplus off the American market, while awaiting payment of the loans from a stabiliization fund created by payment of the equalization fee. The board would fix the equalization fee on any crop affected.

Equalization Fee Crux of Bill.

The equalization fee, which is the crux of the McNary-Haugen bill, would be a sort of insurance premium paid by the farmer to guarantee a fair price for his whole crop. It would be collectable only on the portion of a crop sold in the American market but would be high enough to cover whatever losses the cooperatives suffered in selling the surplus aboard. In theory, this action would keep the American market price always higher than the world market price and so much higher, that the farmer would receive more for his whole crop, even after paying the equalization fee, than he would have received if the surplus were allowed to clog the local markets, bringing the American price level down to the world market price as in previous years.

The Curtis-Aswell bill would eliminate the equalization fee. It would provide for the board functioning in time of crop emergencies by the extension of loans to cooperatives engaged in stabilizing the price levels. In time of a national crop emergency, these loans would draw one per cent interest and at other times, interest at the rate of 4½ per cent, repayable in 20 years. In theory, it would result much the same as the McNary-Haugen bill but there would be no guarantees for the board getting back the loans.

ELKS LAUNCH SECOND HALF DRIVE AGAINST LISBON TONIGHT

Addition of Former Collegian Expected To Strengthen Club

"Chick" Flannigan, Ex-Duquesne University Pivot Man, to Jump Center Against County Seaters; Wilde Goes to Forward.

Defeated for the first half championship of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league by a series of unfortunate circumstances, among which was a lack of field goals in the final games, the East Liverpool Elks tonight will launch their second section drive, aided materially by an unexepected God-send in the person of "Chick" Flannigan, former Duquesne University center.

Flannigan, a six-footer, who can handle the leather like a "Horse" Haggerty," and who, perhaps, might have given Bill Powell, old Central League luminary, a run in his salad days, will go after that tip-off on the high school court here against Lisbon.

Officials of the Elks' club announced today that Flannigan, employed by the Harry Altman Clothing company here, will go to the pivot post in his inaugural county league assignment, and will bring the roster up to normal strength following the departure of one or two of the second string performers.

He will take a big burden off the shoulders of Ray Wilde, one of the team's scoring stars, by permitting Wilde to get up on a forward job where he rightfully belongs and where he can employ all his court skill and artifices to the best advantage. Wilde has been the main-spring in the B. P. O. E. attack. Never a center by preference or physical qualifications, he has been handicapped to a great extent by the demands of the tip-off job, and if he can be released to skip at will about the enemy basket zone, there is little doubt that the locals scoring will be benefited.

The shifting of Wilde will give Powell's outfit three good forwards instead of two, with the clever Tom Pusey and Carl Wilson on the job also.

On the defense line will be found the reliable "Chuck" McConville and Smith Anderson, as good, if not better, than any other pair of guards in the circuit.

The First Baptist church team of the local Sunday school league and the Wellsville Epworth League five will clash at 7:15 in the preliminary engagement.

Initial games in the second half were staged last night at Lisbon and Columbiana, the Salem Mullins Body five downing the county seaters by a score of 40 to 22, and the Boosters trimming Salineville, 48 to 17.

The Salem-Lisbon engagement witnessed the return of the noted "Red" Mattícks, center, to the Salem lineup. "Red," after an absence of several weeks in Canton, turned in 10 field goals and three fouls for the body builders, for a total collection of 23 points.

Sidinger, who has been playing a good game at guard for the Salem outfit, was moved up to a forward post to take the place of Jenkins, who entered Akron university at the close of the first half season. He, with Hawkins, Roessler and Siskowic gathered a total of 17 points, three less than Matticks scored alone.

Johnson and Warren led the Lisbon five, with seven points each.

Salineville had less chance with Columbiana than Lisbon did with Salem "Boots" Hawkins and his gang tossed in field goals from all angles for a grand total of 48 points, with the regular first-half lineup in action. Dowd, at forward, collected 19 points, and Thomas, at center, 17. Center Grundy and Forward Wilson were the leading performers for the visitors.

CAGE GAME ONE PRO SPORT THAT MAY 'CARRY ON'

Has Good Chance to Live Say Financial Backers.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 7.—Basketball is one new professional sport being tried on a national plan that has a chance to live. So say the men who are carrying the brunt of the financial burden in the promoting of the game. And they are the ones who should know best.

Professional basketball has thrived in the east for several years, but it is practically a new venture in the middle west. While professional teams have been playing the game in the middle west for some time it was not until a year ago, when the American Professional Basketball League was formed, that this section of the country went in for the pro sport in a serious vein.

Weeding Out Poor Cities.

When the American league was organized in 1925 nine cities took out franchises. Of the original nine, three have dropped out and two new cities have been added. Boston and Buffalo quit after the first season. Philadelphia and Baltimore took up their franchises when the present season began and the league once more started out as a nine-club circuit Detroit, however, failed to win one of its first six games The fans refused to support the team. So Detroit quit. The automobile city has asked that its franchise be reserved for a year, however, for they want to get back in the league if they find they can muster a new team next season. The league is now an eight-club circuit and will start out its second-half schedule in February with the following cities as members—Cleveland, Washington, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Ft. Wayne, Baltimore and Rochester.

Brooklyn found the going a little rocky during the present season, also, and the team that was good enough to win the championship of the first half of the 1925-26 schedule and oppose Cleveland in the world series, lost five straight games and the patronage began to dwindle. But backers of the Brooklyn team got busy and offered their franchise to the famous New York Celtics and that club withdrew from the old Metropolitan league to enter the more prosperous American circuit as the Brooklyn representatives.

The world champion Cleveland team got away to a flying start in the 1926-27 race and won the first half championship in a great battle with Washington, runner-up in both halves of the race the year before. Cleveland presented the identical lineup which won it the championship last year, which included Nat Hickey and Carl Husta, forwards; Rich Deighan, center and Honey Russell and Davie Kerr, guards.

The attendance record for the season was set at Philadelphia when 9,000 fans turned out to view the game between Philadelphia and the Celtics. The same week 6,500 spectators were out for the first of the two games between Cleveland and Washington to decide the championship of the first-half schedule and 7,000 attended the second game. Those kind of attendance make up for a lot of mediocre crowds.

From the playing end the competition could not be keener. Any team in the league is strong enough that, on its good nights, it can defeat the leading outfits of the circuit.

Joe Carr, president of the National Professional Football league as well as president of the Columbus baseball club of the American Association, is president and secretary of the American Basketball league. Clarence Alter of Ft. Wayne is vice president and I. S. Rose, Cleveland, treasurer. The executive committee is comprised of Max Rosenblum, Cleveland; George Halas, Chicago and George Marshall, Washington.

The outstanding players of the circuit, perhaps, are Nat Holman of the Celtics, regarded as the greatest basketball player in the world; Russell Saunders, 20-year-old star of Washing, who led the league in scoring the first year; Ray Kennedy of Washington; this year's scoring leader: Honey Russell, Cleveland guard, runner-up for scoring honors in 1925-26 and a contender again this year; Nat Hickey, of Cleveland, second to Kennedy in the scoring race this year, and Passon of Philadelphia, who is right among the leaders in the scoring column in in the final perior and the battle was his first year in the new league.

REDLEGS' STAR TO PLAY CENTER ON M'GRAW NINE

"Long George" to be Used in Cincinnati Outfield.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—All standing—sitting—standing records for player turnover in the major leagues were broken beyond recognition today with the announcement that the New York Giants had taken title to Ed Roush in consideration for the passing of George Kelly to the Cincinnati Reds. That one just about closed the book, unless I am grossly in error in the notion that the Yankess are not seriously considering a transfer of Babe Ruth to the Phillies and that the Senators aren't likely to send Walter Johnson to Fort Wayne for further seasoning.

They are, with the sole exception of George Sisler in St. Louis, the only ranking figures of the profession who have remained, as is, during the exigencies of this most sensational of all off seasons.

Suppose you were informed at the conclusion of the last world series that the winning manager, Rogers Hornsby, would be traded to the New York Giants before another season began. You would have laughed in great glee. Suppose it was added that Ty Cobb, Detroit institution and greatest player of the day, age, generation and time without memory, would appear during 1927 in the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics and that Tris Speaker, defensive genius and great hitter, would leave Cleveland for Washington. You would have been entitled to punch your informant full on the nose on general principles. But you'd have to go back now and apologize like a little gentleman.

However, if you still were conscious after the Cobb-Speaker shock, the next thing would be to demand bigger and better pads for cells after you were informed that Eddie Collins would leave Chicago for the Philadelphia Athletics; that Frank Frisch would leave the Giants for the St. Louis Cardinals; that Zach Wheat would leave Brooklyn for the Philadelphia Athletics and that Burleigh Grimes would leave Brooklyn for the Giants.

By that time, any sensible man would wish to leave the vicinity for the sake of his health. But then truth ever did pass all human understanding.

And now Kelly for Roush. I suppose that, even at this immature moment, forecasts are being aired to the effect that the series of deals has "made" the Giants and Athletics and that John McGraw and Connie Mack have been detected again in a lot of deep thinking. Time alone will tell that story. With temperamental lads like Hornsby, Roush and Cobb involved, it would seem to be smart business to see more and say less, pending developments.

For years, McGraw has tried intermittently to land either Hornsby or Roush. Now he has both at one and the same time and that should be eminently satisfactory, at least until the start of the season.

Roush, of course, will play center field, giving McGraw his first real star in that position since Donlin's day. Edward, however, will be thirty-four in May and that isn't so good considering the fact that McGraw had him 10 years ago and wasn't interested. Roush hit .323 in 144 games last year, while Kelly's best was .302 in 136 games. At that, George drove in one more run that Roush, 80 to 79, while Bill Terry, who will replace Kelly, accounted for 43 and hit .280, mostly as a pinch hitter. Kelly is 31 years old.

In view of Wally Pipp's excellent season in 1926 and Kelly's adaptability, the latter probably will be played in the Cincinnati outfield until such time as it is discovered that, as an outfielder, he is able to play lots of baseball around first base.

Harry Hnizder, forward of the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team, is known as a dangerous member of the team to foes of the court. Sports writers find him equally as dangerous as a typographical problem. Harry estimates his name is spelled right but 10 percent of the time. And the pronunciations of it range from Sneezer to Noser. He pronounces it by leaving the "H" silent and sounding the "i" short.

SECOND HALF CHURCH CARD

League Teams Clash for Final Chance in Series.

Complete schedule for the second half games of the Church basketball league was announced today by Harvey Price, league secretary.

The Methodist Protestants were returned first half champions last week and will play the winner of the closing section for the season's title.

The schedule follows:

Feb. 12 — U. P.-M. P; Baptists-Christians (Y. gym).

Feb. 14—U. P.-Lutherans (M. E. gym).

Feb. 17—Presbyterians-Christians (M. P. gym).

Feb. 19—U. P.-Presbyterians; M. P.-Lutherans (Y. gym); Baptists-M. E. (high schol preliminary).

Feb. 21—Presbyterians-M. P. (M. E. gym).

Feb. 24—U. P.-Baptists (M. P. gym).

Feb. 26—Lutherans-M. E.; Christians-U. P. (Y. gym).

Feb. 28—Lutherans-Presbyterians; Christians-M. E. (M. P. gym).

CAMEL
TURKISH & DOMESTIC BLEND CIGARETTES

Modern smokers enjoy the mellow fragrance of Camel

THE smokers of this modern age appreciate the smooth, mellow fragrance of Camels — that taste and goodness that come from the choicest tobaccos grown. Camel's steadily growing popularity with modern smokers has given it the greatest preference any cigarette ever had. In quality and in fame Camel is supreme.

Meet the cigarette that has won the modern world. There is not another like it — regardless of the price. Always mellow, always mild — the smoothest smoke ever made.

Buick owners enjoy the savings of leadership

In purchase price and daily use, Buick owners profit by the savings of leadership.

The price of a Buick is moderate, but it buys a car built to the very finest quality ideals—one that would cost you considerably more, if it were not for Buick volume.

For years, the savings provided by great volume have been devoted to the enrichment of Buick value.

And for years, Buick owners have had a more dependable motor car—one in which high quality lessens upkeep expense.

Buy a Buick! It is an investment in economy and satisfaction.

GLENMOORS LOSE AT COLUMBIANA

The Glenmoor A. C., was defeated by the Columbiana Franklin Furnitures, 41 to 32, last night at Columbiana.

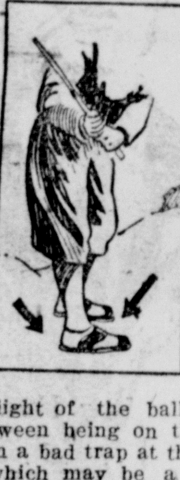
The game was a preliminary to the county amateur league tilt between Columbiana Boosters and Salineville.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON

Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

In executing iron shots the golfer should keep one rule in mind: A bad foot position is worse than a bad lie.



Yet golfers will fuss and fume when the ball is slightly cupped and give but slight thought to the stance position when the lie is good. The feet can certainly play havoc with iron shots for the reason that slight changes from a good foot position can produce effects all out of proportion, seemingly, in the flight of the ball—the difference between being on the green and being in a bad trap at the side of the green, which may be a difference of anywhere from one to three or four strokes. Multiply this two or three times and obviously you've got a very bad round of golf. When the ball starts flying badly, look first to your stance for the source of trouble.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

CLARK GRIFFITH has ready to present to baseball fans the "sweetest" outfield in the business.

The acquisition of Speaker gives the Senators the most versatile and formidable outer garden in the game, all angles of play considered.

Will the strength and versatility added to it by Speaker's arrival, give the entire team the punch necessary to win the pennant? The matter is worthy of discussion.

"Goose" Goslin and Sam Rice form the trio, with Speaker of course.

Last year Goslin hit .354, Rice .337 and Speaker .304.

These figures alone represent an attacking power nearly equal to that of any stellar outfield.

But consider some other angles.

Goslin, home run star of the team, socked out 17 circuit clouts. But he also laid down 18 sacrifices.

Rice, too, turned in 18 sacrifices and in addition stole 25 bases, ranking second only to Johnny Mostil of the White Sox.

Speaker, while having an off year at bat—for him—as far as the actual averages were concerned, stole 28 bases when he did get on and crashed out 52 two-base hits, George Burns alone forging ahead of him.

Goslin and Rice, to go further, led the league in assists registered by outfielders, with 25 each. Speaker ranked second among the outfielders in fielding, with an average of .981.

The Tiger outfield of Manush, Heilmann. Fothergill, led this trio in actual hitting power, but lacked the versatility in attack and the fielding.

Babe Ruth's mighty bludgeon, of course, gave the Yankees tremendous power, but did not boost the fielding.

Speaker Adds to "Brains."

In addition to his actual playing strength Speaker takes to Washington the same knowledge of players that helped make him a capable leader in Cleveland. And relieved of the responsibilities of manager he can give his entire energy to playing his position. Goslin and Rice will be on their toes to match him.

Washington led the league in team batting last year. The added presence of Speaker's bat may well be expected to increase this strength—give the team a greater edge. Harris' team ranked fifth in fielding and the wily Texan's presence should tighten this angle of the defense.

Less drastic changes than the addition of a player of Speaker's caliber have brought pennants to "almost" teams.

$100,000 Player

Fred Shulte, above, star outfielder of the Milwaukee club, American Association, who was purchased by the St. Louis Browns for a reported sum of $100,000. has signed with the Browns. It was reported he would not sign unless he got a slice of the purchase money. Shulte is 22, batted .347. scored 142 runs and drove in 105.

Fight Results

AT DETROIT:—Bobby Booth, of Toronto, won decision over Honey Ross, of Detroit, ten rounds.

Jackie Johnston, of Toronto, won decision over Joe Scully, of Detroit, ten rounds.

CRAWFORD KEEPS TOURNEY LEAD

Brace Crawford turned in another victory in the Academy three cushion tourney and retains his lead, Cleo Farrar falling victim to his marksmanship by a score of 27 to 17.

Two matches are billed tonight: Recht and White and Walker and Webber.

HERBERT DEFEATS WATSON, 75-46

Lester Herbert was returned a winner over Tom Watson by a decisive margin in last night's pocket billiard match at the American. The score was 75 to 46.

Tonight's matches: McDowel vs. Harry Daher; Frank Sainer vs. Charles Price.

EAST END

MASS MEETING SCHEDULED HERE

Mass meeting of residents of the East End to consider the proposed improvement of Pennsylvania avenue between the Garfield school and the Dry Run bridge will be held in the East End fire station, Virginia avenue at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Estimates on the cost of the proposed improvement will be submitted by City Engineer Flay Clapsaddle. Mayor Benedum, Service-Safety Director Moore and other members of the municipal family will attend the meeting.

Singer Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. T. L. Singer, 72 years old, were held this afternoon in the home of her son, D. L. Singer, of First avenue, in charge of Rev. W. C. Zano, of the International Bible Students' association, Warren. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

For Bladder Relief Is Nature's Danger Signal. Columbus Minister's Wife Relates Experience.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell 824 No. Park St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "My wife was troubled seriously with bladder irritation until we used lithiated buchu (Keller Formula.) She would have to get up 6 to 8 times each night. Will gladly answer any letter."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the bladder as epsom salts on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter and decreases excessive acidity, thereby relieving irritation. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

CHURCH CIRCLES MEET TONIGHT

Circle No. 2, of the Ladies' Aid society of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will meet this evening with Mrs. George C. Westlake in her home, Pennsylvania avenue. Social hour will follow the business session.

Members of Circle No. 4, will meet with Mrs. Lee Mankin at her home in Oakland avenue. Regular program will be carried out.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Rev. John Douglass spoke last night at the evangelistic services in the Oakland Free Methodist church. Rev. L. S. Hoover of Tionesta, Pa., will preach at the services Saturday night.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles and for the very good reason that the cause is inside—bad circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathew's Original Cut Rate, who will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied.

The Little White Hag

SYNOPSIS.

Quexter, narrator of the tale, is an American employed by a bank in Paris. He starts for Geneva to visit the headquarters of the League of Nations, stopping at Dijon between trains. He shares his room with another American who says he is a schoolmaster studying abroad. During the night the "schoolmaster" disappears.

Quexter arrives at Geneva finding that the League is discussing the illicit drug traffic. At the municipal casino he sees a stout, flashily dressed Italian whom he had noticed at Dijon and overhears a conversation, with mention of a mysterious "Center." Quexter picks up a bunch of flowers thrown by a dancing girl and finds a handkerchief among the steams. He uses it to bind up a cut finger and later sends it to the laundry.

Next day the stout Italian—Baldassare Marce—calls on him and demands the handkerchief. Quexter will give him no satisfaction and that afternoon he is kidnapped, made prisoned in a house outside the city and questioned by a Japanese, who is the "Center" referred to. He escapes from the house only to fall into a well. He finds an outlet, swims through it and comes to a door which leads into a dungeon in which he finds the man who shared his room in Dijon a prisoner. They escape and appeal to the police for protection. The "schoolmaster" turns out to be a detective interested in unravelling the secrets of the illicit drug traffic for the American government, Clavpole by name.

Claypole asks Quexter to go to the laundry and get the handkerchief. He does so and mails it to Claypole. He is captured by the "Center's" hirelings and taken to a sanitarium in the Swiss mountains where he is threatened with torture unless he tels what he has done with the handkerchief. Chief among his captors is a girl, Patience Smith, whom he has seen before with Marce. He is saved by Marce's entrance with the handkerchief taken from the body of Claypole who committed suicide by throwing himself into the Rhone river. He leaves a note for Quexter saying that he can't face the fate which has overtaken other men engaged in the same work and that he has decided to end it all.

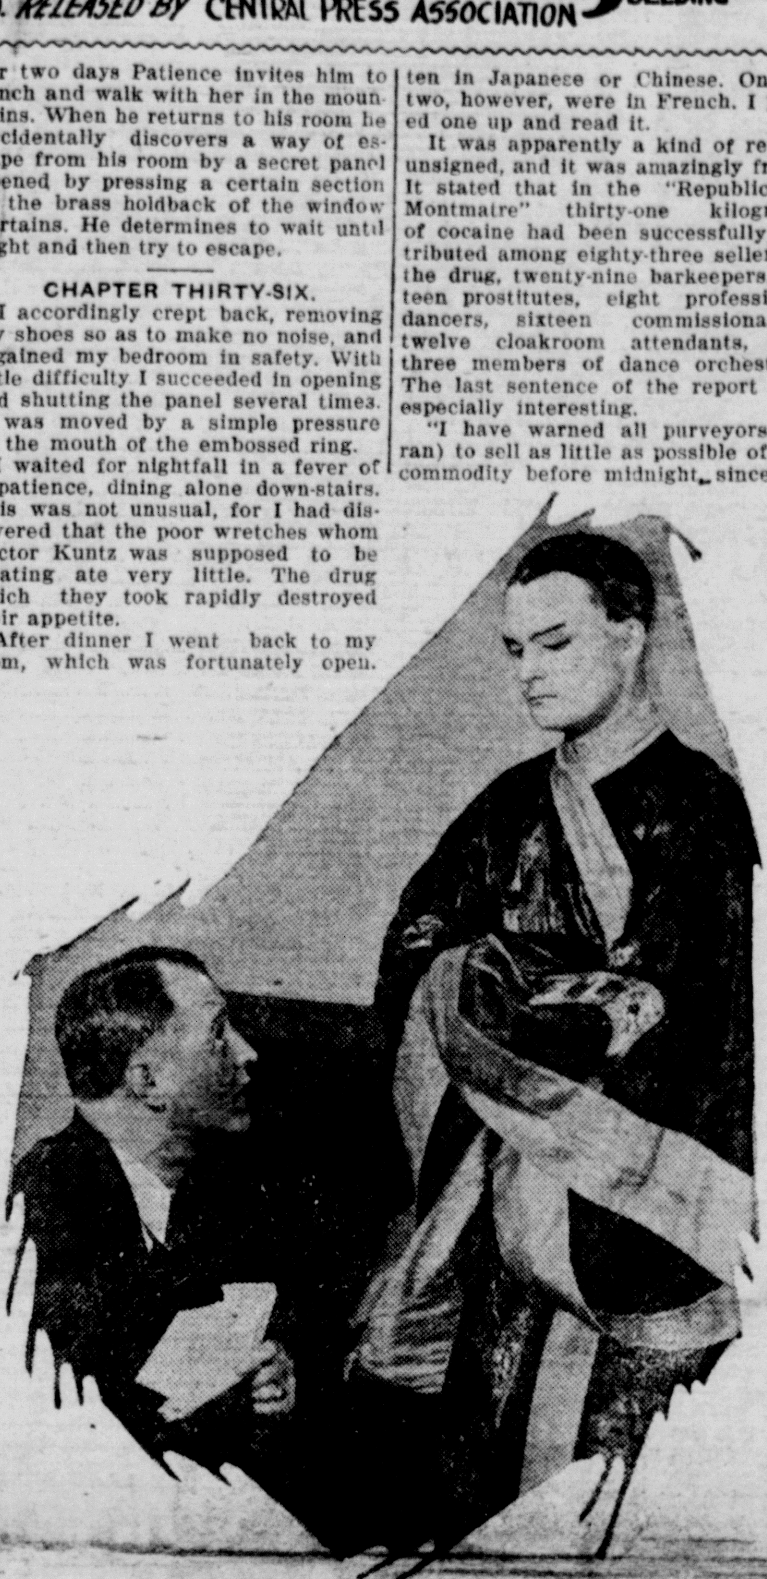
Quexter is held prisoner in the sanitarium which is filled with patients who are being treated for drug indulgence. They drive him nearly mad. After two days Patience invites him to lunch and walk with her in the mountains. When he returns to his room he accidentally discovers a way of escape from his room by a secret panel opened by pressing a certain section of the brass holdback of the window curtains. He determines to wait until night and then try to escape.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX.

I accordingly crept back, removing my shoes so as to make no noise, and regained my bedroom in safety. With little difficulty I succeeded in opening and shutting the panel several times. It was moved by a simple pressure on the mouth of the embossed ring.

I waited for nightfall in a fever of impatience, dining alone down-stairs. This was not unusual, for I had discovered that the poor wretches whom Doctor Kuntz was supposed to be treating ate very little. The drug which they took rapidly destroyed their appetite.

After dinner I went back to my room, which was fortunately open.



"Good evening, Mr. Quexter."

Then, waiting until nearly midnight, by which time I judged that every one would be asleep. I pressed the mouth of the embossed figure and moved through the panel and down the passage till I came to the chimney. There I decided, since it was quite narrow, to wedge my back and feet against the side and endeavor to climb upwards to where I could see one single star gleaming faintly at the top. Putting my hand out, however, I encountered in the darkness an iron ring let into the side of the chimney, and I soon found that there were a number of these rings placed at equal distance all the way up, enabling me to mount fairly easily. Losing no time, I climbed upwards, and, after some ten minutes or so, my head emerged over the top of the chimney. I was now on the roof.

For a moment I lay cautiously beside the chimney, looking and listening to ascertain whether my arrival had been perceived. Then I started to explore, but it did not take me long to discover that my position was perfectly hopeless. I found I was on only a small stretch of roof, flat and surrounded by a stone balustrade. At the four corners of the balustrade strong iron poles had been placed which supported a wire net of a kind similar to that used for the fencing down below. It was impossible to climb the net and I could find no way of getting through. I looked through the netting on one side, and saw that the house was built around a small airshaft, as is the fashion of some Continental houses. The roof on which I was standing formed one of the four. The other three were unnetted, but that did not help me, as I could not get to them. Finally, I was reluctantly compelled to abandon my efforts and to descend the chimney once more.

I climbed down with despair in my heart. When, however, I had got as far as the passage from which I had started to climb, it struck me that I might possibly be able to descend the chimney and get through into the room below. Sure enough, I found that the iron rings continued all the way down, and I accordingly descended cautiously, displacing a good deal of soot on the way, and arriving eventually at the bottom looking like a chimney sweep.

I found myself, as I had imagined, upon a broad stone hearth, almost like an English fireplace. Before me was a small stone room containing an oak desk, a swivel chair, and two filing cabinets each side of the desk. Hanging on the walls was an old piece of tapestry, French sixteenth-century work, repicting Aeneas carrying Anchises from burning Troy.

I approached the desk. It was covered with papers, most of them written in Japanese or Chinese. One or two, however, were in French. I picked one up and read it.

It was apparently a kind of report, unsigned, and it was amazingly frank. It stated that in the "Republic of Montmaire" thirty-one kilograms of cocaine had been successfully distributed among eighty-three sellers of the drug, twenty-nine barkeepers, fifteen prostitutes, eight professional dancers, sixteen commissionaries, twelve cloakroom attendants, and three members of dance orchestras. The last sentence of the report was especially interesting.

"I have warned all purveyors (it ran) to sell as little as possible of the commodity before midnight, since after that hour, as His Excellencey is aware, the price can be considerably increased."

I put down the document. Here was evidence, if more were needed, of the fatal ease with which the drug was being distributed.

I examined the filing cabinets, but they were both locked. The door, however, on the right-hand side of the desk was open, and there I found a number of other papers. They were all reports from various parts of the world.

At the bottom of the drawer was a small bunch of keys. I picked them up and found that they fitted one of the filing cabinets, which I opened. Here, classified by name, nationality and profession, I found lists of hundreds of persons throughout the world engaged in the retail sale of illicit drugs. They were of all kinds and all professions, but were mostly of the barkeeping and demi-mondaine class. One section interested me particularly. It was devoted entirely to the United States and contained an interesting comparison of the sale of drugs before and after the introduction of prohibition. "In the present state of America," the report stated, "there is every reason to hope that the prices so far realized will remain constant at any rate for the next few years."

I must have spent well over an hour in that room, absorbed in what I read, and quite obvious of the risk I was running. I had soon exhausted one filing cabinet, and I turned to the other, but failed to open it. Then I saw something that had previously escaped my attention, a small iron safe let into the wall. I tried it with my bunch of keqs. The third one fitted, and the door swung open.

There were only two things inside the safe. One was an envelope and the other a small crumpled square cambric which I recognized immediately. I was about to pick it up when I felt a touch on my shoulder.

I turned round. There, before me, stood the Center himself. He was in full Japanese costume, black silk, with white shoes on his feet.

"Good evening, Mr. Quexter," he said. "How did you find way to my private office?"

KONDON'S CATARRHAL JELLY

To Check Signs Of Old Age When Past 40

Most men who have reached or passed the prime of life know only too well the tell-tale signs of advancing years—less "pep", less energy, less nerve force and a multitude of aches and pains which proclaim the weakening of internal organs and body power. Fully 65 percent of those past 40 are said to be victims of overworked, sluggish kidneys, torpid liver, bladder complaints and prostate gland troubles.

But, through recent discoveries, the marvelous invigorating restorative power of Radium, Nature's most precious element, is brought to the aid of the weak, ailing and afflicted in simple, tasteless tablet form called ARIUM. This produces a vitalizing, strengthening internal exercise, helping to quickly renew proper, normal, youthful action.

Physicians and other users of ARIUM report amazing results. Dr. C. E. Morris of New York declares: "ARIUM puts back force and vigor into the veins and strengthens the entire system to fight off disease and signs of old age." "Memory more alert, bowels 100% better, pains all gone and I have lots of 'pep'—", writes Mr. H. G. of New Orleans, La. "My vitality, nerves, bowels, stomach and appetite decidedly improved", says Mr. J. B. McK. of Granite City, Ill. "I am taking ARIUM for indigestion, gas, constipation and rheumatic ailments; it is fine", says Mr. J. W. H. of Philadelphia. "I feel like a three-year-old since taking ARIUM", says Mr. A. M. H. of Lancaster, Pa.

If you suffer from lame back, dizziness, pains in the head, sour stomach, bilious attacks, frequent getting up nights, rheumatic twinges and aches, embarrassing nervous debility and weakness or other middle age ailments, you owe it to yourself to start taking ARIUM at once. Countless alarming symptoms often disappear immediately. You should see and feel a truly startling improvement in yourself each day

NOTE: The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM guarantees successful and satisfactory results in every case from its progressive use or money refunded, and also that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from any good druggist such as

Commerce Figures Show First Increase in Three Years.

TONNAGE BOOST

Great Britain and Ireland Hold First Place.

WASHINGTON — Shipbuilding, for the first time since 1924, apparently is on the up-grade, according to the Commerce Department.

For the first time in three years an increase in world shipbuilding was shown by returns from all maritime countries for the quarter ending December 31.

On that date gross tonnage of vessels under construction totaled 1,933,027 tons, an increase of more than 83,000 tons as compared with the end of the preceding quarter.

"No other quarter since that ending June 30, 1924, has shown a gain over the preceding period, but in comparison with the 1924 figure the present total marks a decline of more than 500,000 tons," the statement said.

Several changes occurred in the ranking of the various countries during the quarter under survey. Although the total of Great Britain and Ireland showed a small decline, these countries now hold first place by a margin of over a half million tons.

Italy ranked next, also showing a decline from its figure of September.

Italy's hold on second place is threatened by Germany which scored a sharp advance during the quarter. At the end of September Germany was building about 150,000 tons less than Italy. Germany then stood in fifth place, but by nearly doubling her September figure, is now in third place only 28,000 tons behind Italy.

The United States which ranked sixth in September, moved up to fourth place, while the Netherlands with a former ranking of third dropped fifth.

The returns show a sharp contrast between Great Britain and Ireland and other maritime countries in the matter of new work begun during the last quarter and work being pushed towad completion in the same period. While only 67,853 gross tons of steamers and motorships were launched in Britain and Ireland, construction was started on 151,074 tons.

With the other maritime countries combined, however, new work was considerably less than the total represent- by launchings, vessels for which keels were laid representing 260,422 tons, as against 329,295 tons of shipping launched.

New work represented 411,496 tons with 397,148 tons launched in the world in the last quarter.

The commerce department statement showed that building of tanker vessels, which for sometime has been on the decline, increased fifty per cent from the September to December quarters. Of this gain nearly 50,000 tons represented the increase in Great Britain and Ireland.

Construction of motor ships showed a gain of 75,000 tons, although Great Britain, Ireland, and Italy, which have been the leaders in this class of building, reported decreases.

Cherbourg Tourist Records Shattered During Past Year

CHERBOURG. — Statistical proof that the year 1926 saw more American tourists in France than ever before is furnished by port authorities.

A total of 200,867 passengers embarked on and disembarked from Transatlantic liners at this port last year. They paid landing tax totaling six and a half million francs, one million francs more than in 1925 and almost twice as much as was paid in 1924.

All Transatlantic passengers passing through Cherbourg are carried on American, English and German ships. Figures for Le Havre, terminous of all French vessels and some English ships, are not yet available.

FORGOT HER STOMACH!

How foolish to let your stomach dictate your diet. It is possible you could eat lots of things you now deny yourself—have you ever taken a Stuart tablet! Harmless, but the effect is there—distress from indigestion often ended in two minutes.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

USES COFFIN AS BED, BUT BODY IS CREMATED

Recluse's Will Leaves Acreage to City in Illinois.

71 YEARS OLD

Invented Watch Device That Gave Him Income.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Instead of cremating the body of Fred F. Francis, eccentric recluse who died recently, upon a pile of cordwood in his backyard, as specified in his will, authorities shipped his remains to a crematory in Davenport, Iowa. The recluse's will provided that a coffin constructed by himself be used for transporting the body. Francis, who dwelt in a unique house which he constructed himself three miles northeast of this city, often slept in the coffin and was well satisfied with it.

Francis will provided that, if its provisions were complied with his farm of 50 acres and his personal property would be bequeathed to the city of Kewanee as a perpetual public park, to be named after the donor.

In the event that the will was not carried out, the property was to be sold at auction and the proceeds turned over to charity.

Francis, who was 71 at the time of his death, was highly educated and a graduate of the University of Illinois, class of 1878. For 13 years after his graduation he was employed by a watch company at Elgin and invented a device which gave him a handsome income in royalties for many years. Although he never explained his hermit-like existence it was believed by neighbors that blighted romance in his youth had sent him into solitude.

GILDA GRAY IN NEW FILM

Famous Dancer Coming to Ceramic in "Cabaret."

"Give them their money's worth—and more," is the slogan of Gilda Gray, the dancer, who is coming to the Ceramic in "Cabaret."

"If you've seen me on the stage or in the picture "Aloma of the South Seas.' you know my slogan," she said.

Living up to that slogan brought $1,000,000 in at the box office of picture houses during my personal appearance tour of 1925 and it enabled me to go right back and get over $1,000,000 in the same towns in 1926. And it made "Aloma" probably the most successful first picture made by any motion picture star—though modesty forbids me to quote the figures.

"Now I'm hard at work on "Cabaret," my second Paramount picture. And what I didn't know before, "Aloma" taught me.

"And I know cabarets! I was brought up in them. I won my first big success in them. I konw the jazz and color and glamor and thrills and romance and heartaches — and what goes on behind the scenes—better, probably, and more intimately than anybody else in the world. That's what I'm putting into "Cabaret." And that's why "Cabaret" is going to be a great big, dazzling, gripping real S. R. O. picture. We've finished enough of it for me absolutely to guarantee that.

"Owen Davis, the famous playwright wrote the story. Tom Moore, Chester Conklin, and Mona Palma are in the supporting cast."

To protect the national button industry of France, the manufacturers' union has demanded that the government take steps so that they may recover the time lost in holidays by adding an hour to the regular working day.

Their automobile dashing off the Marine Drive near Belfast, Ireland and falling 200 feet to the sea, two youths were thrown out halfway down the mountain side and escaped with only comparatively minor injudies.

She didn't know what was wrong!

No one had ever told her the reason people avoided her was simply her catarrhal breath. People don't speak of that. They just keep away.

Yet, if she had only known Hall's Catarrh Medicine she might have been saved years of loneliness. For Hall's brings relief—not only from the unpleasant effects of catarrh, but from catarrhal headaches—the throbbing, stuffed-up nasal and throat passages—catarrhal deafness.

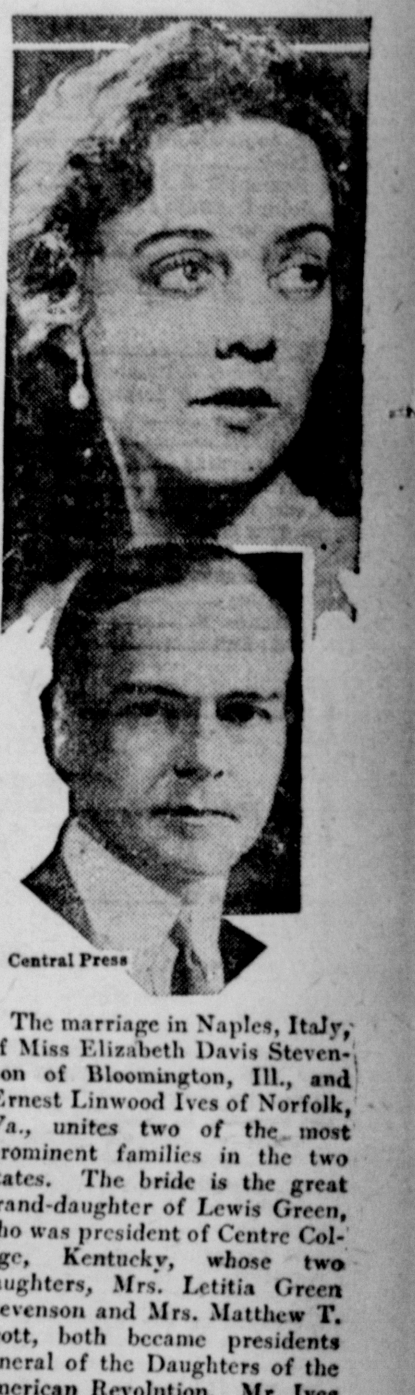
RAINBOW REVUE AT THE STRAND

Barlow Production Here for Week's Engagement.

Hailing from the New England States with a mass of press notices heralding "Barlow's Rainbow Revue" as the hit of all times, Barlow is "Blazing the Trail" of the Sun Circuit with an entire show at the Strand theatre this week.

"The Rainbow Revue" arrived here after a swing around eastern theatres. It is a worth while production. Featured among the names are Al Barlow, Billy Lewis, Joe Demming, Mae Smith, Elinore Farrell, Angus Harris, Russell and Mills, Wilfred Houghton, Roy Koler, Elsie Lewis, Anna Demarins, Ethel Therne, Inez Havey, Esther Rose and others.

Families United



Central Press

The marriage in Naples, Italy, of Miss Elizabeth Davis Stevenson of Bloomington, Ill., and Ernest Linwood Ives of Norfolk, Va., unites two of the most prominent families in the two states. The bride is the great grand-daughter of Lewis Green, who was president of Centre College, Kentucky, whose two daughters, Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson and Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, both became presidents general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mr. Ives is first secretary to the American embassy at Constantinople, Turkey.

Santa Fe

this winter California

5 daily trains including The Chief

You really enter sunny California the moment you step aboard one of the five famous Santa Fe cross-continent trains.

The new Chief—extra fare—is the finest and fastest of the Santa Fe California trains. Only TWO business days on the way.

No extra fare on the four other daily trains.

Fred Harvey dining service sets the standard in the transportation world.

Enjoy the out-of-doors this winter—take your family. California hotel rates are reasonable.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director. The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. Is playing a wind instrument such as a cornet or saxaphone injurious to the throat? N. G.

A. John Phillip Sousa, the famous band master, says that in his opinion it is beneficial instead of harmful, and that for the most part players of such instruments enjoy excellent health.

Q. How much crude rubber is there in automobile tires? J. G.

A The Bureau of Standards says that there are about 5 pounds of crude rubber in a 30x3½ fabric automobile tire.

Q. What is the meaning of the expression "naked as a needle," and who first used it? R. K. S.

A. The simile "naked as a needle" is taken from the writings of William Langland. In its original form the word "needle" is spelled "nedle." Our authority is the collection of similes edited by Paul Wilstach. There are few articles so devoid of adornment as a needle. It seemingly affords an excellent opoprtunity to coin a simile.

Q. Please give the origin, history, and present status of the "Conscience Fund" of our Government? S. W.

A. The Conscience Fund was opened with a contribution of $5 in 1811. The amounts sent in range from 2 cents a person, who failed to put a stamp on a letter when mailed, to several thousand dollars from persons who smuggled goods in the United States without paying import duty. Usually the amounts are small, however. The largest single deposit was $30,000. As of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, $4,551.51 was contributed. The total in the fund as of December 31, 1926 was $561,891.87.

Q. What was the origin of the Greek national flag? L. D. L.

A. The Greek national flag is derived from the arms of Otto of Bavaria, who was called to the throne of Greece in 1833.

Q. What does "Hedjaz" mean? D. B.

A. This word means barrier and refers to the wall of high mountains on the edge of the tableland which is in the kingdom so-called.

Q. Do any countries tax vote-slackers in a manner similar to that suggested by Senator Arthur Capper? F. M.

A. It is said that similar fines are in force in Belgium, Spain, Switzerland, and Czechoslovakia. Australia's compulsory voting law has increased the poll from 52 per cent of the eligible voters to 93 per cent.

Q. What it meant by the "diamond jubilee" of the Confederation, referring to Canada? E. M. F.

A. This has reference to the 60th anniversary of the Dominion of Canada.

Q. Who invented the pendulum? A. G. B.

A. Huygens, a Dutchman born in 1629, was the first practical exponent of the pendulum employing it in the mechanism of the clock. However, he was not the original discoverer of its properties. Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1520) left notes as to his study of the pendulum, and Galileo (1564-1642) continued these studies.

Q. Who was the first mayor of New York City? T. E. M.

A. Thomas Willett in 1665 was the first.

Q. Do Paris shop keepers use wax figures for display purposes? figures for display purposes? G. M. K.

A. Word from Paris indicates that many are replacing wax figures with silhouettes cut from thin pieces of board. On these are draped fabrics and dresses.

JOHNNY HINES AT AMERICAN

"Stepping Along" is His Eleventh Feature Comedy.

"Stepping Along," the latest First National Picture starring Johnny Hines at the American theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday makes the eleventh feature comedy that Charles Hines has directed for his brother, Johnny, and as Director Hines swears by eleven as his lucky number, "Stepping Along" should prove the funniest vehicle to date for Comedian Hines.

Occasionally one hears of a director who guides the celluloid destinies of his star wife—in the studio, only, as a rule—but there never has been another instance of this combination of brother directing brother with the success that has marked this pair of relations in the comedy field.

Johnny and Charlie Hines have been together in the motion picture studio since the old days of the "Torchy Comedies," which were produced by C. C. Burr, still the guiding mentor of the comedian.

When Johnny made his first feature length comedy, Brother Charlie handled the megaphone and took charge of all of the directorial detail for each picture leading to his "lucky eleventh," which is a fast moving tale of New York theatrical and political life, enhanced by some jazzy shots of George White's "Scandals." Mary Brian is opposite the star.

Having no vinegar, William Clark of Edmonton, England, sprinkled gasoline over his fish, spilled some on the floor and after it caught fire he was arrested charged with trying to burn his house.

TO STOP NAUSEA IN THE MORNING

Or Goneness in the Stomach At any Time

Try a little diapepsin. You may be so sick in the morning that the odor of food adds to your misery. And yet one or two diapepsins instantly settle your stomach, the nausea disappears and you actually become hungry.

Diapepsin is composed of powerful digesters. They work on everything you eat, digesting starchy foods, milk, cream, eggs, meat and also absorb acids and gas. Heartburn, biliousness and dizziness disappear almost instantly.

Nausea may come from many causes but diapepsin works quickly in any case. Expectant mothers get real benefit from diapepsin, not alone in freedom from nausea but more nutrition from better digestion.

Get a 60-cent package of Pape's Diapepsin at any drug store. You'll never tolerate nausea again.

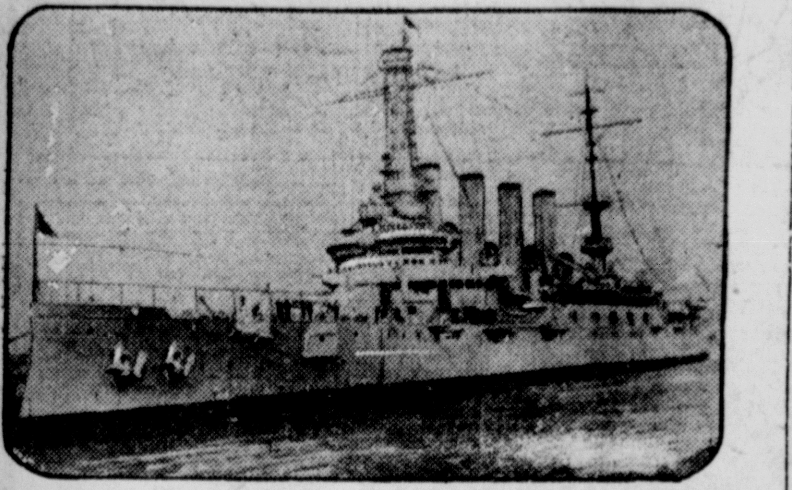
What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

Cruiser Appropriation Stirs Both Congress And President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—It looks as if Prseident Coolidge and congress would go to the mat over the "cruiser amendment" to the naval appropriation bill.

This bill has been kicking up a tremendous disturbance in Washington lately.



Second-Line Cruiser "Seattle;" average cost this type, $5,570,792.

The amount of money involved is small, as government money is counted, but the principle involved is vital. It is:

Is a Republican president boss of a Republican congress, or isn't he?

Some time ago congress authorized three new cruisers, but voted no money to build them. They were just blue prints.

The present naval appropriation bill provides for ten more blue prints. Some of the lawmakers thought an actual start ought to be made on the original three. They didn't ask for enough to build the boats but they did want $450,000 to begin building them.

President Collidge objected.

Against his wishes the $450,000 was put into the appropriation bill in the form of an amendment. The house of representatives beat the amendment, but by a very narrow margin.

The bill went up to the senate, minus the $450,000. The senate wrote $1,200,000 in place of it, in the form of another amendment, and passed it, 49 to 27.

The bill went to conference with indications that the house of representatives would agree to the senate's $1,200,000, in place of its own $450,000.

The president will have a chance to veto the whole thing.

It he does, the navy will be left without a cent to run on. There will have to be an extra session of congress.

It was a slap in the face for the president to have so small a majority in the house of representatives on the $450,000 proposition. He'd have lost if he hadn't had some Democratic help. Speaker Longworth and John Q. Tilson, the Republican floor leader, were against him.

But it was worse in the senate.

Twenty-four Republicans voted for the $1,200,000, against the presidential wishes. Only 18 were on his side.

Still more to the point, the 18 included Senators Frazier, LaFollette and Nye, who ordinarily are anti-presidentia insurgents, but simply happened to be on his side in this instance.

That means 27 Republican senators to whom President Coolidge can't dictate.

In reality there are more than that. There's Senator Norris, who wasn't present and didn't vote on the cruisers, but who's an irreconcilable insurgent. There's also Senator Borah, who's uncertain. There were, likewise, a couple of Republicans who were paired, but who would have been pro-cruiser if they'd voted.

Altogether that makes 31 senators out of a total of 53 nominal Republicans whom we know won't back President Coolidge, except when they feel like it.

He'll be even weaker in the next senate, because there will be more Democrats and more insurgents Republicans.

So prospects are of a hectic two years ahead for the White House.

Thin Like a Skeleton, Can't Eat, Can't Sleep

"Everything I ate would ferment and I had gas so bad that I couldn't work for two years. Was nervous, had bad cramps, couldn't sleep, and looked like a skeleton. Adlerika helped me so that in a month I gained 12 pounds."—F. Santoro.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerki is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloathing, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In East Liverpool at the Economy Drug Store and other Druggists.

Why Washington County Citizens Like Concrete Highways

Washington County commenced a concrete highway program in 1912—nearly 15 years ago. Today, prominent citizens and officials voice their satisfaction in their road system and back their judgment by continuing to pave the highways with concrete.

From President J. H. McCoy, of The Peoples Banking & Trust Co., Marietta:

"Those of us who have been working for the betterment of roads believe, after making a thorough investigation, that the concrete type is the most permanent road and requires the least maintenance."

From H. E. Smith, President, Washington County Automobile Association:

"Concrete roads are being built in Washington County because such roads have met modern traffic requirements in so many places similar to our own community. We feel we have made no mistake in choosing concrete as a paving material on many of our roads."

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

Rich Mineral Strike Made in Section Of Northern Ontario

WINNIPEG.—The Bunker Hill-Sullivan group of mine capitalists of San Francisco have uncovered what is regarded as the biggest bunch of single wealth ever blocked out in Northern Ontario, mining men here learn. The strike is reported to have been made at Chelmsford, Ontario, and the block of zinc-lead ore is estimated to contain 47,000,000 tons of mineral which assays at $22 to the ton.

Diamond drilling in the townships of Balfour, Blezard and Lumsden uncovered the huge mineral block. Tracings of platinum and palladium are reported to be showing right on the surface.

Increase Your Weight 5 Pounds in 30 Days Or Money Back

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and puts good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it.

So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—rich in flesh producing, health building, strength creating vitamines and as easy to take as candy.

Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind if they don't help you in that time any druggist anywhere will return your money—But demand McCoy's 60 tablets 60 cents.
